7 Lettermen Back From Mustangs' Tournament Team

When Coach Bob Cough called first practices for basketball last week, he wasn't exactly faced with bad news.

Answering his call were seven lettermen, all potential starters, from last season's state A-2 tournament team. Seven more good prospects reported for the varsity and survived the first cut.

With Jayvees, 33 boys reported for basketball.

Four of the lettermen are seniors and three are juniors. They are David Clark, Tim Driscoll, Gene Heliker and Bill Snyder, seniors, and Jim Doherty, Mac Hoskins and Jim Jacobs, juniors.

Others on the varsity are Dick Flalz, Mark Brown, Dave Gray, Steve Warren, Dave Cooper, Steve Wagenblast and Dave Hall. All of these have jayvee experience from last season.

Coach Clough announced that several of the boys displayed fine shooting form for so early in the season.

"Good speed should be an asset again this year," he added.

Another of the good things about the team's prospects is that it appears to have a strong bench again this year. This was one of the particular strengths of the "Cinderella team" of the 1964-65 season, which came on strong through the latter part of the season, won its way to the district tournament, swept that event at La Grande and then traveled to Coos Bay for the state tournament.

While the squad didn't win either of its two starts in the tournament, it pressed its opponents to the hilt with strong late-game comebacks and helped to carve some new tourney records in scoring.

Fans can delight in the thought that Coach Clough is able to start a team composed of tournament veterans and have two left over for his bench. As a matter of fact, it may take some doing to determine just which five will get starting roles, particularly with some of the nonlettermen coming on strong.

Five of the varsity, Clark, Doherty, Driscoll, Heliker and Jacobs, attended Conifer basketball camp in Washington during the summer and all of them rated highly in the camp. This also kept them in shape for the forthcoming season.

Coach Clough looks for Madras and Wahtonka to be particularly strong in the Greater Oregon league this year with Burns, as usual, presenting some real problem for the opposition.

It is reported that Madras, down from A-1 ranks for the first time in basketball, has a 6-8 center, and the Mustangs are going to have to be at their finest to top the White Buffaloes.

Junior varsity aspirants, under the direction of Coach Jim Potter, totaled 19 early this week, and more may be on the way. Included are Steve Anderson, Steve Baker, Roger Britt, Bob Dobbs, Alfred Drake, Earl Ayres, Bob Harris, Matt Hughes, Rick Johnston, Russ Kilkenny, Bill McCleod, Steve Pettyjohn, John Rawlins, Randy Stullman, Bill Stockard, Jim Sherman, Mike Sweeney, Dennis O'Donnell and Jeff Turner.

Heppner will open at Enterprise in a non-conference doubleheader on December 4 and will meet DeSales at Walla Walla on December 10. First home game will be a non-league go against Pilot Rock on December 11, followed by DeSales here on December 18.

The Mustangs have three league games far from home before they play a counting contest on the Heppner High floor. They go to Madras, Burns and John Day early in January before meeting Sherman county here January 28.

Complete schedule will be printed next week. Peterson's Jewelry has printed schedule cards carrying both Heppner and lone High games and these may be obtained at the store.

Elks Foundation Increases Awards For Top Students

The Elks National Foundation has increased the number and amount of its Most Valuable Student scholarships offered for 1966. William Warden, president, Oregon State Elks association, announces.

The Foundation, philanthropic arm of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, increased from $110,000 to $130,000 the total of scholarship funds made available and the number of scholarships was increased from 142 to 150. The minimum scholarship amount also was upped from $700 to $800.

The schedule of awards, identical for boys and girls competing separately, follows: First place—($1,500) $3,000; Second place—($1,400) $2,800; Third place—($1,300) $2,600; Fourth place—($1,200) $2,400; Fifth place—($1,100) $2,400; Ten awards of ($1,000) $10,000; Thirty awards ($900) $27,000; and One hundred awards of $800, $80,000.

The Most Valuable Student competition is open to high school seniors and college students below the senior grade, and is intended to enable exceptionally talented but financially needy students to continue their education.

Responding to the space-age demand for more and better educated citizens, the Elks National Foundation has more than tripled its annual support of education in the past 10 years. Its outlays for scholarships and other aids jumped from $138,000 in 1957 to more than $475,000 currently.

In addition to the Most Valuable Student awards, this year the foundation will make available $150,000 for distribution through State Elks associations of 250 scholarships, with less exacting scholastic requirements, of $600 each, $65,000 in grants to doctors, nurses, technicians and therapists for specialized study in cerebral palsy rehabilitation; $80,000 for scholarship grants to children of deceased or incapacitated Elks and $50,000 for grants to aid educational programs of State Elks association.

Undeclared Team Feted at Banquet Tuesday Evening

Numbering 67 in all, fathers and their football playing sons were honored at a banquet Tuesday night in the Heppner grade school cafeteria to recognize the Heppner Pioneers after their undefeated season in football.

Mothers of the players cooked the food, and the Heppner Booster Club sponsored the affair. Five yell leaders of the school did the job of serving.

Tim Driscoll of the Heppner Mustangs was the principal speaker of the evening and stressed the importance of school athletes to keep in good scholastic standing. He also emphasized the necessity of maintaining a good attitude in school, of showing good sportsmanship and teamwork, and of taking heed of what coaches tell them.

Coaches Tom Hughes and Clint Agee also spoke briefly. La Verne Van Marter, Jr., was master of ceremonies.

A program feature was the showing of a motion picture of a Linfield-Lewis and Clark college game by Coach Hughes.

Decorations were in the football theme.

"It was a wonderful job," said Principal Jack Grossnickle who had words of praise for the cooks, the girls who served, for Driscoll's fine talk, for the decorations, and for the sponsoring Boosters.

The Pioneers' undefeated record is believed to be the first perfect season in the school's history.

Clothing Club Girls Enter Wool Contest

The Country Cutters 4-H Clothing and Knitting club met November 11 at the John Campbell home in Condon to discuss the Make It With Wool Contest and our knitting projects for the coming year. The business meeting was conducted by Debbie Warren, president.

The girls who exhibited in the wool contest in Pendleton November 13 were Sandra Carlson, Mary K. Campbell, Linda Pettyjohn and Molly Becket. Mrs. Becket, our leader, showed us various yarn samples and knitted articles made from these different yarns.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Campbell and Mary K. Molly Becket, reporter
