Classad Sells Boat On First Insertion
If you were thinking of buying the boat advertised in a classified display in the Gazette-Times by Heppner Auto Sales last week, you will be disappointed. The boat was sold soon after the ad was inserted. Earl Ayres of the company told the Gazette-Times. Ayres called the Gazette-Times to say that a man responded to the ad shortly after it was in print, came to the garage and they made a deal.

Ad Finds Lost Boot To Owner's Delight
"Your advertisements are very worthwhile," said Mrs. Bob (Sue) Jones over the telephone Tuesday morning.
A little classified ad under "lost and found" had just resulted in the return of one of her children's new boots, lost for several days.
Apparently a playful pup had carried the boot from the Joneses' back porch. Neighbor children found it in a rabbit hutch, and brought it to their mother. The mother in turn had seen the ad in the paper and returned it to Mrs. Jones, who was delighted.
"If I ever lose something again, I'll let you know," Mrs. Jones told the paper over the telephone.
