

Boy Scouts Take Part In Council Meeting

By Lovelle Partlow

IRRIGON—Boy Scout Troop No. 667, and their Scoutmaster Kenneth Lamb and Scout Committee Chairman Perry Pummel were present at the March City Council meeting, with some of the scouts participating in conducting the meeting. The Scouts had previously elected the following of their group to represent the council: Leon Wilson, mayor; Dennis Lamb, recorder; Charles McKenzie, Clarence Proctor, Art Olin, Jim McGinnis and Wayne Buchanan, councilmen.

In regular business, Jim Keith was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy created when Councilman Harry Snyder moved from the city. Mayor Chester Wilson read the street progress report, and the Council voted to adopt the following resolution: "Inasmuch as the City of Irrigon is without regular employees, and certain work must be performed, be it therefore resolved that officers of the City be permitted to perform services not to exceed $500.00 per city officer in any fiscal year, as provided by law."

James Keith and Mrs. V. L. Elgin gave a Planning Commission report and presented preliminary drawings which had been formulated for a proposed community building. One of the features of the building is that it is designed for air-raid shelter purposes as well as community usage. No cost estimates have yet been arrived at. The Council appointed Attorney Donald Morrison, Hermiston, as the city attorney, replacing Attorney William Belt who recently moved to Salem. Mrs. Marguerite Houghton, city recorder, was appointed as budget officer and Mrs. Chester Wilson and Fred Walker are newly appointed budget members. Other members of the budget committee are Mrs. Earl Isom, V. L. Elgin, Paul Holm and Dan Hill. The Budget Committee's first meeting will be Friday evening, March 25.

"Busy Knitters" 4-H club met at the old Irrigon school last Thursday afternoon with their leader, Mrs. Mary Adams. President Danette Leighton called the meeting to order, and pledges to the 4-H and American flags were spoken by the girls. They worked on their bed socks and hats. They discussed making their TV slippers, which will be knitted with two strands of thread, and Mrs. Adams suggested the girls use two different colors, to make the project easier. The girls are asked to bring yarn for their TV slippers to the next meeting, which will be March 24, as the regular meeting is during spring vacation.

The North Morrow 4-H Council met at Boardman at the home of Mrs. Arnold Hoffman, and President Virginia Phillips called the meeting to order. The Boardman City Council had made an offer to provide a lot and assume responsibility for utilities for a 4-H building. Andrew Skiles moved that the Council accept the offer of the Boardman City Council and replace the Lynn Gillespie Memorial 4-H Building. A committee was appointed to work with the council.

Mrs. Madora Hussey of Riddle, Oregon spent the week-end with Mrs. Alice Smith. The two ladies formerly taught school together at Riddle.

The Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Vaughan, pastors of the Irrigon Baptist church, attended a pastor's meeting in Helix Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gasser and Joan and Gasser's brother, Boyd Gasser, drove to The Dalles Tuesday and visited the men's mother, Mrs. Fred Gasser.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Edwards and family, Pendleton, were Sunday afternoon dinner guests of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Calliff and family. After dinner, the two families visited at the home of their folks, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Zehner and family, Irrigon.

Mrs. Pearl Force was hospitalized at the Good Shepherd hospital after breaking her ankle and dislocating her shoulder in a fall.

The Irrigon Assembly of God church concluded a 5-week Teachers Training course entitled "So Send I You" Wednesday evening. The Rev. John H. Kenney, pastor of the church, conducted the classes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parker returned to Irrigon last Tuesday evening after a month vacation. At Al Hembra, Calif., they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parker, Jr. and family, and at Salinas, Calif., they visited his sister-in-law, Mrs. Dude Parker and her son Jack. From Salinas they went to Alameda to visit Parker's nephew, Harold Stone, and on to Nappa to visit his cousin, Mrs. Allie Hoyt, whom he had not seen since 1910. After visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkinson at Paradise, Calif., the Parkers went to Salem, Oregon to spend a few days with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Parker and family. From Salem they went to Seattle, Wash., to visit their son-in-law and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Meeker and family, and Janice Parker. From Seattle they drove to Kennewick and visited another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parker and family, and returned to Irrigon from there.

