Linda Nichols Seated New Worthy Advisor Of Rainbow Assembly

IONE — At a lovely Rainbow ceremony, Linda Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nichols of Ione, became worthy advisor of Ione Assembly No. 89 at the Masonic Hall on Friday evening, May 12.

Installing officers included junior past worthy advisor, Bonnie Morgan as installing officer; Bonnie Hynd, grand representative of West Virginia in Oregon, as chaplain; Teresa Stefani as recorder; Mary Nichols as marshal and Terri O'Connor, newly appointed Grand Choir Member, as musician.

Linda chose the song "The Bible Tells Me So" as the theme for her term. It was sung during the crowning ceremony by Bonnie Hynd and Miss Rita Kerr. Mr. Nichols, escorted by the marshal, crowned his daughter.

Shirley Nichols and Debra Papineau were in charge of the programs. The guest book was tended by Connie Emert.

The beautiful tea table carried out Linda's colors of pink and white with an open Bible, spray of pink flowers and pink candies. Mrs. Nichols poured coffee and Mrs. Donald Ball served the punch. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Omar Rietmann, member of the Advisory Board.

Honored guests present were Mrs. Lorraine Irby of Arlington, grand deputy of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls, and Mrs. Lewis Halvorsen, mother advisor.

Elective officers installed were Teresa Tucker, worthy associate advisor; Willa Johnson, charity; Connie Emert, hope; Sharlene Hamlett, faith; Terri O'Connor, recorder; and Bonnie Akers, treasurer.

Appointive offices will be filled by the following girls for the summer term: Teresa Stefani, chaplain; Bonnie Morgan, drill leader; Nancy Ashurst, love; Debra Warren, nature; Tanya Tucker, immortality; Cindy Smith, fidelity; Mary Nichols, patriotism; Marsha Ball, service; Bonnie Hynd, confidential observer; Susan Jepsen, musician; and Jeri Krebs, choir director.

Attending the installation and reception were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Nichols of Lexington, Linda's grandparents; Mrs. Howard Keithley of Heppner, and Mrs. Fred Papineau of Lexington.

'Big Sisters' Host Incoming Freshmen Girls at Silver Tea

Springtime decorations and a gay dance exhibition highlighted the annual Girls' League Silver Tea in the high school cafeteria Friday afternoon, May 12.

Guests at the tea were eighth grade girls and their mothers, and mothers of girls now in high school. Each eighth grade girl was assigned a high school "big sister" to be her hostess for the tea and during her first high school year.

Delicious punch, coffee and cookies, specially made by the girls, were served from a table decorated with spring flowers. Sandy Matheny and Kathy Melby played piano music during the serving.

Kay Daggett, Girls' League president, welcomed the guests and presented "big sisters" who individually introduced their "little sisters" to the group.

Entertainment for the guests was a delightful program of folk dances, including the Hora from Israel, the Boston Two-step of the United States, and the Ace of Diamonds, a Danish dance. Jill Padberg, Martha Pierce, Teresa Harshman, Cheryl Britt, Linola Orwick, Ginny Clough, Sherrie O'Brien and Patti Holt performed the dances to the appropriate recorded music.

Mrs. James Hilderbrand was introduced as advisor of the Girls' League and received an ovation for her helpful service during the year.

A formal candlelight ceremony marked the installation of next year's officers by the outgoing officers. Officers for the coming year will be Rita Petty-John, president; Sue Greenup, vice-president; Nancy Campbell, secretary; and Helen Anderson, treasurer. Installing outgoing officers are Kay Daggett, president; Jan Hager, vice-president; Barbara Bloodworth Anderson, secretary, and Sue Greenup, treasurer.

Visiting over the Mother's Day week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Warren were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Devine and family of Madras; a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Warren of Pendleton, and a son, Art Warren and children. Granddaughter Barbara Devine is visiting her grandparents through this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Hughes recently purchased the N. D. Bailey property, and moved into their new residence last week. Mrs. Bailey, mother of Mrs. Hughes, now occupies one of the apartments on the same property.

Leora's job, primarily, was working with the kindergarten age children, which she enjoyed very much. Her roommate worked in adult education. Both found the teaching of proper manners was one of the most difficult, but generally found the villagers cooperative and responsive to their education programs.

Many of the souvenirs helped show some of the traditions and customs of the north people in their art and craft work, in hunting and fishing. Since it is such an isolated area, they must rely on the government to provide most of their livelihood.

VISTA Worker Tells Of Interesting Year At Club Luncheon

A year of interesting experiences while working under the VISTA program were recalled by Miss Leora Van Winkle in a talk last Thursday noon before members and guests of the Soroptimist club. She accompanied her talk with a fine collection of souvenirs and pictures which she brought with her on her return home from Alaska last month.

Three other guests were introduced prior to the program, Misses Linda Warren and Joy Miller, Heppner High school seniors, and Mrs. Ray McDowell. Mrs. Bill Johnson presided over the meeting, in the absence of Mrs. Wavel Wilkinson, president.

Radiating a personality of enthusiasm and pioneering spirit, which aided in seeing her through sometimes difficult winter months in the small, strange town in Alaska, Leora spoke of many quaint and almost unbelievable customs of the native Eskimo villagers. Living in very primitive surroundings, becoming accustomed to living primarily on fish, preserved and served in their variety of ways, were at first found difficult for the modern miss, and her constant VISTA companion, Arlene Buch of Philadelphia.

But they had named Alaska as their first choice in places to give their services, and were somewhat prepared through 9½ weeks of intensive training and screening at the University of Alaska, before being assigned to Hooper Bay, a little coastal village of 600 population, with three-fourths of them under the age of 16. Each home produced an average of 17 children.

At the club's business meeting May 4, discussion was held on the annual Senior Girls' Tea, which will be held Sunday afternoon, May 28, at the home of Mrs. Wilkinson. Volunteers were asked to help with registration at the Pioneer Memorial Picnic, also on Sunday, May 28.

Discussion was also held on the club's sponsoring a summer workshop scholarship for a high school girl who is preparing for a future career in teaching.

Robert Kelly was in Heppner from Thursday, May 11, until the following Tuesday to be with his family at their home on Hager St.

Mrs. Marshall Nelson and Mrs. Richard Van Roekel, both of Baker, were in Heppner Friday and Saturday of last week for a visit with their mother, Mrs. Larry Cook and Mr. Cook.

Sorority Entertains Guests at Banquet; Active Year Reviewed

"Springtime in Paris" was the theme of the annual Beta Omega banquet served to members and their husbands at the Wagon Wheel banquet room on Saturday evening. The decorations were cleverly carried out with a flower cart, flower place cards, an Eiffel Tower, and parasols.

Newly installed president, Mrs. Roy A. Lindstrom, paid tribute to the outgoing president, Mrs. Gene Rietmann and presented her with a gift of appreciation. Mrs. Arthur Lindstrom gave a resume of the year's activities and Mrs. Lindsay Kincaid gave the scrapbook, which she had made of the year's activities to Mrs. Rietmann. Mrs. Kincaid was given an award for her work on the scrapbook, which was entered in competition at the annual convention in Eugene.

In addition to Mrs. Lindstrom as president, other officers for the coming year will be Mrs. Ralph Kincaid, vice-president; Mrs. Gene Dockter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Arthur Lindstrom, treasurer; and Mrs. Kincaid, recording secretary.
