Sharon Mabe is Bride Of Carl James Cloud At Kinzua Ceremony

KINZUA—The Kinzua Community Church was the setting Saturday afternoon, August 27, for the marriage of Miss Sharon Kay Mabe, daughter of Mrs. Cecil Mabe of Kinzua, to Carl James Cloud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Cloud of Minden, Nev.

The double ring, candlelight ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin Derrick before the altar decorated with arrangements of pink and white gladioli and tall white tapers in candleabra.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Clyde Mabe of Fossil, the bride was lovely in a white lace over taffeta wedding gown fashioned with a fitted bodice with a hooped skirt. The scooped neckline was accented with sequins. Her finger tip length veil was held in place by a pearl crown and she carried an arrangement of white rosebuds and satin streamers on a white lace-covered Bible.

Maid of honor for her sister was Miss Sharyl Mabe, with Rose Merry Stubbfield of Kinzua, Alison McRae of Fossil and Judy Cloud of Minden, Nevada, as bridesmaids.

They wore identical Kelly green satin street length dresses made with short sleeves and scooped necks. Their head veils were of green net held by green satin circlets. They all had white accessories and carried pink carnation nosegays. They also wore pearl pendants.

Lighting the candles before the ceremony were Chuck Dunn of Clackamas and Raymond Mabe of Fossil. Junior bridesmaids were Jamie and Janet Cloud of Riverside, Calif., who wore green satin dresses with green head veils.

Ring bearer was Gary Dunn of Clackamas.

Serving as best man was Wayne Loganhill of Minden, Nevada. Ushers were Steve Eyerman and Dixon Moore of Minden, Nevada, and Dwayne Kandle of Kinzua.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Robert Kelso who also accompanied the Misses Peggy and Betty Plank of Fossil when they sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "One Hand, One Heart."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mabe chose to wear a blue lace dress with white accessories. Mrs. Cloud, mother of the groom, wore beige lace with white accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Gracie Mabe of Fossil, wore a blue flowered dress with matching coat and the groom's grandmother, Mrs. James S. Cloud of Riverside, Calif., wore a two piece blue flowered ensemble. Both had white carnation corsages.

Immediately after the service,

Mrs. Neill Greeted On 81st Birthday

Many family members of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Neill came to Heppner last week to extend their birthday greetings to Mrs. Neill. She celebrated her 81st birthday on Thursday, August 25, and the occasion was made a pleasant one, surrounded by so many of their children.

Those coming from out-of-town were Clarence Neill of Vesta, Calif.; Hugh Neill, Grand Coulee; Harold Neill, Junction City; Emory Crawford, Clarkston, Wn.; Mr. and Mrs. Neill Knighten, Kennewick; Dee Neill, Hermiston; Pat Neill of Ohio; Mrs. Doris Davis and daughter Martha Davis, Pendleton; Mr. and Mrs. George Moore and family from Utah; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scott, Lexington. From Heppner were Dee Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scott.

L. E. Reaney of Vancouver, Wn., was in Heppner for the County Fair, Horse Show and Rodeo this year. Mr. Reaney is the son of former pioneers of the Lexington area. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reaney. He was born in Morrow County 76 years ago and lived here until the age of 30. It is his custom to return every year for the Pioneer Picnic and for the Fair and Rodeo festivities.

The reception was held in the church annex where the three-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom centered the lace covered table. Cutting and serving the cake, after the newlyweds had shared the first slice, were Mrs. Harry Craig, Mrs. Ray Taylor, both of Kinzua, and Mrs. Lloyd Bare of West Linn, aunts of the bride. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Opal Potter and Mrs. Fred Wallace of Fossil, aunts of the bride. Serving punch was Miss Glendia Shelton of Kinzua.

In charge of the guest book was Mrs. Marvin Massey of Olex and attending the gift table were Miss Mildred Mabe of Fossil and Miss Dannie Jo Craig of Kinzua. Passing rice bags was Nola Steers and passing groom's cakes was Duane Steers of Heppner.

Out of town guests and relatives attended from Minden, Nevada; Riverside, Calif.; West Linn, Gresham, Portland, Gladstone, Heppner, Monument, and Fossil.

The bride is a graduate of Wheeler High school and attended Willamette College in Portland. The bridegroom attended schools in Nevada and is currently attending the Northwestern Dental and Medical School in Portland where he is training to become a dental technician.

The young couple will make their home in Gladstone while Mr. Cloud finishes school.

Group Enjoys Scenic Tour To Southern States During Month

ONE—Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Martin, in company with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Al Brazell of Priest River, Idaho, have returned from a 25-day trip to Florida going through 24 states enroute.

