Grand OES Officers Guests of Chapters At District Meeting

A district meeting of Locust Chapter No. 119 of Ione and Ruth Chapter No. 32 of Heppner was held at the Ione Masonic hall on Tuesday evening, March 14.

Among distinguished guests present was Mrs. Margery Jones, worthy grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Oregon, who was making an official visit.

Also escorted and introduced were Mrs. Florence Rogers, grand chaplain, and Mrs. Verna Christal, grand organist, both of Portland; Mrs. Virginia Wilkinson, Heppner, chairman of the ESTARL scholarship committee; and Mrs. Dot Halvorsen, Ione, member of the Knights Templar Eye Foundation committee.

Presiding in the East were Mrs. E. R. Schaffer and Lewis Halvorsen, worthy matron and patron of Locust Chapter, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hughes, worthy patron and matron of Ruth Chapter.

An addendum was given honoring Mrs. Jones and a gift of appreciation was presented her from both chapters.

A planned potluck dinner was served preceding the meeting at tables attractively decorated in the St. Patrick's Day theme.

Correct Storage Of Food Items Saves Dollars

By MARJORIE WILCOXEN
County Extension Agent

You wouldn't think of tossing dollar bills or a bottle of vitamins in the garbage can, but that is what many of us are literally doing every day. The reasoning for this is that due to improper storage of many costly food items we are unable to use part of them or the flavor and nutrient value is greatly reduced.

Protein foods such as meat, poultry, and fish should be stored in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

In the past, the recommended procedure was to take meat and poultry out of the packages in which they were purchased, and wrap loosely for refrigerator storage. If the market uses the special transparent wrap which allows some oxygen to enter the package and which controls moisture losses, this is unnecessary. (It is necessary for fresh meat and poultry to have some oxygen). However, some people prefer to remove the store wrappings because meat will occasionally adhere to a cardboard container.

The amount of cut surface has an influence on the keeping quality of the meat. Ground meats, such as hamburger and fresh bulk sausage, are more perishable than roasts, chops, and steaks because more of the cut surface has been exposed to contamination from air, handling and mechanical equipment. Use ground meat within one or two days, or freeze for longer storage. Fish and poultry also have a short storage life—usually one or two days.

Cooked meats should be cooled quickly—preferably in a pan of cold water, then refrigerated promptly. Store covered.

Fresh milk and cream should also be stored in covered containers in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Milk should not be exposed to light or left standing in a warm place. Exposure to sun impairs the flavor and the riboflavin content of the milk.

Eggs lose quality quickly if not refrigerated. Buy eggs from refrigerated storage in retail stores and promptly place in refrigerator at home. Eggs left uncovered lose moisture and can pick up off-flavors. Therefore, eggs should be stored in a covered container. The original egg cartons are unsatisfactory for refrigerator storage.

Bread should be stored in original wrapper in clean, well-ventilated breadbox. It stays fresh longer at room temperature than in the refrigerator. However, in hot, humid weather the refrigerator will protect the bread against mold.

Breads can be frozen in their original wrappers if storage is only for a week or so. For a longer time, tuck into a freezer bag or add an overwrap of freezer paper.

Shop for quality, store it right and enjoy cooking and eating the best food ever.

Many Here to View Ordination Ceremony For Rev. Rinehart

Heppner's All Saints' Episcopal church saw its first ordination in 18 years Friday evening, March 17, when the Rev. Dirk Rinehart was ordained priest of the Protestant Episcopal church.

Officiant and celebrant for the ancient ceremony was the Rt. Rev. Lane W. Barton, Bishop of the Missionary District of Eastern Oregon. He was assisted by the Rev. Rusty Kimsey, Redmond, brother-in-law of Rev. Rinehart, who preached the sermon, and by the Rev. Armand Larive of Nyssa who presented the candidate.

Grant Rinehart, Nyssa, father of Rev. Rinehart, read the epistle, the Rev. Richard Payne, Pendleton, read the Gospel, and Robert Abrams read the Litany. Ushers were Dick Tensen, Nyssa, and Jack Loyd, Robbie Abrams, David Gunderson, Terry Hughes, Jim Schaffitz and Steven Jones assisted. Mrs. Rinehart was organist for her husband's ordination.

