

MISS HELEN ANN GRAHAM

Grahams Announce Daughter's Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Graham have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen Ann, to Michael Patrick Walsh. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Walsh of Wyckoff, New Jersey. Mr. Walsh is presently attending the Arizona State University, where he is majoring in elementary education. The bride-elect is a graduate of Oregon State University and is currently employed at the First National Bank of Arizona in Phoenix, Ariz. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Mothers Entertained At First Grade Party

Children in the first grade room of Mrs. Cleo Robinson delighted their mothers with a special afternoon on May 6, honoring them on Mother's Day. The little students favored their mothers with special words and songs of greeting, readings, individual recitations and demonstrations of the "new math". Each child had also prepared a little booklet, "When I was in First Grade," with the cover featuring a personal finger painting. This and a red carnation corsage were personally presented to each mother. Serving of delicious fancy cookies and punch climaxed the enjoyable and memorable afternoon.

Methodist Women Hear of India Art, Elect WSCS Officers

Mrs. Jack Krieger discussed present day India briefly, and showed sound slides entitled, "Christ in the Art of India" at the regular meeting of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service on Wednesday evening, May 4, in the church social rooms.

Ancient traditions in the use of color, line and design are adapted by Christian Indian artists frequently to illustrate and interpret the Gospel message to Indian people in a meaningful way. However, race prejudices and other social ills which exist in the Western cultures cause many Indians to question the validity of the Christian faith, the discussion pointed out.

Mrs. Bob Henry assisted with the devotional period. During the business session, the following women were elected to offices for the coming year: Mrs. Henry, president; Mrs. James Hildebrand, vice president; Mrs. Orlan Wright, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl McDaniel, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth Batty, chairman of membership cultivation; Mrs. Owen Leathers, secretary of Christian social relations; Mrs. Melvin Dixon, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. Mattie Green, secretary of supply work; Mrs. Effie Johnson, secretary of literature and publications. Mrs. Lena Kelly is outgoing president.

Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Mattie Green announced plans to attend the National WSCS Assembly in Portland from May 12-15 as official delegates.

Installation of officers will be held during the morning worship service on Sunday, May 22. An officers' training session, conducted by Mrs. Ruth Grimes, district president, will be held in the Hermiston Methodist church on Wednesday, May 25. Hostesses during the social hour at the close of the evening were Mrs. Effie Johnson and Mrs. William Farra.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Padberg Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Robertson, all of Canby. The four were dinner guests at the Padberg home on their return trip from the Javece convention in Pendleton. Mrs. Ross is daughter of Mrs. Padberg.

LIVELY, TOE-TAPPING RHYTHMS for square dancing have added enjoyment to the meetings of the Heppner Golden Age club during its first season. Hubert Wilson calls out a familiar "do-al-do", aided by violinist Mrs. Gladys Brazier (left) of Weiser, Idaho, guest of her grandson, Leonard Toll (hidden from the camera), Don Hughes, on guitar; Roy Quackenbush, on the banjo, and Clayton Sweek on drums. And what is fellowship without food? On the right is immediate past chairman, Mrs. Sadie Parrish cutting tasty desserts at the familiar potluck, assisted by members, Mrs. Orlan Wright (center) and Mrs. Effie Johnson (right).

Highly Successful First Season Stirs Golden Age Interest

Recognizing the need for social fellowship for persons in their "golden years", an organized club was started last fall and has shown constantly increasing interest and attendance through its first season.

The Heppner Golden Age Club offers to its average attendance of 35 to 40 persons a fine outlet of fun and activity, which are so often deprived those in later years after their families have grown. Also, it offers the opportunity for the older "new comers" to become acquainted with others with common interests in or around the community.

The club, sponsored as a service project by the Soroptimist Club, has met bi-monthly, on the first and third Tuesday evenings. Meetings are always open to visitors and anyone 50 years of age or older who wishes to join is welcomed. At the meeting this week it was decided to meet once each month, during the three summer months of June, July and August. New officers will take over leadership of the club, and will get an active program going again in the fall.

Officers elected Tuesday night were Mrs. Huston Lesley of Hardman, and Mrs. Carl McDaniel, Heppner, co-chairmen, and Mrs. Marjorie Worden, secretary-treasurer.

Meetings have been in All Saints Episcopal parish hall, with the Soroptimists taking care of rental expenses. Each meeting starts with a bountiful potluck dinner at 7:00 p.m., followed by varied forms of entertainment including bingo, pinochle, bridge and other table games, square dancing, and special musical entertainment. Those attending are always assured a good time, if one should come for nothing more than to visit with old friends, or to make new ones.

There are no dues, but small contributions are accepted for incidental expenses.

The "golden agers" have been meeting regularly since its organizational meeting last October 13. Valued assistance was given by the neighboring Hermiston Golden Age club, when Mrs. Olyn Hodge, organizer of the Hermiston club, and Mrs. John Jackson, club secretary, made trips to Heppner to help promote interest and tell of their own successes and growth. Several from here also visited meetings of the Hermiston club. Frank Turner was also among those instrumental in promoting interest in the Heppner club.

Mrs. Wavel Wilkinson, chairman of this year's Soroptimist service objectives committee, served as temporary chairman. Mrs. Marjorie Worden was selected as its first regular chairman. Succeeding her for the past three months has been Mrs. Sadie Parrish, assisted by Mrs. Earl Gilliam, vice chairman, and Mrs. Nora Turner, secretary-treasurer.

The sponsoring club feels that much can yet be accomplished by the "golden agers" and looks forward to helping it achieve its own complete independence next year, providing happiness for those in its first service horizon—the aged. The service club's second horizon is youth.

McMillans Have Son

Mr. and Mrs. Scott D. McMillan, Lexington, are announcing the birth of their first child, a son, named Robert Scott, born May 6, at St. Anthony hospital in Pendleton, weighing seven pounds and 12 ounces. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCarl of Harrisburg.

District 6 Auxiliary Units Hold Meeting

Department president of the American Legion Auxiliary Mrs. Colleen Goger, The Dalles, visited District 6 units in Pendleton and La Grande, Friday and Saturday, on her second complete tour of the state during her term as department president. She was accompanied to her Eastern Oregon visitations by Mrs. Hazel Hamlin, Dist. 6 president.

Following a potluck dinner in Pendleton at the Vert Little Theater, Mrs. Goger reported on her activities during the past year that have included traveling over 15,000 miles throughout the state and nation. Representatives from auxiliary units in Athena, Heppner, Ione, Hermiston, Milton - Freewater and Pendleton were on hand for the dinner-meeting.

A no-host luncheon was held Saturday at the Sacajewa Inn in La Grande with unit members present from Enterprise, Imbler, Baker, Wallowa, Egin, Union, Joseph and La Grande.

One of the many auxiliary projects reported on by Mrs. Goger, included the donation of more than 3,000 two-pound tins of homemade cookies, prepared by women throughout the state, that were airlifted to servicemen in Vietnam during the Christmas season.

Penland in Service

Pvt. Neal Penland, son of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Penland, was recently visiting his parents at Tillamook after completing boot training at Fort Polk, La. He is now in training at Fort Monmouth, N. J., where he will be in electronics school for about eight months, according to word received from his parents.
