

Jessie A. Smith Dies Suddenly At Home Here

Mrs. George (Jessie Anna) Smith died unexpectedly at her home in Heppner Wednesday, May 25. She would have been 75 years of age on June 3.

Funeral services will be Saturday, May 28, 2:00 p.m., at the Methodist church, with the Rev. Al Boschee officiating. Interment will follow in Heppner Masonic Cemetery, with Sweeney Mortuary in charge of the arrangements.

Jessie Anna Carter was born June 3, 1891, in Ruby Valley, Nevada. She was the daughter of John and Anna Holt Carter. When a very small child, she came with her parents to Monument, where she grew to womanhood. She was married to George Smith in Monument on June 30, 1910. They made their home there until moving to Heppner in 1944, where they have resided since.

Mrs. Smith was an active member of the Heppner Methodist church and of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Survivors include her husband, George; two daughters, Mrs. Sylvia McDaniel, Heppner; Mrs. Helen Jones, Glen Burnie, Maryland; one son James R. Smith of Pendleton; one brother, Melvin Carter of San Francisco, Calif.; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Memorial services were held Monday, May 23, for Mrs. Maud Alma Robison, 84, in the Sweeney Mortuary Chapel. The Rev. Al Boschee officiated at the 2:00 p.m. service. Vault interment followed in Heppner Masonic cemetery.

Mrs. Robison died in Pioneer Memorial hospital on Friday, May 20, after being in ill health the past year. She was a member of Sans Souci Rebekah Lodge and of the Christian Church. She had lived in south Morrow county and in Heppner most of her life.

The daughter of Wesley Booher and Jennie Stevens, she was born in Dakota City, Nebraska, October 7, 1881.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Debbie McDaniel of Hardman; two sons, Gerald Booher of La Grande and Richard Robison of Heppner; three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Zehner Gets Camp Fire Award

By LOVELLE PARTLOW

IRRIGON—Mrs. Elmer Zehner was specially honored at the Grand Council Fire in Stanfield Friday evening, when she was presented with the "Waken" pin, the highest National Camp Fire award given to a group leader. This award is given only to leaders who have served five years and who have given distinctive service and cooperation to their council over and above their leadership and creative program guidance.

Mrs. Zehner has been a leader for five years in Oregon Trail Council and has been a continuing member of Camp Fire Girls since joining as a young girl. She has volunteered her valuable service to Day Camp for three years as a counselor and has served as Blue Bird Training Chairman on the West District Committee.

The presentation was made by Russ Pierson, "Dad of the Year" for the West District.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hill left Monday morning for Portland, to visit their granddaughter, Rhonda Cook, who is convalescing at Doernbecher hospital following surgery. They also visited Rhonda's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Cook and family, and another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Koch and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac McCoy and Judy of Vancouver were weekend guests at the home of his mother, Mr. Ruth McCoy, and also visited many other friends and relatives. They attended the PTA picnic while here.

Advertising Pays! Council Grants 14 Building Permits

At the April meeting of the city council, the Heppner officials agreed that they should run a small ad in the Gazette-Times to inform people about the ordinance requiring building permits for alterations and remodeling when these projects exceed a cost of $100.

At the meeting of the council May 2, the city dads had evidence of the value of advertising. There were 14 applications for building permits. Seldom at a regular council meeting are there more than two or three.

All the permits were granted. They are as follows:

Dean Gilman, 870 E. Fairview Way, concrete driveway, $285; Claude Buschke, 106 E. May, new stairway and entrance to Gilliam and Bisbee building, $250; Gerry Rood, 440 Riverside, remodel front room, $1500; Mayor W. C. Rosewall, 270 N. Court, repair driveway, build tool shed, $800; Herman Winter, 810 E. Fairview, new sidewalk and patio, $300; Glen Ward, 525 S. Chase remodel basement, $800.

Anita Stockard, 215 N. Gale, siding on house, $1,900; Etta Parker, Main Street building, coaling roof, $235; Matt Hughes, 460 Morgan, new shingle roof, $500; J. F. Sweeney, 230 E. Matlock, remodel bathroom, $600.

Happoi Estate, 275 E. Cannon, repair foundation, re-cover kitchen drains and counters, $350; Tom Marlatt, new retaining wall, $450; Mary D. Bailey, Water and Jones Streets, new roof, $500; Loren Lucore, 675 Hager, remodel kitchen and service entrance, $450.