Among those coming for the ordination were the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant H. Rinehart; grandmother, Mrs. Olivia Rinehart, sister Miss Triena Rinehart, all of Nyssa; two other sisters, Miss Jan Rinehart, Gold Beach, and Mrs. Rustin Kimsey, Redmond. Also Mrs. Robert Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Dick G. Tensen and daughter Barbara, and Mr. and Mrs. John Broad, all of Nyssa, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore of Portland.

Mrs. Florence Dana, grandmother of Mrs. Rinehart, flew from Falls Church, Va., for the ordination, and Mrs. Rinehart's sister, Gretchen Edler, came from Washington State University in Pullman.

Young Troupe Plays To Large Audience

Playing to a capacity audience in the parish hall of All Saints' Episcopal church, the "road company" of the musical revue "For Heavens Sake" received enthusiastic curtain calls after its performance March 14.

According to Mrs. Dirk Rinehart, who helped to plan the original production during a church camp in the summer of 1966, the play was much improved from those original performances.

Fifteen high school students made up the traveling troupe accompanied by the Rev. Robt. ParLOUR of Bend, and the Rev. Armand Larive of Nyssa, and a chaperone for the girls.

Mrs. John Jackson Card Party Hostess

Mrs. Johnnie Jackson of Rhea Creek entertained with a card party Tuesday, March 14.

Winning prizes were Mrs. Bill Nichols, high; Mrs. Charles Coley, 300 pinocle and the door prize; and Mrs. Beverly Hatter, low. Others enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. Joe Yocom, Mrs. Johnny Edwards, Mrs. David Barnett, and Mrs. Don Ball.

Five of the Jacksons' eight granddaughters were present, including Debby and Cindy Barnett, and Charlotte, Joyce and Barbara Jean Hatter.

Church Youth Travel To See Bible Movie

The junior and senior high school classes of the Ione United Church of Christ enjoyed a trip to Portland March 12 to see the movie, "The Bible". Junior high members attending were Christine McCabe, Cathy Cannon, Kathy Holtz, Brock Linnell, Rick Barnett, and Rick Boyce. Those from the senior high class in attendance were Keith Nelson, Chuck Nelson, Virgil Morgan, Terry Cannon, Berniece Matthews, Denece Matthews, Bonnie Hynd, Kristin Nelson, Teresa Tucker, Connie Emert, Wilma Follett, Karen Nelson, and Sharlene Hamlett.

The group met at the First Congregational church in downtown Portland for a worship service and lunch. While there they were joined by the junior high class of the Congregational Church, who accompanied them to the movie.

Miss Ruth Bailey, Conference Christian Education Director, also stopped by to greet the group and welcome them to Portland.

Those accompanying the classes and providing transportation were Mrs. Norman Nelson, Mrs. Fred Nelson, Don Bristow, Rollo Crawford, Robert Rietmann, and their teachers, Mrs. Henry Krebs and Mrs. Robert Rietmann.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gonty and son Doug, accompanied by Mrs. Avery Taylor and children Christie, Peggy and Avery Jo and David Hughes attended the Gem and Mineral show at Richard Wn., on Sunday, March 19. Also going up for the show were Mr. and Mrs. Walt Edger.

Episcopal Women Sponsor Card Party

Episcopal Church women of All Saints' Episcopal church in Heppner plan their annual Easter Monday card party for 8:00 p.m. on March 27 in the church parish hall.

Both bridge and pinocle will be played following the serving of dessert. Prizes will be awarded at the close of the evening.

Mrs. LeVerne Van Marter, Jr. is general chairman for the party with Mrs. Gene Rietmann and Mrs. Gene Hall, bridge committee; Mrs. Robert Mahoney, Mrs. Forrest Burkenbine and Mrs. Omer Huster, pinocle committee; Mrs. Elwayne Bergstrom, posters, and Mrs. Howard Cleveland and Mrs. Van Marter forming the kitchen committee.

Altar Society Party To Honor Member

Mrs. Stella O'Meara will be honored at a farewell coffee hour in the social room of St. Williams Catholic church, Ione, on Thursday afternoon, March 30, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Members of the Altar Society are the hostesses.

After many years of residence in Ione, Mrs. O'Meara is moving to Harrington, Wash., to be near relatives. She will continue to rent her apartments in Ione.

All friends are cordially invited to attend.
