

Families Enjoy Visiting At Home and Away

Thanksgiving holidays of the past week offered a pleasant opportunity for many families in the area to be with relatives or friends. With the fine weather conditions prevailing, many motored to homes of others to share the festive "turkey day." For many college students it was a welcomed opportunity to get away from life in the dormitory and classroom, and be home by the family fire.

The Gene Pierce family had the pleasure of entertaining a classmate of son Mike from Eastern Oregon College. The young student is Adel Fadel, whose home is in Beirut, Lebanon. Another holiday guest in the Pierce home was Mrs. Lula Pierce of Pendleton, mother of Mr. Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Driscoll and son Jeff came from their home in Portland on Thanksgiving Day to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schmidt. They returned home on Sunday afternoon. They were Thanksgiving dinner guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Driscoll, as were Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt, J.H. and David, and Bill Driscoll. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pointer of Corvallis visited with the Driscolls Saturday and Sunday following Thanksgiving. Mrs. Pointer and Mr. Driscoll are brother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Strober were hosts for their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don Strober, and for her stepfather, Ed Gettle, of La Grande for Thanksgiving dinner.

Week-end guests at the Archie Padberg home were Mr. Padberg's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Padberg, Jr., and family of Boring. Also visiting here was Mrs. Padberg's sister-in-law, Miss Elsie Tucker of Eugene.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wishart were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fleisher of Hood River, who were here for the day Thursday, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Linn and son of Beaverton, who stayed until Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. "Moose" Stephens, Mike, Patty, Joe, Bill, Amy and Jimmy, traveled to Boise, Idaho for an annual Thanksgiving gathering of her family with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McDaid. They left Tuesday and returned Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dirk Rinehart visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Rinehart and other members of his family in Nysa over the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mrs. Lora Moyer and son, Melvin Moyer, recently enjoyed an early Thanksgiving dinner with another son, F. Ellis Moyer and his family in Spokane. Mrs. Moyer and her son traveled to Spokane November 18, and the family had its pre-Thanksgiving turkey dinner on Sunday, November 20.

Thanksgiving guests of the Bob Abrams family were his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Abrams, Sr., Everett, Wn.; his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Haskell, Susan and Nancy, also of Everett; his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Abrams, Jr., Cathy, Dirk and Scott, Longview, Wn.; Jane Haskell, Washington State University, and Margaret Haskell, University of Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collins and daughter Lisa delayed celebrating Thanksgiving with a dinner until Saturday when their other daughters, Patti, home from EOC, and Jeanne, working in Portland until Saturday, could be present.

Mrs. Millie Doolittle welcomed a Thanksgiving visit from her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Perrott and daughters Leslie and Susan of Portland on Saturday. The previous Saturday she was visited by her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Doolittle, Dennis and Ronald, also of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy and daughters traveled to Redmond to enjoy the Thanksgiving holiday with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Moyer and small daughter, Moyer is a member of the junior high school teaching staff in Redmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warren were hosts to a family Thanksgiving gathering in the group were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Elridge of Reedsport; a brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Warren, Leanne and Mark of Paul, Idaho; a son, Steve of Ricks College; and Mrs. Warren's mother, Mrs. Ray Drake.

Arriving Friday for a two-day visit with Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Dixon were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Biss of Albany. The couple were former parishioners when Rev. Dixon was minister of the Sheild Methodist church.

Relatives who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Drake on Thanksgiving were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Drake and four children of Kennewick and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bull of Milton Freewater. Home from OSU was their daughter, Susan. Ulysses Simpson Fisher, Walla Walla, uncle of Herman Winter, spent last Friday here with the Winter family and visited his sister, Mrs. Goldie Winter at Pioneer Memorial hospital.

Linda Dunlap visited with Lorraine Rea in Portland over the Thanksgiving holiday. Lori and Dirk Dunlap stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Borman, while their mother was away.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Salling (Julie Pfeiffer) of Corvallis were here over the Thanksgiving holiday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pfeiffer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loyd and Tim spent Thanksgiving day with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hales and family in Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Benson and family spent Thanksgiving Day as guests of his brother-in-law and twin sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Owen of Lake Oswego.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carpenter and family had guests from Monday until Saturday of Thanksgiving week. Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Carpenter, parents of Mr. Carpenter, came from Eugene and Bill Peters, Mrs. Carpenter's brother, traveled here from St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Balfe and family were in Portland Thanksgiving Day visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Florian Frank and his brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Welmer. They stayed overnight with Mrs. Emma Balfe, Mr. Balfe's mother, in Beaverton.

