

Nuptial Mass Joins Carol Page and Ronald Leonnig

One of the attractive weddings of the recent holiday season was held on Tuesday, December 28, at 1:00 p.m. at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Heppner, when a nuptial mass celebrated the marriage of Miss Carol Joan Page to Ronald Ernest Leonnig. Father Raymond H. Beard was celebrant for the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Page of Lebanon are parents of the bride, and the new groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Leonnig of Heppner.

The bridal aisle was marked with white pine bows centered with sprigs of holly. Adding to the holiday atmosphere were baskets holding holly, cedar and white chrysanthemums, with poinsettias and white tapers on the altar.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white tulle over taffeta, fashioned with full overskirt of the same material, a bow at the waist, and three-quarter length sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion fell from a coronet of crystals and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible centered with white orchids and stephanotis, with cascade of white satin ribbons.

Miss Cheryl Ann Copeland of Lebanon, cousin of the bride, attended as maid of honor, and Miss Kay Johannsen, also of Lebanon, served as bridesmaid.

Both attendants wore fitted street length dresses of red velvet, styled with bell sleeves. Their short veils of white illusion were held in place by headpieces of bows of matching red velvet. Both wore short white gloves and pearl necklaces, and carried bouquets of white cymbidium orchids.

Attired like the other attendants, Lucinda Leonnig, sister of the groom, served as flower girl. Ring bearer was Jon Wissler of Portland, cousin of the bride, and altar boys were Jeff and Barney Marshall of Heppner.

Roger Leonnig, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Francis Rea of Heppner and Larry Page of Lebanon.

Traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Rose Marie Stroeber, organist, who also accompanied soloist William M. Kenny when he sang "Ave Maria," and "Mother, at Your Feet is Kneeling."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Page chose to wear a two-piece ensemble of ice blue wool with matching hat of tulle and satin, and brown accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Leonnig, mother of the groom, was attired in a two-piece wool knit suit of gold and green, with gold hat and brown accessories. At her shoulder was a white rosebud corsage.

The newlyweds greeted their friends and relatives at a wedding reception following the ceremony in St. Patrick's parish hall. Centering the refreshment table was a three-tiered white wedding cake, topped with small wedding bells. Around the base of the cake were red ribbon poinsettias and sprigs of holly. An attractive setting behind the bride's table included tall baskets holding holly, cedar and white chrysanthemums, flanked by white tapers in candelabra.

Cutting and serving the wedding cake were Mrs. Rodney Wissler of Portland, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. William Moynihan of Lebanon. Serving the groom's cake was Miss Melinda Leonnig, sister of the groom, Heppner.

Pouring were Mrs. Kay Corbin of La Grande and Mrs. Francis Rea of Heppner, both sisters of the groom.

Attending the gift table was Mrs. David Copeland of Lebanon, and passing the guest book was Miss Jill Wissler of Portland, cousin of the bride.

For her going-away ensemble, the new Mrs. Leonnig wore a red velvet suit with cut-away jacket, white blouse, small hat of black veiling, and black accessories. Her corsage was made of the white orchids from her wedding bouquet.

Their wedding trip took them to various points of interest around Oregon.

The newlyweds are now at home at 1541 Highland Way, Apt. 8, in Corvallis, where Mrs. Leonnig is continuing her schooling as a sophomore at Oregon State University. She was a graduate of the Lebanon High school.

Mr. Leonnig was graduated from Tillamook Catholic High school and from Moler Barber

College in Portland. He is presently employed as a barber in the Memorial Student Union building on the Oregon State University campus.

Mark Brown Reviews U. N. Tour Highlights In Soroptimist Talk

Enthusiasm for the many benefits gained by youth who are chosen to make the United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth tour was demonstrated by Mark Brown in an illustrated talk to members and guests of the Soroptimist Club at its luncheon meeting last Thursday.

Mark was one of 18 Oregon youth delegates who were privileged to take the tour last July. Also from this district of Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges, who sponsor the annual tour, was David Whitney of Athena.

With chaperones, the young people traveled by chartered bus to the east coast, concentrating their sightseeing on places of historical interest, especially in Chicago, Washington, D. C., New York City, Virginia and in the Canadian cities of Quebec and Ottawa. Adding to the interest of his report was the showing of colored slides of places visited by the group.

Mark had the privilege of renewing friendships with those who had taken the tour when they met for a reunion in Portland during the Christmas holidays at the home of one of the tour directors.

