

TEACHERS just about outdid the kids at Heppner: Elementary school Dressup Day Friday — the day before April Fool's Day. One might recognize Phyllis Diller here, impersonated by Mrs. Judy Gochbauer, seventh grade teacher, or Mr. Spock of Star Trek fame with his pointed ears as depicted by Clifford Williams, eighth grade teacher. They say the big guy at the right represents a hill billy, but he looks somewhat like a character from the Wizard of Oz. Ordinarily, he is known as Clint Agnes, seventh grade teacher. Carnival Tops Those of Past

Co-chairmen Mrs. Clyde Allstott and Mrs. Marshall Lovgren were busy this week tying up loose ends after the most successful school carnival most parents and students could remember. Profits, with bills and expenses paid, now amount to $840 dollars which will be divided equally among the three sponsoring organizations, the high school PTA, grade school PTA and Band Parents for use in providing scholarships.

Biggest factor in the success of the carnival was cooperative effort of so many parents, teachers and students tackling the many jobs involved, according to Mrs. Allstott. "Many Heppner merchants also deserve thanks for their help in giving discounts and donating merchandise," she said.

Mrs. Tim Moore, Mrs. W. H. Wolf, Mrs. Bill Heath, Mrs. Jack Healy, Mrs. Marshall Lovgren and Mrs. Jim Lovgren formed the committee for the dinner where over 200 people were served early in the evening.

A calling committee made up of Mrs. Jerry Sweeney, Mrs. Joe Balfe, Mrs. Bob Benson and Mrs. Allstott organized parent help in decorating and preparing booths during the carnival. This committee also met earlier and did the prize purchasing for the carnival.

The Henchmen, who contributed half the profits from their dance following the carnival, attracted over 240 persons to make a real success out of this late evening addition to the program.

Tom Hughes operated the dunk tank and Paul Warren was in charge of assembling all the booths, dunk tank and other carnival equipment. He was assisted both in the setting-up and the clean-up by the gym classes of the Junior high school.

King and Queen who reigned over the evening were the seventh grade candidates, Donna Bradley and Charlie Pointer. Seventh graders and the rest of the grade school participants contributed $136.50 in competing to elect their candidates.

Winner of the main prize for the evening, a portable typewriter, was Becky Doherty. Other prizes were a clock, won by Hubert Wilson; a 30-cup coffee pot, won by Mrs. Jerry Sweeney; and a tape recorder, won by Mrs. Gene Pierce. Cash prizes for selling the most tickets for the main prize were won by Tommy Hughes and Billie June Marquardt. The sophomore class collected the most merchandise for the Country Store and won $10 to add to the class fund.

8th Grade Orientation Slated for High School

Heppner eighth graders will be introduced to high school life and routine in a program being planned this year by Principal Dick Carpenter and the high school staff in cooperation with Principal Al Martin of the elementary school and the grade school faculty.

Under the plan, which will be outlined to parents at a PTA meeting Wednesday, April 12, the eighth graders will spend a total of two days at the high school in the week of April 17-21. Then Mrs. Violet Lanham of the high school faculty will go to the grade school for probably two days to conduct pre-registration among the eighth graders who will enter Heppner High as freshmen next fall.

A special tabloid-size paper is being published through the cooperation of the high school journalism class this week to outline information concerning next year's schedule, course offerings and outlining the registration plan. It is to be ready for distribution at the PTA meeting.

"By putting more emphasis on pre-registration we should have all schedules published for next year before school is over this year," Carpenter said. "All assignments should be made before the end of this school year."

All indications are that teacher turnover will be very light at Heppner High, and each student will probably know who his teachers will be, as well as what his class schedule will be, before he is dismissed for summer vacation.

At the PTA meeting Wednesday night at 8 p.m. in the high school, each high school teacher will give a 5-minute explanation of his program and an outline of the plan of pre-registration and orientation of incoming students will be presented. Eighth grade parents are particularly invited and urged to attend, but the program will be of keen interest to all parents.

Among those who will speak are: Mrs. Lanham, guidance and testing; Doris Brosnan, English; Kirk Horn, science; Elmer Weitzel, math; Rachel Dick, reading and journalism; Madge Thomson, library; Adrian Cook, social science; Bernice Struckmeier, business education; Hal Whitaker and Ed Hiemstra, vocational classes; and Bob Clough, athletics and physical education.

Eighth graders will come to the high school Monday, April 17, for a general assembly at 9 a.m. Talks of welcome and introduction will be given by Carpenter, Mrs. Lanham and Jim Jacobs, Heppner High student body president.

The next year's freshmen will be briefed on registration procedure; on a testing program to be conducted Wednesday and Thursday, April 19 and 20; on an algebraic aptitude test that will be given at 10 a.m. Monday; on physical exams that must be taken before September 5; and on the school's guidance and counseling program.