Coming Events Set for Lodge

By DELPHA JONES
LEXINGTON — Three Links Club met at the home of Mrs. Al Fetsch on Monday for its regular November meeting. Plans were discussed for Holly Lodge and Three Links' activities for the month of December.

It was decided to recommend a potluck dinner for Lodge members, their friends and families. This is a planned turkey dinner with the Three Links committee furnishing the chicken, dressing and main dishes, and members bringing the salads and desserts. Members are urged to bring their children who will be remembered with a small token, and the adults both men and women will enjoy an exchange of gifts, so guests are invited to bring an exchange gift also.

It was decided to adopt a member from the Oddfellows home, and remember her with gifts throughout the year. Cards were signed for the boys of Lexington friends and Lodge members, to be sent to those in service. A financial report of the turkey dinner was heard.

Those present for the afternoon were Mrs. Charles Colley, Mrs. Frank Robinson, Mrs. Florence McMillan, Mrs. George Steagall, Mrs. A. F. Majeske, Mrs. C. C. Jones, Mrs. Archie Munkers, Mrs. Oris Padberg, hostess Mrs. Fetsch and two invited guests, Mrs. Larry Fetsch and Mrs. Stanley Cox of Heppner. Lovely refreshments were served later in the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mounts and son Steve were visitors over the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Mounts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Majeske.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Majeske made a business trip to Forest Grove and Portland over the week-end taking their son Don to his school at Pacific University after spending the holidays here.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Rinehart and children of Ukiah were holiday guests of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Yocom, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones were holiday guests of their daughter, Charlene Jones, at her home in Portland.

Mrs. George Hermann returned to her home Monday after a stay in the Community Hospital in Pendleton where she underwent major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jones were Pendleton and Hermiston visitors on Monday and enjoyed Monday evening dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Frost and family in Hermiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson and children were Portland visitors Sunday at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Davidson, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Flint. Mrs. Mabel Davidson also motored to Portland with them and visited at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Flint were Thanksgiving visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. Vera Viall and family motored to Grandview, Wn. where they spent Thanksgiving with relatives.

Cleo VanWinkle spent Thanksgiving at the homes of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack VanWinkle and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Green of Heppner. She also met her new great grandson, David Wayne Green, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Green of Athena.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. VanWinkle and family spent the week-end with her sister and family in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hunt and family spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Ledbetter and family.

Mrs. Merle Cornelison was a dinner guest of her niece and family, Mrs. June Fields of Heppner.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Way and family on Thanksgiving were his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jen-

Agent Explains Purpose Of Home Extension Units

By MARJORIE WILCOXEN
County Extension Agent

What is an Extension Unit and just what is it organized for and why? If these questions have come to your mind when you read of this or that unit meeting, perhaps this article will be of some help to you.

Extension Home Economics is an adult education program for the homemaker. It is the home economist in the county extension office who carries this educational program to homemakers. She is professionally trained, and holds a college degree. She also gets information from specialists located at state land grant universities—in Oregon it is the Oregon State University at Corvallis. These specialists are trained in nutrition, family economics, home management, housing and home furnishings, clothing and textiles, human relations, child development, and other fields.

From this information the extension home economists supply today's homemaker with reliable, unbiased information to help her to make decisions — what to buy; how to budget the family income, care for the children, stretch her time and energy to cover everything that must be done. As much as possible the formal educational program is planned to help as many people in the county as possible, depending on the problems to be solved.

The modern homemaker also searches beyond the home horizon. She wants to understand the problem of her community, her nation, and the world. Home economics extension programs give her learning opportunities that make her a better citizen as well as a wiser homemaker.

These educational programs planned are best conducted in a group organization — county home extension units. The programs are not for members only, but any one interested may attend the meetings. The notices of meetings and other specialized information are sent to those women who are on a membership or unit mailing list. If you are interested in participating in an extension educational program, either as a unit member or on our mailing list for other materials, why don't you contact the unit secretary in your area, and she will be able to give you more detailed information about unit meetings and program. Or contact the county extension office.