The speaker was introduced to the luncheon group by Mrs. Bill Johnson, program chairman.

Guests for the meeting were three senior girls, Diane Schafritz, Janis Baker and Joan Stockard.

Mrs. Conley Lanham, youth chairman, reported that senior students are showing interest in the annual citizenship essay contest sponsored by the club, and judging of essays will be held within the next few weeks.

Club members voted a $25 contribution to the Pioneer Memorial hospital water softener fund, sponsored by Beta Omega sorority of Ione.

Elks Schedule Crab Feed, Dance Saturday

On the January calendar of events for the Elks Lodge No. 358, a crab feed and dance is scheduled for Saturday, January 22, with the crab feed to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Dancing will begin at 9:30 p.m. to the music of the Three Blind Mice.

Several are planning to attend this district's mid-winter convention at Baker next Thursday through Saturday, January 27-29, and there will be no regular lodge meeting here Thursday evening.

Rainbow Girls' Officers Take Oaths at Installation

Choosing as a timely theme, "Love, the Key to Peace," Miss Jan Hager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hager, was installed new worthy advisor of Ruth Assembly No. 35, Order of Rainbow for Girls, at public installation ceremonies Sunday afternoon, January 16, in the Heppner Masonic hall.

Her chosen colors were red and white; red symbolizing love, and white to symbolize purity. She graciously accepted her crown and honors of the day in the presence of her family and many friends.

The new worthy advisor's installing officers were Janis Baker, installing worthy advisor; Shirley Erwin, installing marshal; Theresa Munkers, installing recorder; Peggy Snyder, installing chaplain, and Susan Lindstrom of the Ione Assembly, installing musician.

Complete slate of new officers for the winter term is as follows: Jan Hager, worthy advisor; Kathy Melby, worthy associate advisor; Martha Peck, charity; Linda Clark, hope; Linda Heath, faith; Sara Miller, recorder; Rogenia Wilson, treasurer; Theresa Harshman, chaplain; Linda Orwick, drill leader; Becky Fulleton, love; Brette Kay Howell, religion; Pam Hughes, nature; Patti Howell, immortality; Karla Weatherford, fidelity; Mary Kay Hughes, patriotism; Susan Melby, service; Jill Padberg, confidential observer; Shirley Erwin, musician, and Kathy Mathews, choir director.

MISS JAN HAGER

Crowning ceremonies followed

Oriental Art Subject Of Interesting Talks

IONE—Oriental gardens were described by Mrs. C. C. Jones in her talk to the Ione Garden Club on Tuesday, January 11, the installation with Jan's father escorting her to the altar. Facing the crown was her brother, Bob Hager, with Jay Devin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Devin, attending as crown bearer. She introduced her honor guests of the day, which included her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hager; her brother, Bob; her grandmother, Mrs. J. O. Hager, and two great aunts, Mrs. A. D. McMurdo and Mrs. Hugh Brian.

Other special guests were Mrs. Harold Becket, grand deputy international Order of Rainbow; Mrs. Howard Bryant, worthy matron of Ruth Chapter No. 35, OES; Cheryl Smouse, worthy advisor of Ione Assembly, and Susan Jepsen and Linda Rowell, members of Ione Assembly.

A tribute in song to the new worthy advisor was sung by Sara Miller, "My Favorite Things."

Refreshments during the social hour included punch and a large cake decorated in red and white, with a heart and key in the center enclosing the words of her theme, "Love, the Key to Peace."

at the home of Mrs. O. L. Lundell with Mrs. Phil Emert assisting. She illustrated her lecture with drawings and explained the triangular form of arrangements; the three points of interest being heaven, earth and man. The Chinese were the first to build artificial ponds and mountains, making them very real in appearance. They eventually introduced this art into Japan.

Mrs. Lonnie Henderson showed colored slides of Saigon and Hong Kong taken from the air by her son. There were scenes of the hillside shanty towns and their beautiful bordering parks. A street in Saigon leading to the Capitol building was lined on either side with pots of lovely flowers, celebrating the Vietnamese New Year, which varies from year to year. Last year it occurred in February, but this year will be celebrated in January.

Members and guests answered roll call by naming a material used in oriental arrangements. Guests for the afternoon meeting were Mrs. Gene Winters, and Mrs. Gail McCarty of Heppner; Mrs. Bill Johnson of Lexington, and Mrs. G. C. Weaver of Ione.

A meeting of District No. 15 was announced for April 14.
