

Chest X-ray Unit Coming Next Week

"Come as you are" for a chest X-ray next Tuesday and Wednesday, April 26, 27, is the slogan of the Morrow County TB and Health Association, which is arranging for the mobile unit's annual visit in lone and Heppner.

On Tuesday, April 26, the large white X-ray unit will be parked by the Chevron Station in lone. It will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 2 p.m., and again between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. Beta Omega sorority members are in charge of the arrangements for the day.

The unit will be in front of Murrays drug store, Heppner, on Wednesday, April 27. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. Mrs. Herman Green will serve as chairman of the group of women who will help with its procedures.

Golden Age club members will make telephone calls early in the week to remind everyone of the opportunity to have a free chest X-ray. Mrs. Carl McDaniel is the telephone chairman.

Announcement matters were folded and addressed by Heppner High school students.

A chest X-ray is one of the two most effective methods of finding early pulmonary tuberculosis and in addition will often show other chest disorders such as tumors, cancer, and certain heart conditions.

Those eligible for chest X-rays are persons 21 years of age or over, or are married, are under 21 years of age and have a positive tuberculin skin test. Unmarried persons under 21 years of age must have a consent slip signed by a parent or guardian. These slips may be obtained at the mobile X-ray units.

Employees of School District R-1 may use X-rays taken at this time to satisfy the requirement for employment by the district for the 1966-67 school year.

Mrs. Jack Loyd is contacting employers in Heppner and Lexington to request that, wherever necessary, employees be given a few minutes during work to go to the unit.

Last year was the mobile unit's first visit to southern Morrow county in many years. With the termination of the chest X-ray program deferred through Pioneer Memorial hospital, the mobile unit has again been scheduled to include this area on its tours. Many missed the unit last summer, as it came during the harvest season.

Freezes Damage Some Crops Here; Degree Uncertain

By GENE WINTERS
Morrow County Extension Agent

Freezing weather this week has caused concern to the backyard gardener and the commercial producer of fruit, vegetables, grain and forage plants. Weather conditions preceding the freezing weather have encouraged rapid succulent growth. Most plants are extremely sensitive to temperature in stages of rapid growth and reproduction.

The amount of damage suffered in Morrow County from sub-freezing temperatures is difficult to determine with the possible exception of those plants in flower.

The severity of the loss is dependent on the lowest temperature reached, the period of warming. Several growers reported varied 15 degrees from farm to farm. Most of the nearly 160,000 acres of cereal crops had not yet reached the sensitive stages of growth. All cereals are damaged by freezing during heading, pollination and early grain development.

Flowering in the cereal plant usually takes place shortly after the head is exerted from the "boot" although very early-planted grain may flower and be pollinated in the boot. Flowering usually takes place over three to seven day periods on an individual head while flowering within a field may extend over a two to three week period.

Several hundred acres of barley in the county were in this sensitive stage last Monday morning. Damage could result in "blank" heads or partially filled heads. Partial seed set is possible for head development in wheat and barley as well as flowering proceeds from about the center toward both the base and tip.

Light rain, which came Wednesday, and holding the promise of more, was much more welcome throughout the county. Ranchers were hoping that more would come to add needed moisture to grain crops.

New Hermiston Plant Climaxes Combined Effort

Dedication of the Marlette Coach Company mobile home manufacturing facility at Hermiston Friday by Governor Mark O. Hatfield will mark the climax to an all-out cooperative effort of industry and community to unite in bringing a new payroll and manufacturing plant to the Pacific Northwest. Just a year ago Marlette was considering Hermiston as a site for a plant to handle its Pacific Northwest market.

Early in the summer Hermiston was selected as the site for the plant, and Marlette started production of mobile homes in December. The new industry created 175 new jobs, and has been the cause of a general upswing in business activity in the area.

Speaking of the move to bring Marlette to Hermiston was the Hermiston Industrial Corporation, a group of local business people, who arranged financing for a long term loan of approximately $500,000 to Marlette, and had a site available in the Hermiston Industrial Park for the plant.

Earl W. Sweet, Marlette president, has announced the plant will be in production Saturday, April 23, for an open house to give the public an opportunity to see the production of mobile homes Marlette has other manufacturing units in Kansas, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Georgia.

School Election Slated for May 2

Annual school election for Morrow County District R-1 will be Monday, May 2, from 2 to 6 p.m. at six polling places in the county, Mrs. Alice Vance, clerk of the district, announces.

Polling places are Heppner Elementary school, lone High school, A. C. Houghton school at Irrigon, Riverside High school, Lexington school office, and Rhea Creek Grange hall.

Two directors seek election, both of whom are now serving by appointment. They are Dr. L. D. Tibbles of zone 7, Heppner, for a two year term; and Maxwell Jones, zone 2, Irrigon, for a five year term. Neither has opposition.

Voters will not cast ballots on a successor for Howard Cleveland who has just resigned, to vote for a candidate to file for the post. The successor will be appointed by the board to serve until the annual election in May, 1967.

