

Evangelist Coming To Lexington Church

Evangelist Frank J. Culpeper of Eugene will hold a series of evening meetings at the newly organized Church of God in Lexington, according to announcement by Nick Gray. Meetings will start Wednesday, November 30, at 7 p.m., and will be held each evening through Sunday, December 4. Further information is available by calling 989-8457.

Special Services To Start Sunday

Truman Robins, pastor of the First Christian church, Tillamook, will be the evangelist at a special series of evangelistic services starting Sunday at the Heppner Christian church, Al Boschee, local pastor, announces.

Six services are on the schedule with the evening meetings alternating between the Heppner and Lexington Christian churches. All services start at 7:30 p.m.

Services at the Heppner church will be those on Sunday, November 27; Tuesday, November 29; and Thursday, December 1. Those at the Lexington church will be on Monday, November 28; Wednesday, November 30; and Friday, December 2.

Special music will be presented at each service.

The host pastor and the members of the churches invite all to come to hear Rev. Robins as well as to receive the inspiration that the services promise to offer.

Bazaar and Luncheon Planned December 3

The annual Christmas Bazaar of the Episcopal Church Women will be held in All Saints' Episcopal church parish hall on Saturday, December 3, beginning at 11 a.m.

In addition to a luncheon, the bazaar will feature fancy work, food, aprons, candy and surprise package booths. A new feature this year will be the Flea Market, a collection of odds and ends, including antiques, for sale.

A statement of purpose and policy

Purpose

In 1933, Pacific Supply Co-op was founded by six agricultural cooperatives "to promote and provide a medium for unity of effort in buying and distributing."

This original purpose continues to pertain but economic and technological developments in the agricultural industry have necessitated expansion of the founders' objectives to include:

1. Timely availability to the agricultural industry of an increasing variety of petroleum, chemical and fertilizer products of assured quality;
2. Routine and emergency service for the farmer by qualified personnel utilizing modern equipment;
3. Foreign and domestic marketing of western agricultural products;
4. Agricultural research and planning, and
5. Credit service for individual farmers and associations.

Policy

We believe that purpose must have integrity supported by these strict rules of policy:

1. That we have a responsibility, not only to our customers, but also to the industry within which we operate.
2. That honest pricing of products be accompanied by the highest level of service to our customers;
3. That a reasonable profit on supplies and services is necessary and honorable;
4. That every buyer of a similar product should have the opportunity to purchase this product at the same price as any other buyer who receives the same quantity and service.
5. That service is a factor in determining the honest price of a product.

Philosophy

WE BELIEVE that the agricultural industry, which can be victimized by nature, should not be plagued by problems over which man has a degree of control—namely service, price and availability of necessary supplies.
