

Coach Hiemstra Sounds Call To Grid Practice

Coach Ed Hiemstra, new head football coach for Heppner High school, has announced that will be issued Saturday, August 20, from noon until 9 p.m. at the school.

First workouts for the gridmen will be Monday, August 22. Football aspirants will report at 8 a.m. on that day with practices scheduled from 8 until 10 a.m. and from 6 to 7:30 p.m. daily.

Those planning to come out for football are asked to get physical examinations from physicians as soon as possible. Blanks are available at the high school.

Although the Mustangs lost some of their top players by graduation last year, the team will have a good nucleus coming back. The coach who just arrived in Heppner for a short time last week, had little chance to check the possible roster.

First football game is with Pilot Rock High at Pilot Rock at 8 p.m. Friday, September 9, and first home game is with Condon High here on Friday, September 16.

Hiemstra, who coached last year at Siletz, has had 20 years of coaching experience, of which 16 years were in Idaho. He coached at Kellogg for a number of years and won three state championships there. He also coached at West Linn for two years. The new coach, who will assist in basketball, has had considerable experience as a head basketball coach also.

Included in his football record is playing in the professional ranks being with the New York Giants in the early 1940s.

The Hiemstras expect to move to Heppner today (Thursday). His wife, whose first name is Marylee, will be secretary in the lone school office. They have two daughters. One is married and is a senior at Central Washington College of Education at Ellensburg. Her husband will coach at Anacortes, Wn.

The other daughter will be married September 2, and her husband is serving in the Navy.

Woman Pays Fine On Driving Charge

Mrs. Nellie J. Jones of Heppner was fined $100 in court of Justice of the Peace Earl Soward Monday morning after she pleaded guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of alcohol. Fifty dollars of the fine was suspended since it was her first offense, Soward said. She also faces suspension of her operator's license for three months.

Mrs. Jones was arrested at 12:30 a.m. Monday after the car which she was driving allegedly struck a parked car, then was backed into another. Investigating officers said that she then drove through a fence near the Case building and finally struck the Case building. The arrest citation was signed by a state police officer.

In another case, four minor youths appeared in justice court on charges of illegal possession of beer. Two were from The Dalles and one each from Lexington and Condon. Each posted $25 bail and was cited to appear next Monday.

Round-Up Offers $12,200 Total

Leonard King, president of the Pendleton Round-up, said this week that cowboys will compete for nearly $12,200 at the annual four-day show which runs from September 14-17. A nearly equal amount will be distributed in television receipts.

King said entry fees last year were $23,325 and more was in prospect this year, making the Round-Up total prizes just under $50,000.

Pendleton's amount added to the Big Four rodeos will bring the total pay money for competing cowboys to nearly $100,000. The Big Four rodeos are at Walla Walla September 2-3; Ellensburg September 3-5; Lewiston, Idaho, September 9-11, and Pendleton's Round-Up, September 14-17.

Walla Walla's prize list totals $6,500; Ellensburg's $8,100, and Lewiston's $5,450.

Registration Set At Blue Mountain

Registration for Blue Mountain Community College will be from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. September 21, 22 and 23, President Wallace W. McCrae announces.

The schedule opens one day earlier than normal to allow freshmen students enrolling in transfer courses to take a placement test in English composition. All students enrolling in lower division for the first time are asked to register September 21, President McCrae said. They should report before 3:30 p.m. in order to take the test and complete registration.

All other students will register September 22 or 23.

Ruggles Vacationing In National Parks

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruggles left Heppner Saturday, August 13, for the first long trip in their new trailer. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ola Ruggles and by Mrs. S. W. Searcy of Portland, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Charles Ruggles.

Yellowstone Park and Glacier Park will be among the places they will visit on their trip which will continue until Sunday, August 21.

4-H Horse Show 'Big Success'; Many Get Awards

Young riders from seven 4-H horse clubs in the county competed Sunday, August 14, in the Morrow County 4-H Horse Show at the rodeo arena in Heppner.

Fifty children showed, rode and judged horses for 6½ hours while Dr. Stan McGough of Pendleton worked in the hot sun grading their performances. A big crowd of both participants and spectators turned out for the event.

Patti Healy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Healy, and Ruby Fullerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roise Fullerton, were double winners for the day as Patti won grand champion in horsemanship and reserve championship in showmanship and Ruby won grand champion in showmanship and reserve champion in horsemanship.

