

Great Minds at Work at Chamber of Commerce

THIS ELABORATE doodle, drawn on a paper place mat and picked up from the table at the Chamber of Commerce Monday, shows artistry of some member as his subconscious wanders to the great out-of-doors while listening to proceedings at the meeting. The mountain scene is complete with jumping fish, sailing boat and flying birds. The artist is unidentified.

SCHOOL CHILDREN drew Christmas pictures used in the December 22 issue of the Gazette-Times, but children did not draw these. They are doodles found on the tables after the Chamber of Commerce meeting in the Wagon Wheel Cafe Monday.

THIS DELICATE doodle pattern reveals something of the inner workings of a complex mind and intricate thought processes—perhaps. Artist was tentatively identified as Joe Balfe.

Jaycee-ette Club Is Organized; Slate of Officers Chosen

Wives of Morrow County Junior Chamber of Commerce members organized Thursday evening, January 26, at the home of Mrs. Jerry Hollomon as a Jaycee-ette club, with the purpose of supporting their husbands in Jaycee projects.

Officers elected to serve for the coming year are Mrs. Jerry Hollomon, president; Mrs. Tom Wilson, vice-president; and Mrs. Lyle Jensen, secretary. Two directors elected to serve on the executive committee of the group for six months were Mrs. Clyde Allstott, reporter, and Mrs. Forrest Burkenbine, calling committee. Mrs. Wilson, as vice-president, will serve as liaison with the Jaycees.

Among those present at the organizational meeting were Mrs. Gail McCarty, Mrs. Tom Wilson, Mrs. Forrest Burkenbine, Mrs. John Privett, Mrs. Mark Samples, Mrs. Jerry Hollomon, Mrs. Darrel McLachlan, Mrs. Lyle Jensen and Mrs. Clyde Allstott, all of Heppner; and Mrs. Carol Keller and Mrs. Harley Sager, Lexington.

Program to Feature Americanism Theme

A program, based on this year's national Legion theme, "Americanism," is planned as an added feature of the February meeting of the Heppner American Legion and Auxiliary on Monday evening, February 6, at the Legion hall. Members and guests will meet at 7:00 p.m. for a potluck dinner, with the main dish, chili con carne, to be furnished. Added dishes of salads, vegetables, and desserts will be brought by those attending.

Included on the program will be a special talk by Harry Stevens, department service officer, from Hood River. Glen Ward will also show a movie film based on "Americanism." During the Auxiliary meeting, additional plans will be made for the February 17 bake sale and for filling the linen chest to be given away.

Meeting is Called

Mrs. Clyde Allstott, president of the Heppner Elementary PTA, announces that there will be an executive committee meeting at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, February 7, at the home of Mrs. Forrest Burkenbine. All officers and committee chairmen are included in this meeting and are urged to be present.

FHA Fashion Show Entertains Mothers

"Pretty as a Picture" was the theme of the annual FHA Mothers Tea, held at the school Friday afternoon. The high point of the tea was a fashion show featuring the girls and one boy of the Home Ec. classes, modeling their latest creations.

Nalbro Cox was the first boy in HHS to participate in the Home Ec. class. He modeled his shirt.

Marsha Sowell was the commentator of the style show. Sara Miller sang the theme song and at the end of the style show, she dedicated a song to the mothers to set the mood of the show, she was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Sam Miller.

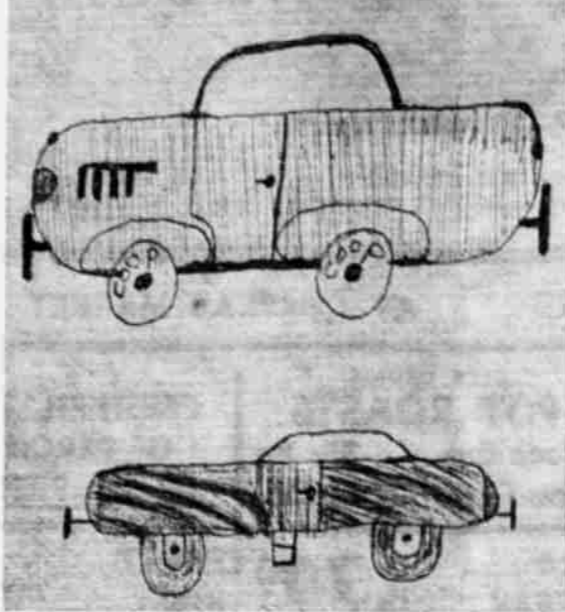

Open-faced sandwiches, cookies and different types of breads were made and served by the FHA girls, with the assistance of their instructor, Mrs. Leona Winters.

