

FFA Chapter Rates High in PI Judging

Securing 20th place out of 90-some schools was the record posted by the Heppner FFA livestock judging team recently at the Pacific International Exposition. More importantly, they racked up a fine second place in the swine judging.

Three boys—Bob Harris, Mike Alsop, and Dave Hall — represented the Heppner chapter in the big statewide contest held in Portland.

In addition, FFA advisor Hal Whitaker and four other boys—Don Cossitt, Dick Wallace, Mike Davidson, and John Harris — accompanied the judging team on the trek.

Highest individual placement for Heppner was by Bob Harris, The HHS senior, who is president of the local FFA this year, ranked 14th in a field of almost 300 boys.

Club to Sell Candles

The second meeting of the Ione Busy Needles 4-H club was held at the Roy W. Lindstrom home. We decided that we are going to get some Christmas candles and sell them to raise money for our flags for the club. We have a new first year member, Kathy Crum. Refreshments were served by Christina Lindstrom and D-Ann Barnett.

HHS Straw Vote Elects Hatfield, McCall, Ullman

Mark Hatfield and Tom McCall were the decisive victors in a straw ballot conducted by the Hehisch at HHS.

Hatfield, pulling 61 per cent of the votes, defeated Robert Duncan for the U. S. Senate position, being vacated by Sen. Maurine Neuberger, by a vote of 84 to 53. This varies greatly with state pre-election polls which gave Hatfield a slim one per cent lead over Duncan.

By a 2 to 1 victory margin, the present secretary of state, Tom McCall, defeated the present state treasurer, Robert Straub, for the governorship by a vote of 82-48.

If the Hehisch poll is any indication, Al Ullman will again be the second district representative to Congress. Ullman scored an impressive 115 to 19 victory over Everett Thoren.

The closest race was for state representative from the 28th representative district. Martin Buchanan defeated Irvin Mann, Jr. by a vote of 66-64.

In county elections Jack Van Winkle, Harry O'Donnell and Robert Laughlin were the popular candidates. Jack Van Winkle defeated Gene Ferguson, 96-34, for county commissioner. Oscar Peterson lost to Harry O'Donnell for port commissioner (two year term) 106-28. For port commissioner (four year term) J. B. Malcom and Gar Swanson were the victors. Joseph Tatone is the third candidate but only two positions were to be filled. Malcom tallied 84 votes, Swanson 60, and Tatone followed with 19. Robert Laughlin led incumbent Rod Thomson for county assessor by a score of 100-30.

The Hehisch elections didn't include the measures ballot.
