Prompt surgery after the accident may result in saving the fingers. They were restored by suturing.

Bobby, who does lawn mowing in his spare time, reached down to clear grass clogged in the grass catcher while the power mower was running, but the end of the blade caught his fingers.

The plucky lad, an eighth grader, lost no time getting back to work. Within two or three days he was back mowing lawns with the hand bandaged. The accident did have one benefit for Bobby—it prevented him from taking his final written examinations in school.