Six advisory committee members are to be elected. Of them, three are seeking continued terms: Jack Ployhar of Heppner, for one year; Cecil Jones, Lexington member to lone, for three years; and Bob Sclard of Boardman, for three years.

At Irrigon, Kenneth Lamb seeks a three year term. Orville Buchanan, who now holds this position, is not a candidate.

There are no candidates on the ballot for two other positions, and these will be determined by writers. One is for a Hardman member to a three year term and the other is for a Lexington advisory member for a three year term. Huston Leslie of Hardman, present member, is not a candidate, and neither of two incumbents at Lexington, Homer Hughes or Gene Majeska, are candidates.

By a change in organization, the latter two positions will be combined into one.

District directors are elected by a county vote at large, but advisory members are chosen by votes only from the communities they represent.

HERMISTON—New $1 1/4 Marlette Coach Company plant will be dedicated April 23 by Governor Mark O. Hatfield, and the mobile home manufacturing facility will be in production April 23 for open house to the public. The Oregon plant is the Marlette, Michigan corporation's fifth unit, and serves the Pacific Northwest market. 175 are employed in the new Hermiston industry.

Morrow Tops State In Vehicle Gains

All but one of Oregon's 36 counties recorded increases in motor vehicle registrations during 1965. The only county showing a decrease was Jefferson county with 444 fewer vehicles than in 1964, according to a report from the Department of Motor Vehicles. Statewide, 1965 registrations were up 68,273.

At the other end of the scale, Morrow county gained 531 vehicles and recorded the largest percentage gain in registrations — a 14.2% increase over 1964. Jackson county also scored a substantial and more significant gain — 5,855 more vehicles or 10.3% more than in 1964.

Morrow county had 4,254 vehicles registered in 1965. This compares with 3,723 registrations in 1964, or a 14.2% per cent gain.

Cleveland Quits School Board Post

Howard Cleveland of Heppner has submitted his resignation as a member of the board of directors of Morrow County School District to Chairman Irvin Rauch, according to information confirmed by Supt. David Potter Tuesday.

The resignation will be presented to the board for action at a special meeting Thursday night (tonight).

Cleveland, who served as board chairman for the year 1964-65, became a member of the board June 25, 1963, after a special election and was elected to a full term in May, 1964.

If the resignation is accepted, the board will appoint a member to fill the vacancy to serve until the annual school election in May, 1967.

League Prepares For Spring Sale

A busy week is ahead for members of the Heppner Civic League as it plans for the annual Spring Rummage Sale on Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, at the Tryco building.

Sorting and pricing of all kinds of articles which are contributed by residents of Heppner and surrounding areas will be throughout the days and evenings of the coming week.

Good rummage articles are still needed. Anyone who has things to contribute is asked to call any of the following members for pickup: Mrs. Lyle Jensen, 676-9613; Mrs. Ken Howard, 676-9797; Mrs. Loren Lucore, 676-5552; or Mrs. Harley Sager, Lexington, 989-8438. Articles may also be left at the Tryco building, Heppner, or at Del's Market in Lexington.

Kincaid Better

Lindsay Kincaid of lone, who suffered a serious injury to his leg in a farm accident recently, is improving at Pendleton Community hospital this week, his wife said. At one time it was feared that he may lose his leg as a result of the accident, but this crisis has been passed. There may be some degree of impairment in the leg, however. Lindsay is looking forward to getting out to manage the Indians, Little League team, and had some hope of being out for the Portland Eighth Grade tour next week. He is chairman of the tour.

Spray Highway Paving Planned

Surfacing of 15.06 miles of the Morrow County Line-Spray Junction section of the Heppner-Spray highway, about 37 miles south of Heppner, will be received by the Oregon State Highway Commission on April 28 in Salem, the highway department announces.

According to the announcement, plans call for road mix of existing surfacing, then application of a penetration macadam course for the 21-foot width of the roadway on the 15-mile stretch.

Completion time is set as 70 calendar days.

County Judge Paul Jones said Wednesday that he had confirmed the announcement through the office of the division highway superintendent in La Grande. As he understands it, the entire remaining portion still unpaved will be given a permanent oiled surface.

This will be good news to many who have sought the improvement for years. In the past, the highway commission has used federal funds to pave about three miles of the route per year. No paving has been done in the past two years but crushed rock was applied to the remaining unpaved stretch last year.

Zoning Hearing Slated on May 3

Formal public hearing on the proposed zoning ordinance for north Morrow county has been set for Tuesday morning, May 3, at 10 a.m. in the county courthouse, County Judge Paul Jones announces.

The hearing has been called by the county court in compliance with state law. The court has accepted the zoning ordinance.

Persons who wish to state their views on the ordinance are asked to be present at the hearing.

Portland Youth To Visit County Next Week-end

Preparation for hosting 32 Portland 8th graders in Morrow County, April 29, 30 and May 1 are nearly completed, according to Louis Carlson, president. Morrow County Wheat Growers Association.

