

JUDY MARIE BOGUE

Bogue-Haguewood Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Drinkwater are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Judy Marie Bogue, of Prairie City to Jerry Lee Haguewood of Heppner.

Miss Bogue was graduated in 1964 from Prairie City High school and will be graduated in January from Brigham Young University after completing a two-year business technology course.

Mr. Haguewood will be graduated from Eastern Oregon College as a social science major in March; he was a 1955 graduate of Heppner High school, where he was outstanding in athletics, and then served four years in the U. S. Navy.

An early February wedding is planned in the Latter Day Saint Church in La Grande.

Fine Art of Sterling Discussed at Club; Plan Christmas Show

The lone Garden club met Wednesday, November 9, at the Garry Tullis home with Mrs. Tullis and Mrs. Kenneth Palmer as hostesses.

A film, "The Fine Art of Sterling" was shown. Table settings and beautiful flower arrangements were used showing both traditional and modern settings, and European and American art. Also all the labor in design and finish of making tabeware was given in detail.

Mrs. H. S. Huber read an article suggesting colors of linens and flowers suitable for various occasions, both formal and informal.

The business meeting consisted of consolidating plans for the forthcoming Christmas Show to be staged in the old Gilliam Bldg. building in Heppner on Friday, December 9, from 3:00 to 8:00 p.m., and on Saturday, December 10, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Everyone, both juniors and adults, are invited to bring their Christmas ideas and decorations to the show. No admittance charge will be made, but a silver tea will be served throughout the show.

Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. L. B. Henry and Mrs. Howard Bryant of Heppner and Mrs. William French, Mrs. Harold Beggs, and Mrs. Mary Swanson of Ione.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, December 13, at the home of Mrs. Wallace Wolf with Mrs. Cecil Jones assisting.

Evangelist Coming For Church Meetings

A series of evangelistic meetings will be held alternately at the Heppner and Lexington Christian churches through the week of November 27-December 2. It is announced by Rev. Al Boschee, pastor.

Guest speaker for the evening meetings will be the Rev. Truman Robins, pastor of the First Christian church in Tillamook. All meetings will begin at 7:30 pm with special music planned for each service. They will be open to the public, and anyone interested is invited to attend.

The churches completed a very successful week-end of youth meetings, with over 100 youth from Eastern Oregon towns registered during the meetings. A popular group during the meetings was the Girls Trio from Northwest Christian College, Eugene. Guest speaker was Cecil R. Warner, director of development at the college.

Expansion Plans For MCGG Talked At Annual Meet

7-minute talk. Her theme brought out the relationship between God, man and the soil, as well as the stewardship needed in caring for the soil.

John Bauer of Portland, manager of North Pacific Grain Growers, Inc., discussed markets in his principal address of the evening.

"The Northwest has a unique narrow, and shallow market," he said, "and it tends to over-react."

Of the 1965 crop of 138,000,000 bushels of white wheat in the northwest, 79 million bushels, or 5.7%, were milled; 17,645,000 bushels, or 12.7%, of the crop went for feed and seed; and carryover was 18,270,000 bushels. The rest went into export, totaling 68%, Bauer said. Of this 35.8 million bushels went to Japan, Taiwan and other countries of the Orient, and 58,840,000 bushels went into concessional sales under Public Law 480 to India, Pakistan, Korea and other countries.

Dollar export sales, Public Law 480 and carryover wheat are matters of prime concern to the grower, he said.

"The Department of Agriculture controls 81% of the white wheat market," Bauer said. "The Department of Agriculture is composed of dedicated people and they're trying their damndest to make it work."

He added, "We'd like to get them out of the business, but how do you get them out of it when they control 81% of the market?"

Coops Buy 80%
Bauer said that cooperatives buy more than 80% of the white wheat sold into markets in the Pacific Northwest.

He categorized those in the market as "bears," who want prices down, and "bulls," who want prices up. Among the "bears" are flour mills, Japanese trading companies, and feeders. Growers on the other hand are "bullish."

"But a big part of the market is made up of swingers. They don't care if the market is going up or going down if they are on the right side," Bauer declared.

He discussed international traders and their importance.

"Swingers (speculators) make the market often times," he said, adding that wheat price swung from $1.50 to $1.96 per bushel this year.

"You formed Morrow County Grain Growers 36 years ago because you wanted to stop the swing," Bauer stated. "It can swing up too far too fast."

He pointed out how the $1.96 last year broke the market and the price dropped to $1.65 in two weeks.

"What you are looking for is stability. You wanted a voice in the market."

Long Winter Predicted
In looking to the future and "what's going to happen," Bauer said, "I don't know, but I can tell you some of the factors. It has been a long fall, and it's going to be a lot longer winter."

