

Program Features Russia Pictures

By MRS. ELMER GRIFFITH

IONE—At the regular meeting of the Ione PTA last Wednesday evening, a taped lecture by Stewart Bledsoe was presented along with pictures which he had taken during a tour of Russia. These pictures were especially interesting to this farming community as they show the appalling effects of communism on agriculture.

Election of officers was held: Mrs. Ernest Christopherson, president; Mrs. James Pettyjohn, vice-president, and Mrs. Bryce Keene, secretary. The fifth and sixth grade mothers had charge of the refreshments.

Mrs. Clara Kincaid, who spent several months at the hospital in Heppner during the winter, has returned to her ranch home south of Ione. Mrs. Jeffcoat of Heppner is staying with her.

Mrs. Charles O'Connor, worthy matron of Locust Chapter, O.E.S., and Mrs. Roy W. Lindstrom, chairman of the credentials committee, attended a reception at the Helix O.E.S. Chapter Friday evening.

The Garden club met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. H. Wolff at Heppner. Mrs. Herman Winter was co-hostess. Mrs. Frederick Martin, District Director of the Blue Mountain District, reported on her activities in behalf of the district. The program was based on the theme, "Birds" and Mrs. Wm. Rawlins gave the program. Members were urged to attend the district meeting at Umatilla on April 14. A plant sale is planned for April 28 at the Builders' Supply Building in Ione. Pie and coffee will also be served. Guests were Mrs. James Driscoll and Mrs. Gene Winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Phill Emert are enjoying a visit from their daughter Delores, who is employed at a day nursery in Salem. She also does volunteer work at the blind school where her brother, Phil Jr., is employed and brought three of the pupils from there home with her for a visit. They are Patty Charpentier of Portland, Mary Alexie of Alaska, and Danny Kaikkala of Astoria.

Carl Troedson has been quite ill at his farm home, suffering an attack of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson and family made a trip this week to Salem and Oak Grove to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jepsen enjoyed a week-end visit from Mrs. Jepsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lieualien, of Pendleton.

Club Studies Foreign Policies

Topic Club met Friday at the home of Mrs. M. E. Cotter, with Mrs. Norman Nelson and Mrs. Roy W. Lindstrom as co-hostesses. Mrs. Ronald Bishop, lone librarian, reported on the workshop for librarians which she attended on the campus of Eastern Oregon College. She stated that those attending received 12 hours of instruction from Miss Elizabeth Fridly of the Oregon State Library staff. Mrs. Norman Nelson gave a very interesting program, "Making our foreign policy in a nuclear age." This was based on the "Great Decisions" and those present were asked to mark opinion ballots. The next meeting of the club will be the first Friday in April at the Paul Tewes home.

The Topic Club will have a social meeting in the afternoon of April 16.

Mrs. Milton Morgan returned home Saturday evening from a few days stay at The Dalles hospital. Her daughter, Mrs.

Keith Peck, of Portland, accompanied her home and will remain for a short time.

Congregation of the United Church of Christ enjoyed an illustrated lecture on India at the church Sunday evening. It was given by Miss Ruth Bailey, director of Christian Education for the Oregon Conference. The lecture was preceded by a potluck supper.