Dick McElligott, vice-chairman of the association's public relations committee, pinch-hitting for injured Lindsay Kincaid, reported a few details need to be taken care of at the various farms and ranches to be visited. Plans involving Heppner and lone 8th graders as hosts will be completed this week, he said.

Names of the Portland 8th graders and their two chaperones were received last week by Gene Winters, County Agent and tour director. This week the visitors names will be paired with Morrow County host families having 8th grade students.

It was learned recently that seven students from the Oregon School for the blind may accompany the four participating counties of Wasco, Sherman, Gilliam and Morrow. The number of students coming to Morrow county has not been established according to Winters.

Next Monday evening in Portland the parents and students attending the tour will be briefed. Parents will receive the name of the family hosting their child. Prepared information about Morrow county and the tour will be presented each participating family.

Coordinators for the tour are Dr. Ed Shannon, Portland city extension agent, and Tommy Thompson, Sherman county extension agent.

This year the 8th grade class of A. C. Houghton grade school will also participate, McElligott said.

Carlson voiced his appreciation for the interest, cooperation and support of school officials, businessmen, farmers, groups and organizations all helping in insuring the 3rd Annual Portland 8th Grade Tour in Morrow county a success.

Carnival Time-- Come For Fun!

"Lots of fun for everyone!" will be the promise of those who are in charge of the Band Carnival coming Saturday evening, April 23, in the fair pavilion.

The carnival has proven to be a popular event, one that families look forward to enjoying each year. Games of skill and chance always prove to be a popular attraction, and plenty of surprises are in store for those attending this year. The committee plans for plenty of prizes to interest all ages.

Band students will entertain during the supper hour from 6:30 to 7:00 p.m.

Co-sponsors of the carnival are the band parent's club, the elementary and high school parent-teacher groups.

Proceeds of the event go to support the Heppner school bands, and help provide music scholarships.

Political Front Quiet With Primary Month Off

Primary election, to be May 24, is just a bit more than a month away, but one would scarcely realize it on the local scene where political quiet prevails.

Nevertheless, registration deadline is Saturday, and the ballots for the election are in the hands of the printers. Office of Sadie Parrish, county clerk, will be open until 8 p.m. Saturday for those who register at the last minute. Any persons who have moved, changed their names, or who are voting for the first time will have to register.

Democrats still hold a slim lead in registration in Morrow county as of the last tabulation but final figures will not be available until after registration closes.

The Gazette-Times will print the ballots on the forthcoming week-end and absentee ballots will be available for distribution shortly after upon application through the office of Mrs. Parrish.

Rundown on the candidates on

Set Clocks Ahead For Daylight Time Beginning Sunday

Clocks and watches are to be set one hour ahead with the daylight savings season starting Sunday, April 24. If you go to church normally at 11 a.m. and don't set your clocks ahead, you may find yourself arriving just as the rest of the congregation is leaving.

To all intents and purposes, an hour will be lost this week-end, but it will be gained back on the last Sunday in October when time reverts to normal.

Congress has just passed a bill requiring uniformity of daylight savings time across the nation. While a state is not required to observe daylight time, if it does go on daylight it must do so for the full period from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

Oregon is already on this schedule, but even this causes confusion in Malheur county, which is not on Pacific time but Mountain time. Malheur may be switched into Pacific zone by the 1967 legislation.

Most families will set their clocks and watches ahead before retiring Saturday night to assure that they will get up on daylight time.

Music Delight, owned and ridden by Melvin McGuire of Yakima, Wn., won the trophy for first in registered cow cutting at the seventh annual Spring Meet sponsored by the Wrangler club here Saturday and Sunday.

The meet proved to be one of the best, with 49 horses entered and 64 separate entries, some being in two events. All but two of the 49 were quarterhorses, and the two were appaloosas. One, Willamette Red Cloud, came to the meet all the way from Grenada, Calif., and is owned by Ray Dancer. The other was from Pullman, Wn.

"There were some terrific horses," said Gene Pierce, secretary of the Spring Meet. "Some of the people who go to all the shows said that without doubt Heppner has the best small show of all, with the best facilities, being the best run, and with the friendliest people."

He said that they enjoyed using the covered arena and found the convenience of the showers and office in the dormitory to their liking. The new box stalls for the horses also were appreciated.

There were two local entries, Ralph Beamer, chairman of the show, and Floyd Jones, but all the prizes went to outsiders.

Billy Wolf, owned and ridden by Carl Colson, Grandview, Wn., took the junior novice all-around.

Irish Rainbow, owned and ridden by Bob Mote of Tigard, won first go-round in the novice (winning less than $500). Second go-round finished in a tie between Leo Hawk, ridden by Gary Barney and owned by Esther Perrault of Prosser, Wn., and Nug Bar Junior, ridden by Francis Stiller, Walla Walla, Wn., and owned by Ival Sutherland of Prescott, Wn.

First go-round in the open went to Bueno Chex, ridden by Buster Smith of Woodenville, Wn., and owned by Smith and Sharp of Woodenville.
