Miss Luciani, a 1966 graduate of Heppner High school, is attending Bassist School for Fashion Careers in Portland where she will graduate in May.

No wedding date has been set.

Winter Prom Held By Rainbow Assembly, Queen Martha Rules

Martha Peck, who is serving this term as worthy advisor of Ruth Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was chosen by her fellow members as their queen for the annual Christmas prom Thursday evening, December 29. Miss Peck was crowned during intermission ceremonies by Jan Hager, queen of last year's winter dance. Princesses in the court were Linda Heath and Linda Clark.

Dancing was under a false ceiling of blue and white streamers, with large blue and silver bells grouped about the rooms, carrying out the holiday theme of "Silver Bells." Live music was provided by the "Goppers" of The Dalles. Many of the young college students who were home for the holidays were guests of local members during the evening.

General chairman was Linda Clark, worthy associate advisor, assisted by all the members of the assembly.

Kinzua Service Joins Couple in Marriage

Miss Glenda Sue Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shelton, became the bride of PFC Wayne E. Cox, son of Mrs. Anna Cox of Halstead, Kansas and Archie Cox of Kinzua on Tuesday evening, December 20, at the Kinzua Community church.

The double ring service was read by Rev. Edwin Derrick before the altar which was decorated with baskets of red and white carnations and lighted by tall white candles in candleabra and a lighted Christmas tree.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a street length dress of white lace over satin. Her shoulder length veil was held by a crown of white satin and seed pearls and she carried an arrangement of red and white carnations centered with a removable corsage of the red carnations.

Maid of honor was Miss DeLores Shelton, sister of the bride, who wore a street length dress of Christmas red lace and chiffon. She carried a nosegay of red and white carnations.

Serving as best man was William Stephens with James W. Cox and Dennis Cox serving as ushers.

The bride's mother chose to wear a winter white sheath with grey coat and grey accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Robert Kelso who also accompanied Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Freeman when they sang two special numbers.

Handling the guest book was Miss Linda Keller while the gift table was in charge of Miss Carol Lynn Nistad and Miss Sharyl Mabe.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church annex where a three tiered wedding cake in the brides colors of red and white was topped with a bride and groom. The cake was placed on a large mirror which was encircled with poinsettia-shaped Christmas lights.

After the bride and groom shared the first slice of cake, the rest was cut and served by Mrs. John Nelson. Coffee was poured by Mrs. William Stephens, while Mrs. David Mattison served the punch.

After a short wedding trip to Portland, the young couple returned to Kinzua until Wayne leaves Thursday for Fort Stewart, Ga., where he is stationed. Both young people are graduates of Wheeler High school.

Visitors at the Claude Graham home over Christmas were the Graham's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Damon and their children John, Mark and Anne.

Mrs. Duvall Greet Out-of-town Guests During Holiday Week

Several visitors from out of town were holiday guests of Mrs. Amanda Duvall in her home during the Christmas and New Year's week.

Coming from Portland for Christmas week were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Waid and their son Jim. Also, her sister, Mrs. Lula White came from Pilot Rock, and her granddaughter, Miss Lois Wickersham traveled from Portland. All returned to their homes last Tuesday except Miss Wickersham, who left Wednesday for Bend to spend the rest of the week skiing with friends at Bachelor Mountain.

On New Year's day, guests of Mrs. Duvall were her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Waid of Ukiah and her sister, Mrs. Lula White of Pilot Rock. They were joined on Monday by another nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Waid and children Rethie, Anne and Susan, of Hermiston. The group enjoyed watching the Pasadena Rose Parade and football games on color TV.

The week-end before Christmas, Mrs. Duvall entertained in the evening for the families employed on her ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Bergan Ledbetter, Mr. and Mrs. Theror Adlard and Mr. and Mrs. John Ledbetter and Judy.

Edwards Couple Feted At New Year Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nelson were hosts at a buffet supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards on Sunday, January 1.

The occasion was in recognition of Mr. Edwards' ten years of employment at the Nelson Ranch. Gold watches were given to both Mr. and Mrs. Edwards.

Guests present included Mr. and Mrs. James Bloodworth, Mr. and Mrs. William Van Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. Scott D. McMillan, and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, Karen and Lori, and the Nelson children, Chuck, Keith and Karen.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson of Heppner over the Christmas week-end were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Thompson, Linda and Brian, of Portland, and Mrs. Thompson's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Gronewald (Jean Hays) and four of their five children of Vancouver, Wash.

Seniors Compose Essays on Peace

Do you have a solution for the problems of the world? Do you have a secret remedy for peace?

Mrs. Justine Weatherford's composition students have written these essays as a class assignment.

The students were to assemble a background of information in their essays on the subject "Peace is Attainable" and then formulate their own personal conclusions as to how world peace may be attained and what they consider a formula for this problem.

The essays were not to exceed 5000 words. The grand prize winner will receive a $25,000 personal education and/or career assistance grant from the Lions' Club. This will be based on an international level with entries from all over the world.

There will be eight second place essays from eight world geographical divisions. Each winner will receive $1000 cash prize, an expense-paid trip to Lions International 50th Anniversary Convention at Chicago, a gold medal or a personalized plaque from the International President.

Other prizes include plaques and certificates.

Senior Girls Take Betty Crocker Homemaking Tests

Four girls of the senior class took the Betty Crocker Homemaking Test recently.

The test, given to Donna Potter, Carol Rawlins, Barbara Bloodworth, and Verina French was administered by Mrs. Leona Winters, Home Economics teacher at Heppner High.

All senior class girls of participating schools are eligible to take the 50-minute test on homemaking knowledge and attitudes.

The highest-scoring girl in each school will be named local Homemaker of Tomorrow and will receive a silver charm award. Her test paper will then be judged with other local winners' papers to determine two scholarship winners in the state. There are many dollars in scholarships available to the state and national winners, plus an all-expense paid tour of Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Dick, Stuart, Erin and Kevin spent Christmas at Ryderwood, Wash. with Mrs. Dick's mother, Mrs. B. C. Forsythe and other members of the family. Mrs. Forsythe returned to Heppner for a short visit with the Dicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruggles attended the wedding of her niece, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Searcy in Portland on December 21. They returned December 22, bringing with them Mrs. Ruggles' sister-in-law, Mrs. S. W. Searcy for a Christmas visit. On Christmas day, the Ruggles and Mrs. Searcy drove to Richland to be with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fastabend, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ruggles, and their six children. Thursday, December 29, Mrs. Searcy returned to Portland with Mrs. Fastabend. New Year's guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ruggles were old friends from Moro, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sayers.

Mr. and Mrs. Emile Groshens made a delayed departure because of Heppner's snow, for a Christmas visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hough in Portland. They left December 26 and returned home after a week's stay. Other visitors at the Hough home were Mrs. Groshens' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Grant S. Carter.

The Rev. and Mrs. Billie Alsup, Jr., are the parents of a new daughter, Melody Joy, born Christmas Eve at Good Shepherd hospital. Melody joins four sisters and two brothers at home. According to the Rev. Alsup, mother and daughter are home and doing very well.
