This Month Featuring TUM-A-LUM LUMBER CO.

THIS IS the 47th anniversary of the Heppner yard of Tum-A-Lum Lumber Company, which although remodeled and modernized through the years, has done business continuously in this same location, serving the area with all kinds of building materials, lumber, paint, building hardware, tools, roofing, ceiling tile, panelling, plywood, coal, Presto-logs and many other needs for the home, farm, or business.

TIM MOORE, standing beside some of the displays in the Tum-A-Lum salesroom, has been manager of the Heppner yard for the past seven years, coming here after managing a Tum-A-Lum yard in Portland. Both he and his wife, Laura, are originally from Pendleton. Mrs. Moore is a secretary for Mahoney and Abrams, attorneys. Their children are Ginny, student and cheerleader at Eastern Oregon College; Marguerite, junior in Heppner High; Theresa, a seventh grader; and Bobby, in the fourth grade. Moore stresses prompt, friendly and courteous service to the many Tum-A-Lum customers.

MANAGER TIM MOORE and Ken Evans inspect a sheet of pre-finished birch paneling carried by the Tum-A-Lum yard. This is just one of many fine types of building materials available for attractive and modern building and remodeling jobs.

KEN EVANS, Heppner High graduate in 1965, has been employed by Tum-A-Lum since October when Fred Harnden was called to service. Ken stands beside paint mixers which make it possible for the firm to supply interior and exterior paints in 1500 colors and enables accurate matching of colors. The firm handles top quality Boyesen Paints and Olympic Stains.

BILL FRENCH is still active at the Tum-A-Lum yard in Heppner after being with the company here for more than 40 years, witnessing many changes in the area during that time. Bill came to Oregon from Canada after going there from his native England. He was employed in running a planer for Tum-A-Lum before the planing mill was discontinued here years ago. Bill is shown at the tool center at Tum-A-Lum.
