No Skiing Easter; Resumes April 2

There will be no skiing Easter Sunday at the Arbuckle Mountain course, L. E. (Ed) Dick of the board of directors announces. The tow will not be operating at that time.

Snow remains good on the mountain, and the course will be in operation again on Sunday, April 2, Dick said. Jaycooses are doing the work of operating the tow and providing concessions.

A fine turnout came to ending skiing at the course Sunday, Dick reported, and if the weather holds cool enough so that snow is not melted, another good day is expected on April 2.

Easter Egg Hunts Set For Kiddies

Easter egg hunts in three locations are planned for children here Saturday morning, according to David McLeod, entertainment chairman for the sponsoring Heppner Elks' lodge No. 358.

Children from all over Morrow county of ages through the fourth grade are invited to participate. There will be enough candy eggs to fill the sacks of 500 children in all.

Hunts will start precisely at 10 a.m. at each of the three locations, divided according to age group.

Pre-school children will have their hunt at the city park on Main street.

First and second graders will hunt at the courthouse lawn.

Third and fourth graders will find their eggs on the lower field at Heppner Grade school.

Glen Ward will be in charge of the pre-school hunt, Darrell Padgett and Shorty Hudson will conduct the hunt for first and second graders, and Bill Gentry and McLeod will supervise the hunt for the third and fourth graders. Jerry Daggett, exalted ruler for the lodge, is assisting McLeod with arrangements.

"We welcome kids from all parts of the county," McLeod emphasized. He stressed that they should be on hand, ready to go, at 10 a.m. because it is planned to start the hunts promptly.

Melby Resigns School Position

Arnold Melby, band instructor and teacher in Heppner schools, submitted his resignation to the directors of Morrow County School District R-1 at a special meeting in Lexington last Wednesday. The board accepted his resignation. Melby has held the position since 1958.

A delegation was present at the meeting to ask for the dismissal of Tom Hughes, Heppner elementary teacher, but the board acted neither favorably or unfavorably on a new contract. Because of Hughes' tenure in the system the board's non-action gives the elementary teacher an automatic one-year renewal of his contract. If the board had approved a contract for Hughes, it would have been for a 3-year period by virtue of his tenure.

Melby's resignation is the fifth in the county system this year.

Gala Time Slated At Band Carnival Here on April 1

Prizes, a dance, games, booths and a good dinner are promised all who attend the Heppner PTA and Band Carnival being given Saturday, April 1, at the Morrow County Fair Pavilion.

"This is a good opportunity for all the family to have a night out with some kind of entertainment for everybody," Mrs. Clyde Allstott, grade school PTA president, said.

Some lucky person will come home with the main prize of the night, a beautiful new typewriter, or one of the door prizes to be given out during the evening.