Girls that participated in the style revue were Patty Howell, Sheila Healy, Cindy Harsin, Vicky Steagall, Michelle Miller, Camille Malcom, Sue Jensen, Sandy Matheny, Sue Griffith, Judy Gentry, Linda Eckman, Sandy Matthews, Grace Hawk, Michelle Larkins, Edna Hartle, and Linda Starks, all from the Home Ec I class.

Those from Home Ec. II were Sherri O'Brien, Christy Watkins, Brette Howell, Marcia Jones, Nancy Campbell, Cathy Shiller, Marilyn Turner, and Paula Stewart.

Advanced homemakers were Linda Warren, Kathy Matthews, Rita Pettyjohn, Joy Miller, Barbara Bloodsworth, Vickie Robinson, Donna Potter, Helen Anderson, Susan Starks, Brenda Steagall, Sandy Bryson, Ruby Fulleton and Debbie Young.

HERE ARE TWO more choice doodles from the C of C table. Are they cars of the future or of some bygone era? Although the artist was not identified, someone theorized that perhaps he was Harlan McCurdy because "Co-op" is drawn on the tires.

Heppner School Reunion Book Out; Now on Sale

Heppner's school reunion book, which involved untold hours of work by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bergstrom and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marquardt in research, locating and collecting pictures and compiling directories of students and teachers, is now ready for distribution.

The 87-page book, which is plastic bound, has been printed by the Gazette-Times. It centers around the Heppner school reunion, held in 1965, and contains a total of 207 pictures. Included are former teachers and students, historical pictures, pictures of the reunion, and 48 pictures of deceased students and teachers in the dedication section.

The publication includes a history of Heppner, taken from 'Yesteryears of Morrow' and it also includes a complete account of proceedings at the 1965 reunion.

More than 700 former students are listed in the directory and many former teachers are also listed. While the lists are not complete, it includes all those for whom the Bergstroms and Marquardts could find current addresses.

The book was a sizeable undertaking, and there is a considerable cost investment in it. It was the aim of the Marquardts to offer a book that would be cherished by former teachers and students of the school.

Because of an expected limited demand, only 300 copies were prepared, and no more can be published.

Sorority Holds Two Interesting Meetings

Beta Omega Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority held its January meeting at the home of Mrs. Clyde Pettyjohn, with Mrs. Roy A. Lindstrom as co-hostess.

Mrs. Pettyjohn and Mrs. Lindstrom provided the educational program on Alaska. Alaskan crab salad and sour dough bread were served.

The social of the month was held at the home of Mrs. Roy A. Lindstrom. The Gold Rush Days were celebrated, with appropriate games played. The table centerpiece was a replica of a gold miner's gold pan, pick shovel and other tools.

Philanthropic projects successfully completed recently by the sorority included the sending of Christmas boxes to boys serving in Vietnam and gifts to patients at the State Hospital in Pendleton. Donations are still gratefully accepted to add to the fund which will be used to provide a water softener for Pioneer Memorial hospital.

Pfeiffer Tells of Antarctic Operation

John F. Pfeiffer, who is participating in "Operation Deepfreeze" with the Coast Guard, tells of his experiences in an interesting letter to the Gazette-Times under date of January 15. The operation has taken those on the U.S.S. Staten Island, an icebreaker, to the Antarctica via New Zealand. Pfeiffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pfeiffer of Heppner and a graduate of Heppner High school with the class of 1965, is serving on the Staten Island.

"It has been a long haul for myself and the crew of the Coast Guard cutter Staten Island during the past four months since we left Seattle," Pfeiffer wrote. "I am going to try to give a vivid description of what life is like on a trouble-plagued icebreaker."

"I came aboard the Staten Island on the 19th of January, 1966, knowing that I would have a lot of work to do during the next two years I was to be aboard her. And work we had. We overhauled our ten engines, had a flight deck installed along with a hangar, replaced all the radio and electronic gear, had three of our blowers and two generators on our main engines overhauled, and a mast replaced.

"Upon completion of this around the first of September, we began loading supplies and fuel for the long trip south."