Harvest for the current year went up to between 144,000,000 and 152,000,000 bushels, the speaker said. He told of strife in India which has curtailed the market there and said that there will not be much more programming for 30 to 60 days.

Bauer said he expects the 1966 world crop to be greater, but world needs on cash sales may not be as great.

The North Pacific manager pointed out during his talk that Morrow County Grain Growers, Inc., is one of 50 cooperatives that form North Pacific Grain Growers.

McCurdy Toastmaster
Manager McCurdy, who was toastmaster during the course of the evening and kept proceedings at a lively pace, reviewed the balance sheet and operating report. Current assets are listed at $326,658.64 and total assets are $1,425,104.32. Net worth totals $1,363,142.99.

Operating report shows net income for the year ending May 31, 1966, down to $3,963.93, lowest figure for many years. This is due to three factors, McCurdy said: 1. Commodity Credit Corporation no longer has any storage in country houses in the Northwest. 2. MCGG charges for handling and storage have not changed for 20 years. 3. Government programs have taken acreage out of production. With government changes, this will increase again, he said.

Two directors, Walter Jacobs and Tad Miller, were reelected for 3-year terms and Barton Clark was elected also for a 3-year term to succeed Elmer Palmer, who requested that he not be considered for reelection.

President Jacobs extended thanks to Palmer for his service on the board for six years.

Seven associate directors were elected for 1-year terms. They include Orval Matheny, Keith Rea, A. R. Crawford, Robert Mahoney, Robert Jones, Roger Palmer and Lee Palmer. Report of the nominating committee was given by Delwin Nelson, chairman.

At a directors' meeting following the general meeting all officers were reelected for the coming year, including Jacobs as president, Lewis Halvorsen as vice president, Larry Lindsay, secretary, McCurdy as manager-treasurer and Riley Munkers, assistant manager.

Lamb, Graves Honored
During the course of the evening, a moment of silence was observed in memory of Al Lamb, manager from 1952 until his death in 1966, and to John Graves who was fatally stricken by a heart attack at the 1965 annual meeting, as recorded in the minutes read by Lindsay.

Jacobs also reported to the membership that the cooperative has purchased two large semi trucks from Inland Navigation Co., which has quit the trucking business. Cost of the trucks was $8500 each, with trailers, and these will be used to haul grain from the MCGG elevators.

He said that the directors, after considerable deliberation, had decided to "go into the trucking business" for themselves, and with the hope of making some profit on the venture.

Jacobs told of the necessity of procuring a new manager following Lamb's death, saying, "Fortunately we didn't have to look long, since we had a man well qualified, experienced and respected in the grain trade in Harlan McCurdy."

On the latter's recommendation, a man already employed in the organization, Riley Munkers, was promoted to assistant manager.

Cooperative Said Key
"Our cooperative," said Jacobs, "is one of the keys to this community." He said that it provides jobs, supports youth activities, serves the ranchers, and is a big taxpayer.

Don Robinson was presented a plaque by Jacobs for the grains sweepstakes award at the county fair, and Robinson responded by saying that it might seem surprising that a cattleman would win the wheat award, but attributed his success to use of fertilizer on the crop.

Sharing in the 10 door prizes, each consisting of a package of the 4-H champion beef which was raised by Gwen Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Drake, were Bob Mahoney, Dr. A. D. McMurdo, Fred Martin, Mrs. Don Bennett, Mrs. Wes Sherman, Mrs. Bob Jepsen, Nadine Johnson, Gerald Bergstrom, Mrs. Dick Wilkinson and Mrs. Leo Crabtree.

To Hold Communion

The Rev. Clarence Kopp of Cove will be present at the Sunday morning service of All Saints' Episcopal church, November 20, for the Holy Communion service at 10 o'clock, according to announcement by Rev. Dirk Blinhardt.

Chamber Talks Parks, Football

Oregon State football, county parks and Christmas Opening shared the discussion interest at Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday with President Harley Young conducting the meeting.

Scott McMurdo of Corvallis, a guest, was called upon for an impromptu talk and discussed OSU football, the big victory over Washington and the spark ignited in the team by Coach Dee Andros.

"But they have a saying around Corvallis that when you want to learn about Oregon State football, go to Heppner," he said, reflecting some of the enthusiasm for the sport noticed here.

The matter of parks came up when it was announced that the county will receive Federal grants for use at Cutsforth and Anson Wright Memorial parks. County Judge Paul Jones said that he had not yet been advised that the grants were approved, even though news releases from the Department of Interior had been received to that effect by the Gazette-Times.

Orville Cutsforth, chairman of the parks commission, said that feeling is now that the county may be able to do the necessary improvement on parks within the budget without forming a parks district as had previously been planned.

Matching money from the federal government may also be forthcoming for the year 1967-68.