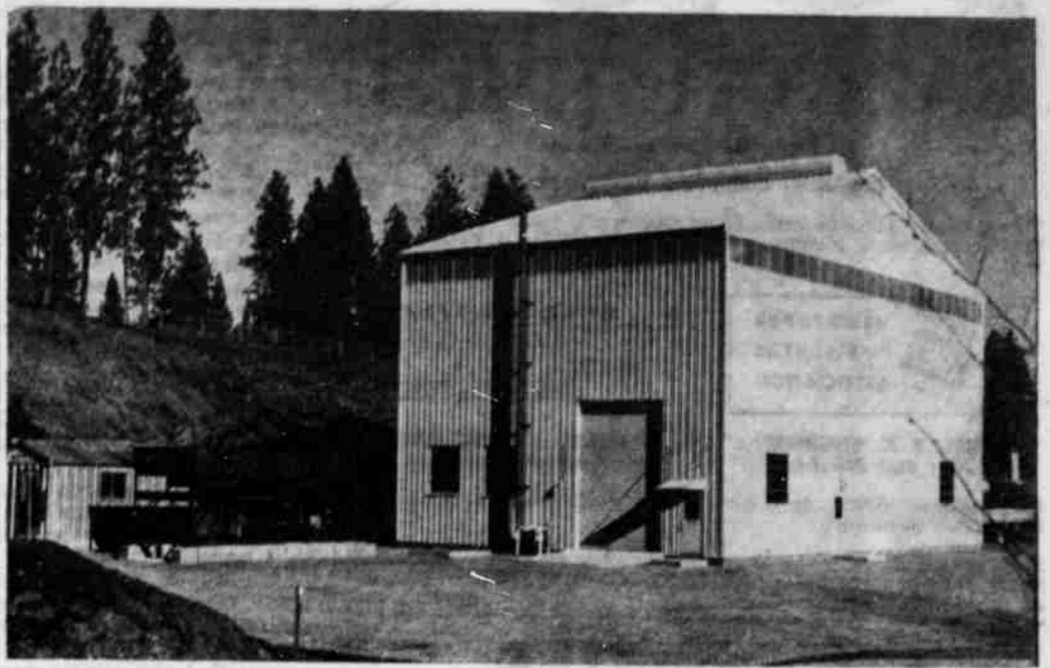

According to present plans this year's carnival will begin at 5:30 p.m. with the serving of a dinner by the high school under the direction of the high school room mothers. Charge for the dinner will be $1.00 for adults and 50c for children 12 and under.

Carnival time will be 6:30 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. The American Legion plans to supervise games while the grade school will operate a number of booths and the high school student council will maintain an enlarged General Store. Scrip tickets for carnival attractions will be on sale at 10c a ticket.

Winners of the king and queen contests for the high school and the grade school will be crowned at the carnival. These contests are between pairs elected by vote with the winners being decided on the basis of money donations. There will be a winning pair from the high school, and one for the 5th through the 8th grades.

The Henchmen, a well-known local band, will play for a dance following the carnival from 10:30 until 1:30. Charge for the dance will be $1.50 per person.

Members of the PTA Joint Ways and Means committee who are working on the carnival are Mrs. Jerry Sweeney, Mrs. Joe Balfe, Mrs. Jack Sumner, Mrs. Tim Moore, Mrs. Albert Wright, Mrs. Bill Cox and Mrs. Don Munkers.

Ground Work Starts On Ione Pump Plant

Pacific Gas Transmission Company broke ground near Ione Monday, March 20, for its new compressor station, Central Area Superintendent C. W. (Chet) Bond announced.

A crew for E. S. Schnell and Ray D. Kalal, Hermiston contractors, began work on the access road and grading at the station site about one and a half miles southwest of Ione.

Contracts for the fabrication of station piping and other materials will be announced later, Bond said. This phase of the work will likely not begin until May, with installation of the General Electric gas-fueled, 6,000-horsepower turbine-compressor package to follow during the summer.

Ione Compressor Station (Station 9 in PGT's numbering system) is one of six new compressor units being installed in the company's $13.9 million 1966-67 expansion program. Estimated cost of the Ione Station is $2,369,000.

The new station will help boost deliveries of Canadian natural gas to California. Present deliveries, now averaging about 515 million cubic feet per day, will increase to about 615 million cubic feet next winter.

The turbine at the new station will be similar to a jet aircraft engine, Bond said. For fuel, a pipeline turbine uses natural gas taken from the pipeline, a gas-air mixture is burned and hot gases resulting from this combustion flow across the turbine "buckets," or blades, causing the turbine shaft to spin. The shaft drives a compressor wheel, which compresses the pipeline gas by whirling at speeds up to 6,900 revolutions per minute.

Completion of the Ione Station is scheduled for November 1. It will be started, stopped and adjusted by remote control from Spokane by means of signals.

Father of Year Nominations Due

Nominations for this year's "Father of the Year" must be in by April 1, it is announced by Mrs. Frank Anderson, chairman of this year's CowBelle Father of the Year committee.

Applications have been sent out to youth groups and organizations for their recommendations of persons for this year's honor, Mrs. Anderson reports, but any who have not been contacted are asked to get in touch with her before the deadline date.