"We began our cruise on the 22nd of September, headed for San Francisco, and arrived there the 26th. The 30 Sept. we left San Francisco and arrived in San Diego the 2nd of Oct. The next leg of our journey saw us on the way to New Zealand but we had to head for Hawaii because our evaporator stopped making water and No. 3 main engine burned a generator. (And, by the way, these generators aren't like the ones in cars; they weigh approximately 12,000 pounds). After both these were fixed, we left for New Zealand and once again the evaporator quit, and it hasn't been running since! We arrived in New Zealand on the 22nd of November and stayed six days before departing to McMurdo station, Antarctica. And finally, on the 2nd of December, we began to break ice while the H.M.S. Endeavor, a New Zealand tanker, followed us. The CGC Glacier and the CGC Eastwind then helped us escort the Endeavor into McMurdo. Two days later, when the Endeavor had unloaded, the Staten Island and the Glacier took her back into open waters and picked up and escorted the Towle, a cargo ship owned by the Navy, into McMurdo.

"The Glacier then left for New Zealand for repairs and supplies. When the Towle had unloaded, the Eastwind and the Staten Island escorted her to open waters and the Eastwind left for New Zealand for supplies. We proceeded back to McMurdo Station to pick up scientists and to wait for the Atlanta, another New Zealand tanker, to make her way to McMurdo. By this time we had an open water channel all the way from the Ross Sea to McMurdo, so we didn't have to escort the Atlanta to McMurdo.

"After the Atlanta had unloaded, we left for Franklin Island to drop off our scientists and we then proceeded to Hallett Station to begin evacuating the personnel there. Then we went back to Franklin Island, picked up the scientists we had earlier dropped off there, and we started to begin our oceanographic work.

"On the 12th of January, 1967, we arrived back at McMurdo along with the Endeavor. Tomorrow, the 17th of January, we are leaving for New Zealand for two weeks of rest and relaxation. Then we have to come back to McMurdo to deliver supplies and then finish evacuating Hallett Station.

"After completing some more oceanographic work we will proceed to Seattle, Wash., and it will be a welcome sight for all. The date for our expected return is April 15, 1967."

"If anyone wishes to write to me, don't hesitate, for I'll be happy to receive all the letters I get, along with my copies of the Heppner Gazette-Times. Sincerely, John F. Pfeiffer, C.G.C. Staten Island, c/o FPO, San Francisco, California 96601."

Native Resident, Andrew Ivan Cox, Dies in California

Andrew Ivan Cox, who was born and raised in Heppner, died in San Jose, Calif., on January 7, after a lingering illness, according to word received from his son, Harold R. Cox, with whom he had made his home since 1950. He had been in failing health the past two and one half years.

Funeral services were held in Chico, Calif., followed by interment in the Chico Cemetery. His wife, Ruby, preceded him in death in 1949.

A native of this area, he was born in Heppner on May 22, 1886, the son of Lottie Lane and Benjamin F. Cox. He resided in Morrow county until 1909, was a resident of Grant and Baker counties before moving to Chico, Calif. in 1945. He had been employed as a carpenter in Southern California, and had made his home during recent years with his son in Oakland, Calif.

Survivors include the son Harold Cox of Oakland, Floyd Cox of Anaheim, Calif., Gail Cox of the USAF, and Mrs. Joann Greco of San Jose, Calif. Also a sister, Mrs. Floy Bowerman of Seal Rock, Ore., and four grandchildren.

Death in California Takes Early Pioneer

Coming as a shock to relatives and friends was the sudden death of Mrs. Irene (Fraters) Marciel on Wednesday, January 25, at the home of her daughter in Pleasanton, Calif.

Irene Fraters was born in Morrow County on May 3, 1904, the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fraters, pioneer Eight-mile farmers, where she grew up and attended school. She was married to Supreme Marciel of San Leandro, Calif., in 1926 and lived all her married life there. He preceded her in death in 1963.

Surviving are two children, a daughter, Shirley DeDito, and one son, Emanuel Marciel; seven grandchildren, two brothers, Charles Fraters, Pocatello, Idaho, and Tom Fraters of Grass Valley; a nephew, Elmer Burnside of Grass Valley; one sister, Cella Needham of Citrus Heights, Calif., and numerous other relatives in Eastern Oregon and California.

Mrs. Marciel had often visited in Heppner at the home of Mrs. Lucille Parrish and with other friends here.

--ONLY 30 DAYS LEFT--

Personal property taxpayers are required to file a return of taxable property as of January 1, 1967 with the Assessor on or before March 2, 1967. A penalty is provided for late filing.

Inventory owners (including all livestock) will again be eligible for a reduction of property tax this year if the return is filed on time. The law does not permit the Assessor to allow the reduction in inventory value for tax relief under certain circumstances when the personal property report is not accurately prepared or is filed after March 2.

Any person who has not had an opportunity to report by mail or personal contact may obtain the forms at the office of the assessor.

Time is getting short. ORS 308.290 makes it the responsibility of the taxpayer to file these reports on time or incur the penalty provided by law.
