Church Women Hear Of Work in Orient By Wheat Associates

Mrs. Douglas Drake presented a documentary on work being done in the Orient by Western Wheat Associates at a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Heppner Methodist church Wednesday, February 1, in the church.

Through colored slides and tape recorded commentary, members learned that Western Wheat Associates work not only to broaden the market for western wheat, but also to improve the diet of people in India, the Philippines, Japan and Pakistan through cooperating with Church World Service and government school lunch programs as well as independent promotional work.

Mrs. Bob Henry, president, presided at the meeting and Mrs. Jack Krieger was in charge of devotions.

Members brought enough home-baked cookies to send Valentine boxes to 25 students and service men away from home.

Special pre-Easter meetings during the week of February 27 were announced. To enable everyone to participate in the special meetings, the program for the March WSCS meeting has been moved ahead to February 22 at 8 p.m. in the church.

Hostesses for last Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. Effie Johnson and Mrs. Lincoln Nash.

A potluck dinner which began at 7 p.m. preceded the entertainment.

Members welcomed Ed LaTrace as a guest at the meeting.

Bloodsworth-Anderson Marriage Vows Exchanged at St. Patrick's Church

Barbara Ellen Bloodsworth and David Jon Anderson exchanged marriage vows at an impressive church ceremony on Sunday afternoon, February 5, at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bloodsworth and parents of the groom are former Heppner residents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Anderson, now of Niamey, Niger, Africa.

The Rev. Father Raymond H. Beard officiated at the 2:00 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Floral arrangements of white chrysanthemums and white stock were combined with white tapers on the altar.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attractively crowned in white floor length peau de sole, fashioned with flowing chapel train. Large embossed roses were appliqued around the edge of the train, along the front neckline of the gown and at each point of the long, tapered sleeves. Her shoulder length illusion veil was held in place by a large white rose, edged in seed pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of cascading white spider chrysanthemums, centered with a white rosebud corsage which was worn later with her going-away ensemble.

Miss Kay Daggett, close friend and classmate, attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaid for her sister was Denise Bloodsworth. Both attendants wore matching floor length gowns of ice blue satin, with matching headpieces and shoulder length veils. They carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums with light blue streamers.

Lighting the altar tapers before the ceremony were Dennis O'Donnell and Rick Johnston.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Mrs. Herman Stroeber, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Dale Holland as she dedicated two vocal numbers to the honor couple.

Serving as best man was Stuart Dick, long time friend of the groom.

Head usher was Doug Anderson, brother of the groom. Other ushers were Kit Anderson, brother of the groom, Bill Snyder, Heppner, and Steve Carnine, Condon.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bloodsworth chose to wear a wool sheath afternoon dress of teal blue with black accessories, and a white carnation corsage.

The newlyweds greeted their many friends and relatives at a reception immediately following in the parish hall. The bride's chosen wedding colors of ice blue and white were effectively carried out on the bride's table and about the rooms.

Centering the large refreshment table was a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bells and rosebuds, with dainty pink rosebuds and tiny bells decorating the layers of the cake. At each side of the cake were tall white tapers, with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and white stock.

After the couple shared the first piece, the cake was served by Mrs. Gary Linton, sister of the groom, and Mrs. William J. Doherty.

Pouring were Mrs. Roger Campbell and Mrs. Buster Padberg, both aunts of the bride, Mrs. William Owen and Mrs. Calvin Yackley, both aunts of the groom, and Mrs. Charles Bloodsworth, grandmother of the bride.

Presiding at the guest book was Miss Pam McCabe, and at the gift table were Misses Donna Potter and Marsha Sowell.

A group of hostesses, Mrs. Jerry Daggett, Mrs. Roy Martin, Mrs. Ernest McCabe, Mrs. Creston Robinson and Mrs. Nona Sowell, were in charge of the reception arrangements.

Of particular joy to the young couple was a special cablegram received Saturday evening from Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, parents of the groom, expressing their special blessings and congratulations.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Anderson changed to a navy and white coat and dress ensemble, with navy and white accessories, and the white rosebud corsage. They left for a short wedding trip to California. Upon their return, they will reside in the trailer home on the William J. Doherty ranch. Both will continue in school.

The bride will graduate in May from Heppner High school. Following his return from Europe last year, the groom attended Oregon State University and is presently enrolled at Blue Mountain College in Pendleton. Both will attend BMCC next year, then transfer to Oregon State University, where David is an agriculture major.

Among relatives coming from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. William Owen and Beth Anne of Seattle, Wa., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Anderson and Christy of North Bend, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Yackley of Renton, Wa., Mr. and Mrs. Gary Linton and Lorie and Kit Anderson, of Milwaukie, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Walker of Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bloodsworth of Hermiston.

Also, Mrs. Les Marks of Fossil, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wright of Pendleton, Doug Anderson and Carl Bauman, both of U of O, Eugene, Stuart Dick and Jean Healy, both of EOC in La Grande, Steve Carnine, Condon, and others from Echo, Lone, and other nearby towns.