Cutsforth said that at the start of doe season, he counted 31 trailers in and near Cutsforth park. Plans have been started for five trailer pads to accommodate 10 trailers. Garbage disposal is posing one of the biggest problems and it may be necessary to buy some acreage to provide a garbage dump.

Merchants Chairman Bob Henry announced plans for Christmas Opening to be on November 26. He said a poll of merchants was taken and most of them favored that date over one a week later.

as few as 30 persons attended games when the Mustangs were in B classification. Chairman Irvin Rauch said that he wondered if the B status would necessarily hurt attendance.

In Carpenter's mimeographed presentation were five proposals that could be worked out for the Greater Oregon league.

Dr. Tibbles moved that Morrow county's representatives to the forthcoming meetings be instructed to vote only for one of two plans—either No. 2 or No. 3. The number two plan would make a western division composed of Wahtonka, Madras, Sherman, Heppner and Pilot Rock. (The Rockets will come back to A-2 from the B class in which they have been playing since last year). The eastern division under proposal 2 would include Enterprise, Nyssa, Vale, Burns and John Day. There would be no overnight trips for Heppner under this plan. Schools now listed as favoring the proposal are those in the west—Wahtonka, Madras, Sherman, Heppner and Pilot Rock.

Under plan 3, the lineup would be the same for east and west with the exception that Enterprise would go to the west instead of the east. This would mean six teams in the west and four in the east. There would be no overnight trips for Heppner in this plan.

Dr. Tibbles' motion passed unanimously.

Proposal 1, not looked upon with favor here but desired by Burns, John Day and Enterprise, would be a round-robin schedule of all teams throughout the district.

Proposal 4 would put Heppner in the eastern division with Pilot Rock, Vale and Nyssa, while all others would go to the west. Proposal 5 would have Wahtonka, Madras, Sherman, Heppner, John Day and Burns in the west with Pilot Rock, Enterprise, Nyssa and Vale in the east.

Pool Work Approved
Faced with possible closure of the lone swimming pool by the State Sanitary Authority until needed repairs are made, the board authorized a $2074 contract with a Pasco firm for sand-blasting the pool and refinishing the walls. A sum of $1500 had been allowed in the budget for the purpose, as explained by Louis Carlson, chairman of the lone advisory board, in an appearance Tuesday night. However, all previous bids have been much too high.

The bid from Pasco is by far the lowest, and will require volunteer help from residents of the lone area. School custodian will do the painting, and volunteer labor has been offered for cleaning joints in the pool, Carlson said.

The board decided that the some $500 above the amount budgeted be taken from other items budgeted for lone in order to get the job done. Principal Harold Beggs produced a letter from the state authority threatening withholding of license to operate the pool if the needed work was not done.

Principal Beggs also called attention to the fact that lone needs a new score clock for basketball games and said that a company had submitted a price of $475 for a suitable replacement of the present scoreboard. The board considered ways and means of financing the clock, since it was not included in the budget, and authorized Supt. Potter and Principal Beggs to check on a lease agreement with the company with an option to buy at a later date.

Other Actions Taken
Actions on other matters of business were as follows: Albert Wright was proposed to fill a vacancy on the Heppner advisory committee, and he was approved by the board.

Contract was approved for Mrs. John Ledbetter to transport students by private vehicle on the Blackhorse run, 36 miles per day at 30¢ per mile.

Ray Porter was officially hired as a school bus driver.

Contract to the Johnson Acoustical Supply Co. to install acoustical tiling in Heppner High school at a cost of $4627 was approved. This exceeds the budgeted figure of $3200 but directors agreed that an amount unexpended for improvement of the Heppner elementary gym would go for the purpose. Work is to start immediately and is expected to be completed by start of basketball season.

Request of the Mothers' club in Boardman to take primary school children on a field trip to Portland zoo was laid on the table until Principal Ron Daniels could poll mothers involved. Several directors expressed the feeling that the long trip, requiring eight hours riding on the bus and three or four hours in Portland would be too much for the youngsters involved. The trip is proposed for next spring.

Names were suggested to fill two vacancies that will be forthcoming on the county school budget committee. Terms of Clint McQuarrie of Heppner and Ellwynne Peck of Lexington are those expiring. McQuarrie and Mrs. Beverly Gunderson were submitted as Heppner possibilities and Homer Hughes, Elden Padberg and George Luciani were submitted for Lexington. A check will be made to determine whether those named would be willing to serve.

Supt. Potter announced a tentative time schedule for the 1967-68 budget with organizational meeting of the committee set for December 14, the hearing on March 22, 1967, and election early in April.

He also announced that he had met with the state certification review committee and that technical certification problems on eight teachers in the system had been cleared with the exception of two minor points.