Perry Pummel and his sister, Mrs. Obern Standerfer of Hermiston, drove to Weiser, Idaho, over the week-end to visit their father, Benjamin Pummel.

Menus at A. C. Houghton school for the week of March 21-25 are as follows: Monday—chicken and noodles, hot rolls, buttered carrots, cherry crunch; Tuesday—soup, lunch meat and peanut butter sandwiches, cherries and cake; Wednesday—hot dog toasties, potato chips, pickles, cauliflower, fruit salad; Thursday—meat loaf, mashed potatoes, beets, grapefruit and angel freeze; Friday—macaroni and cheese, green beans, deviled eggs and apricots. All meals are served with bread and butter and milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hill proudly announce the arrival of their 12th grandchild, David John Koch, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Koch, Portland. The baby was born March 3 and weighed 7 lb. 12 oz. He joins two sisters, Denise and Shawn. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Koch, Hermiston and maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Sedalia Dexter, Irrigon. The Hills now have six granddaughters and six grandsons. Mrs. Hill is in Portland caring for her daughter and new grandson.

Frank Smawley was injured Tuesday afternoon, March 8, when his car collided with an Allied van on Highway 730 across from Clark's One-Stop Grocery Store. Both Smawley and the driver of the van were taken to the Umatilla hospital by the Umatilla ambulance.

Mrs. Alice McCabe and Allen, Mrs. Ed Gonty and Doug, and Mrs. Dick Flaiz and Sandra spent the first of the week in the Portland area, and traveled on to the coast for a day before returning home Wednesday. Mrs. Gonty visited a short time with her mother, Mrs. C. F. Henrich, in Beaverton.

Search Underway To Find Oregon Dairy Princess

"Wanted," a girl with a dairy background, willing to travel more than 15,000 miles next year, meet celebrities, appear on television, hold newspaper and radio interviews, act as hostess at civic functions, and, in general, wear the Princess crown of Oregon's dairy industry.

Sound exciting? It is. And these are just some of the benefits that the 1966-67 Oregon Dairy Princess will receive after she's selected this summer at the Eighth Annual Oregon Dairy Princess Contest, in Portland, at the Sheraton Motor Hotel.

Oregon's present Dairy Princess, blue-eyed Joyce Williams, of Amity, is packed and prepared to travel over the entire state in search of qualified candidates for the title she will vacate this June after competing in the American Dairy Princess Contest in Chicago.

Princess Joyce will conduct her search for Oregon Dairy Princess candidates with the help of her sponsoring organization, the Oregon Dairy Products Commission, the Oregon Dairy Wives, and local contest committees located throughout the state.

Princess Joyce, in her first year at Oregon State University, steps down from the position of Oregon Dairy Princess this June when her successor will be named at the colorful Eighth Annual Dairy Princess Contest, June 27-28 in Portland. The new Princess, like Miss Williams, may be between the ages of 17 and 25, a resident on a dairy farm for at least five years during her lifetime, single and a high school graduate prior to the state contest this June.

Other benefits the 1966-67 Dairy Princess will receive include: a complete "Princess" charm course, a scholarship, a $350 wardrobe, and she becomes a part-time public relations employee with the Oregon Dairy Products Commission. The new Princess already has an invitation to take part in a cheese festival this fall in California.

State chairman for this year's contest is Mrs. Alex Cruickshank, McMinnville, member of WANTED! posters, like the one handled by Oregon Dairy Princess Joyce Williams, will appear throughout the state next week as part of a "search" for new Dairy Princess candidates seeking the 1966-67 title and crown. Princess Joyce will vacate her position this summer and a new Princess will be selected at the Eighth Annual Dairy Princess Contest at Portland's Sheraton Motor Hotel, June 27-28.

the Oregon Dairy Wives. Mrs. Cruickshank, in reporting the details of the '66 contest, said that the candidates will be judged on their dairy background, charm, personality, speaking ability, leadership qualities and attractiveness.

The Dairy Wives in cooperation with the Oregon Dairy Products Commission, will conduct more than 20 regional Princess contests throughout the state from April to June. Girls interested in the contest are urged to write to the Oregon Dairy Products Commission at 0123 S. W. Hamilton St., Portland, Ore., for a Princess handbook and contest entry blank.