Winner in the horse judging contest was Bruce Bergstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bergstrom, with a perfect 200 points.

In the senior division champion horseman was Ruby Fullerton and reserve champion horseman was Carroll Lathrop, Irrigon. Ruby also took champion showman and Carroll Lathrop was again reserve champion. There were seven senior members competing.

The intermediate division winners were, in showmanship, Patti Healy, champion, and Marcia Jones, reserve champion; in horsemanship, Bruce Bergstrom, champion, and Patti Healy, reserve champion. Eighteen members turned out for the intermediate competition.

Junior class 4-H riders numbered 19. Winners in this division were, in showmanship, Dovie Alderman, champion, and Patti Luciani, reserve champion; in horsemanship, Joan Healy, champion, and Mike Bergstrom, reserve champion.

In the small fry division, one member, David Daly, competed and performed well enough to earn blue ribbons in both horsemanship and showmanship. He earned a big hand from the audience.

Scores for the horse judging contest were, with 200 as a perfect score, Bruce Bergstrom, 200.0; Terry Hughes, 190.9; George Kenney from Irrigon, 190.9; Joan Healy, 181.8; Susan Healy, 178.8.

Superintendents for the horse show were Charlie Daly, who did the announcing, and Floyd Jones who kept the classes in order. Mrs. Gail McCarty and Mrs. Bill Healy were clerks and Fred Mankin provided the public address system.

Those who will be going to the state fair with their horses as a result of this competition are Becky Fullerton, Ruby Fullerton, Marcia Jones, Craig Munkers, and Sherri O'Brien.

On the State Fair Judging Team will be Bruce Bergstrom, Terry Hughes and Susan Lindstrom.

"All in all, it was a fine show and even the judge commented on the wonderful showing of each of the members, showing the results of efforts of each 4-H horse leader," according to Gail McCarty, 4-H County Extension agent.

Big Crowd Enjoys Jaycees' Program At Coronation

Queen Erna Lynn Winchester and her princesses now officially wear the crown of royalty for the Morrow county Fair and Rodeo after coronation ceremonies at the rodeo grounds Saturday night.

Mrs. Archie Munkers did the honors at the crowning ceremonies following a program sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the additional entertainment of the large crowd that attended.

Each of the royal court gave a short talk during the coronation ceremony.

Boxing matches staged to open the program proved to be a real crowd pleaser with 11 2-round bouts featuring youngsters of from seven years of age to college age.

All but one was called a draw. One of the youngsters went down after a jab to the solar plexus, and the bout was called at that point.

One of the evening's highlights was the Tug-of-War between the Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber. True to their vow, the Jaycees regained possession of the elaborate coffee can trophy, and the Chamber team got a thorough dousing from the fire hose.

The 11 boxing bouts matched the following (weights in parentheses): Kerry Harsin (38) and Jack Yocum (34); Paul Van Marter (63) and Raymond O'Harra (64); Donny Papineau (85) and Duane Steers (85); Bobby Moore (76) and Steven Hoagland (83); Mike Hughes (114) and Jeff Marshall (95); John Cox (140) and Mike Sweeney (115); Stuart Dick (140) and Gene Helker (148); Carl Bauman (155) and Kenny Smith (145); Rick Johnson (175) and Dennis O'Donnell (180); Dave McLeod (70) and Dirk Dunlap (61); LaVerne Van Marter (125) and Larry Pettyjohn (110).

But the man who went all 22 rounds was Bill Gentry, who did a very capable job of refereeing the bouts. Timekeeper was Randall Peterson.

John Pankey, Jaycee president, was master of ceremonies for the program. The crowd was probably the largest of any to attend a coronation in recent years, coming close to filling the main grandstand at the grounds. The Queen's Dance, with music by Jimmy Cox and his Colorado Troubadors, also brought an excellent crowd to the fair pavilion. Many adults as well as younger persons enjoyed dancing to the western music.

Keep Oregon Green Gives Fire Warning

Oregon's forest fire season is now extreme, warns the Keep Oregon Green Association. In both eastern and western Oregon drought conditions prevail.

A fire started by a carelessly dropped lighted cigarette or match or abandoned campfire can quickly spread out of control and cannot be stopped easily.