Co-ops Schedule Vote on Merger

Meetings of the members of Lexington Oil Cooperative and Morrow County Grain Growers, Inc., are scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, March 29, in the Lexington Grange hall for the purpose of voting on the proposed merger of the cooperatives, it is announced.

The meeting of the oil cooperative will convene at 2 p.m. at the hall, and the MCGG meeting is called for 3 p.m.

If the membership of the Lexington Oil Co-op votes favorably on the merger, the Morrow County Grain Growers members will also vote on the plan. If they, too, are in favor, steps will be continued to effect the merger.

However, if the oil cooperative votes against the merger, the MCGG members will not cast ballots on the proposal.

If either cooperative is against the proposal, the plan will be shelved.

Al Bunch, president, will be in charge of the oil cooperative meeting and Walter Jacobs, president of MCGG, will be in charge of the grain growers meeting.

County Conference On Civil Defense Scheduled Today

An all-day special conference on Civil Defense will open at 9 a.m. today (Thursday), March 23, in the Elks' Temple, Heppner, emphasizing disaster preparedness for the county and municipal governments.

Registration is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. Sheriff C. J. D. Bauman said that it is hoped that some 60 persons will attend the conference, which will be similar in nature to a conference held here about a year ago. Invitations have been sent to many officials and leaders throughout the county.

Included will be persons who have some sort of "action" responsibility under disaster conditions (such as floods or "high wind alerts"), as well as individuals who are interested in extending knowledge and understanding of emergency conditions to the public.

The morning (9:00 a.m. — 12:00 noon) portion of the county-sponsored program will be presented by the Division of Continuing Education, while the afternoon (1:00—3:00 p.m.) segment will be directed by the Federal Cooperative Extension Service of Oregon State University.

The Continuing Education portion will include background material for participants on current national civil defense activities.

Topics pertinent to the needs of each Morrow County community for disaster readiness will be discussed, such as emergency operations, program management, community shelter planning, and public information.

Two Eugene men, both faculty members of the Division of Continuing Education, will give background information and lead discussion. They are Leonard J. Chase and Louis D. Farnsworth, both consultants in civil defense education.

Elwood Miller, rural defense specialist for the Cooperative Extension Service, will direct the afternoon exercise, which has been designed to help those participating better understand the relationship between their local U. S. Department of Agriculture Defense Board and the Morrow County government, as each is affected when faced with an emergency situation.

Information-Education staff members of the Cooperative Extension Service will assist Miller, and persons attending the morning segment of the conference will be invited to observe and analyze the afternoon activity.

PRINCESS BARBARA GRIBBLE

Arlington Picks Two Morrow Girls For Royal Court

Barbara Gribble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Gribble of Heppner, and Janet Palmateer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Palmateer of Ione, have been selected to serve as princesses on the Arlington Rodeo court, it is announced.

Princess Barbara graduated from Heppner High school with the class of 1966 and is attending Eastern Oregon College this year as a freshman.

Princess Janet is a junior at Ione High school. Both princesses are brunettes. Janet is 17 years of age and Barbara is 18.

The two Morrow county girls will serve on the court with Queen Trudi Brooks of Arlington who was crowned at a dinner and dance at Mikkaloo Grange Saturday night. Parents of both of the Morrow county princesses were in attendance. Queen Trudi is 16 years of age and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les Brooks of Olex.

Princess Janet has been riding since she was a small child, has belonged to local 4-H horse clubs, and has been a pennant bearer for the Morrow county Rodeo for three years. She will ride her quarter horse, "Flicka," for her rodeo appearances at the Arlington rodeo grounds on May 6 and 7.

Princess Barbara has been a member of the Wranglers club with her family ever since they came to Heppner in 1953. She is believed to be the first member of the Wranglers to be chosen a princess in the Arlington rodeo. Like Princess Janet, she has been a pennant bearer at the Morrow county Rodeo for a number of years and will ride her registered appaloosa, "Red-dy Whip," in the May 6-7 show. Barbara was a cheerleader at Heppner High school, co-editor of the school paper and was on the honor roll.