They traveled a southerly route, going to Florida, visiting Cayonlands Nat. Monument, Arches National Monument in Utah and Mesa Verde Park in Colorado. They took a 3 1/2 hour tour of the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico and saw thousands of bats leave the caves for the evening. They went past the L.B.J. ranch and visited an antebellum plantation house in a huge grove of oak trees laden with Spanish moss near Franklin, La. They spent one night in the old French Quarter of New Orleans.

Seven days were spent visiting in Florida with Al's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Brazell and other relatives. They also visited relatives of his in Folkstone, Georgia.

They were interested in a visit to a large cattle ranch in the heart of Florida, where a cross of Brahma and Herefords were raised. The ranch also grew peanuts and beans. They enjoyed trips to the Cypress Gardens and Ski Show, Stephen Foster Memorial, Reptile Institute Show at Silver Springs, Singing Tower and Sanctuary at Lake Wales, a Spanish Fort built in 1672, alligator farm, and many other interesting sights. They also enjoyed early morning swims daily in the warm Atlantic Ocean and hunting for shark's teeth.

Coming home they crossed the Great Smoky Mountains and traveled the Blue Ridge Mountains Parkway in North Carolina and Tennessee. They were guests of Capt. and Mrs. Roy Belcher of the U. S. Navy at Bardstown, Ky., where they witnessed the "Stephen Foster Story". They visited the National Headquarters of the National Federation of Garden Clubs in St. Louis, Mo. They toured the gardens and the Climatron.

The Martins said they experienced rain nearly every day at some time or other in varying amounts. They ran into strong winds in South Dakota and saw a transported trailer house smashed along the highway by the wind. While at Marineland in Florida, they were hit by a drenching thunderstorm. The humidity was about 90% in the southern states.

Vacationer Enjoys Trip to California

A three-day visit with her son, Grant Carter of the U. S. Navy, highlighted Mrs. Emile Groshens' recent trip to Sacramento, Calif. She went to Sacramento to visit her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Hough, and was at their home for about two weeks. During her stay Grant was able to get a shore leave from the carrier, Yorktown in Long Beach and came to Sacramento.

While she was in California she also visited Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Green and son Larry in Fresno. Mrs. Green is a cousin and a former supervisor in the La Grande schools.

On the return trip Mrs. Groshens spent a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hough, in Portland. She was met there by her husband August 22 and they returned home the following day.

Large Family Group Meets for Reunion

Mrs. N. D. Bailey and her sister, Mrs. Maggie Reynolds, both of Heppner, were among 73 relatives who attended a family reunion recently at Sellwood Park in Portland. The large gathering met for their 17th annual reunion. The women were two of five Sherlock sisters attending, another was unable to be present. Mrs. Bailey's two daughters and four sons and their families attended.

Mrs. Reynolds stayed for an extended visit with relatives in Newberg, and Mrs. Bailey returned home after visiting sons and daughters in Oregon and Washington.

Lingering Illness Takes Tom Sargent

Tom Sargent, Sr., who had been in ill health over a period of years, died Sunday, August 28, in Lincoln City, according to word received here by friends this week. He had been confined the past two years in a nursing home at Lincoln City. Funeral services were planned for Thursday (today) at Lincoln City. His son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sargent, Jr., have also made their home in the Lincoln City area, since leaving Heppner a few years ago.

Alaskan Relative Holds Unique Jobs In Aleutian Chain

An article in the July 19 issue of Seattle Times tells of the interesting career of Mrs. Wallace "Maggie" MacNiece of Cold Bay, Alaska—a "woman who (officially) wears man-size hats."

Mrs. MacNiece is the niece of Mrs. Blanche Brown, Heppner librarian, who will be remembered here as the former Alice Frye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Frye, who made their home in Heppner during the 1920's. Alice, now known affectionately in Alaska as "Maggie", attended school here, and moved away when about ten years of age. Maurice Frye was a brother of Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. MacNiece has the unusual distinction of being magistrate, coroner, customs and immigration agent, official recorder and sometimes census-taker for the whole Aleutian chain, a precinct covering 1,500 miles in length. Her husband is the postmaster and substitutes for her in any or all of her jobs if she is busy.

Of prime interest to Cold Bay is its big airport, where Maggie periodically meets the big jet transports coming in from the Orient and Far East; she pins on her golden customs badge and climbs aboard to inspect the baggage. As magistrate since Alaska became a state in 1958, she serves as judge, with authority to sentence offenders, performs weddings, funerals, is on call at all hours for all kinds of disorderly charges and fishing violations. "The people up here, 600 miles from Anchorage, are wonderful—like one big family. It has been a wonderful experience, and we wouldn't have missed it for anything," she confided to the interviewer.