Card Reports Cattle Testing For Brucellosis

By GAIL L. McCARTY
County Extension Agent

Many cattlemen have recently received a postcard from the Oregon Department of Agriculture reporting the results of brucellosis tests on their cattle. These cards are new, but will now be coming at six month intervals. The five digit number in the center of the card is your herd number which remains the same. A blank space behind the words reactors and suspects on the left side indicates no reactors or suspects. If any are found there will be a number there.

All tests reported are from cattle slaughtered within the dates given on the card. All samples reported are secured at the slaughter points, and are traced to the owner by brand, cartag, and backtag. Reports include Oregon cattle slaughtered out-of-state.

Worm Hoses for Botts Soon

One month after the first killing frost is the best time to rid horses of bott fly larvae. According to Dr. Guy Reynolds, OHSU animal health specialist, nearly 100% of the horse population is afflicted with this parasite. The larvae attach to the stomach lining during the winter months causing irritation, and a place of entry for microorganisms, and a sapping of blood. They pass out in the manure when warm weather returns where they develop into an adult bott fly.

Contrary to popular belief, bott flies do not sting or bite horses but attach their eggs to the hairs of the host.

Treating with carbon disulfide is effective in ridding the horse of this parasite. Other producers for control of strongyles and round worms may be used in conjunction with it. Organic phosphate de-wormers which control bots and other parasites are also available.

son of Waitsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas McDaniels and daughter of Heppner.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. Lola Breeding over the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Max Breeding and sons of Portland.

Alonzo Henderson spent the Thanksgiving holidays with his family in Hood River.

Tree Order Blanks Available Now From Extension

By GENE WINTERS
County Extension Agent

Order blanks to be used for ordering forest trees from the State Department of Forest Nursery are now available from the County Extension office.

Persons ordering trees from the State Nursery are required to certify that such trees will be planted on farms or forest which lies outside of incorporated city limits.

This year Caragana is available. Other broadleaves are black locust, Russian olive and Chinese elm. A wide variety of conifer species available include Ponderosa pine, Scotch pine, Lodgepole pine, Noble fir, White fir, Shasta fir, Incense cedar, Chinese Arbovitae and Norway Spruce.

Seedlings will be lifted for delivery in December. February delivery is recommended for this area.

Orders should be placed soon for delivery in February. Early ordering is necessary to assure receiving species requested.

The extension office will pool an order for those requesting trees before December 15, 1966.

Barley Conference Reports

At the Sixth American Barley Research Workers Conference in Winnipeg, Canada, October 17-20, 1966, Dr. G. A. Peterson of North Dakota State University reported on barley seeding experiments. These findings may have implications for Morrow county barley producers. Some of the key findings are below:

A study of five varieties with four kernel assortment sizes sown at three dates indicated average grain yields were higher with the use of plump barley seed than with thin seed. The advantage of the plump seed was not found at the earliest seeding date but increased in significance as date of seeding was delayed.

Increased grain yields from the use of plump seed primarily resulted from increased numbers of heads produced per unit area. Greater seedling emergence and more vigorous plants were associated with the use of plump seed. Plumpness of seed used had little effect on the physical quality of the grain produced.

Large reductions in both quantity and quality of barley produced were associated with late seeding. The intermediate date of seeding resulted in moderate reduction in physical grain qualities as compared to early seeding with a lesser effect in quantity and grain produced.

Highest grain yields at the earliest seeding dates in a rate and date of seeding study were obtained with rates which were lower than the 1 1/2 bushel per acre rate that most North Dakota farmers use. A slight increase in the seeding rate appeared desirable as date of seeding was delayed or if a larger kernelled variety was used. Seeding rates at the level of one bushel per acre gave better results for number of kernels per head, and average kernel weight especially with early sowing than the 1 1/2 bushel rate of seeding.

Oregon Ranks Sixth
Among the barley producing states Oregon ranks 6th with 470,000 acres in 1966. North Dakota leads in acreage with 3,170,000 acres followed by Montana, 1,708,000 acres, California, 1,484,000 acres, Idaho, 701,000 acres and Minnesota with 682,000 acres. Following Oregon is Washington with 387,000 acres and South Dakota having 320,000 acres.