Following the algebraic aptitude test at 10, final comments will be made to the eighth

College Budget Shows Increase; Hearing April 12

Like most school budgets, the Blue Mountain Community College budget for 1967-68 shows some increase over the current year principally because of planned increases in staff salaries.

The budget calls for a total tax levy, spread over the two-county district of Morrow and Umatilla, of $355,031, of which $435,031 is outside the 6% limitation and $120,000 is not subject to the 6% limitation. The latter figure is the special serial levy that was voted by the people for the college construction program.

Last year's tax levy was $455,832. Total budget requirements for the coming year are figured at $1,260,014 for the fast-growing college, as compared with $1,017,102 for the current year. Budget resources are expected to be up, being placed at $729,983 for 1967-68 as compared with $581,270 for the current year.

The budget has been approved by the Blue Mountain Area Education district budget committee of which Robert E. Zerba is chairman. Russell Dorran is chairman of the district board of directors.

Hearing on budget is scheduled for April 12 at 8 p.m. at 225 S. W. First Street, Pendleton, and anyone in the two-county district is invited to appear at that time to speak for or against the budget.

Election on the BMCC budget will be Monday, May 1, and will be concurrent with the Morrow county school district general election.

The BMCC budget is published on page 1, section 3, of this paper for the information of patrons in the district.

Mustangs Do Well At Willamette U.

By MAC HOSKINS

Next meet for Heppner High trackmen will be the Mac High Carnival of Speed, held Friday at Milton-Freewater.

Competing in a limited number of events, the Heppner cindersmen nevertheless came up with some creditable early-season performances at the giant Willamette Relays last Saturday.

The big Salem meet saw two relay efforts by the Mustangs. In the 140 (or quarter-mile) relay, Heppner took a second in its heat with a good 47.9 seconds time. Dean Kindle, Mark Tullis, Jim Jacobs and Dave Hall were the four Mustang contestants in this baton-passing event.

In the distance medley, which consists of a quarter-mile (440), half-mile (880), three-quarters-mile (1320), and mile, Heppner clocked an 11:49.5 time to cop sixth place in the race. Individual times in this relay included Jacobs' 59-second 440, Bill McLeod's 2:06 half-mile, Bill Wolf's 3:56 three-quarter-mile and Tim Smith's 4:44.4 mile time.

Best Mustang time in an individual event was posted by Dave Hall, who skimmed the high hurdles in 16.2, good enough for second-place in his heat.

Heppner's team score and placing was not available at press time.

Famous Phantoms Due for 'Battle' With Henchmen

One of the Northwest's outstanding musical combos—from the point of view of the younger set—will be in Heppner Friday night to compete with the increasingly-popular Henchmen in a "battle of the bands" at the fair pavilion.

The Phantoms, who include three young men from Indonesia and three from the Portland area, will match their musical prowess with the home-grown Henchmen, who have become one of Eastern Oregon's best known dance bands in the modern style.

On a tour of Eastern Oregon after a two weeks' engagement in Reno, Nev., the Phantoms have toured the western United States with the nationally-known combo, Paul Revere and The Raiders. The Phantoms also were featured recently in a story in a national magazine of interest to teen-agers.

In addition to their playing, the Phantoms wear costumes and put on a show while doing their instrumental music stint. In the "battle" the bands will play alternately at 15-minute intervals, the groups being set up at opposite ends of the dance floor.

The Henchmen include Roger Leonig, drums; Kathy Melby, organ; Jim Sherman, lead guitar; and Tim Smith, bass guitar. They have played throughout eastern Oregon and southeast Washington and have engaged in several "battles" with others which are considered topnotch combos. In each case they have proved to be fitting competition. The dance will start at 10 p.m. and will continue until 1 a.m. Admission will be $1.50 per person.

The three Indonesians fled from their strife-torn native country to settle in Portland. They became interested in music, became proficient at it and joined the three others in the Portland area to form the Phantoms. The combo includes three guitarists, an organist, drummer and vocalist. They go by the names of Steve, Geoffrey, Leo, Dennis, Rudie and Bryan.

Announcing Buick's new GS-340.

(The minipriced GS-400.)

If you read the papers, you know how great our new famous GS-400 is. (It's the one in the background.) And you also know you don't get a GS-400 for peanuts. It's a great car. But it's just a little rich for some people. So we set to work and designed the GS-340. It has a smaller engine (but the whole machine weighs less). Its interior is clean and simple and tasteful. And it has its own ornamentation, paint job (see the rally stripe and hood scoops), and, of course, all the GM safety features. So now you have a car that costs less than the GS-400, but one with its own special brand of excitement. How can you beat that kind of a combination?
