Chamber Members Both See, Hear Boeing Testing

Members of the Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce both saw and heard what is going on at the Boeing installation in the north end of the county when they took their field trip there on Monday, May 8. Many of them had never seen the testing facilities about which they had heard so much.

With Don Doerflinger, Boeing's manager in Morrow county as cordial host, the touring members witnessed a test run of a jet engine mounted on a stationary ground level pad. This was a part of the company's current noise suppression testing program.

After a word of caution from the manager about the noise that the engine would develop, most of the touring business people watched from the bus some 300 yards away. The engine started with a whine that grew progressively louder. After several minutes there was a loud bang—and a deafening roar followed for another few minutes until the engine was shut down.

Even from the distance of their viewing point, the chamber members couldn't talk—even by shouting—at the height of the run.

Doerflinger had explained that the engine develops 22,000 pounds of thrust, and it consumes 93 gallons of fuel per minute. A steel frame on which it stands provides information on the thrust.

In order to keep from blowing away the sandy soil by exhaust of the engine, the company hauled in 650 yards of rock to spread over the ground behind the test stand. But even so, at the height of the test, a good-sized dust cloud was whipped up by the turbulence.

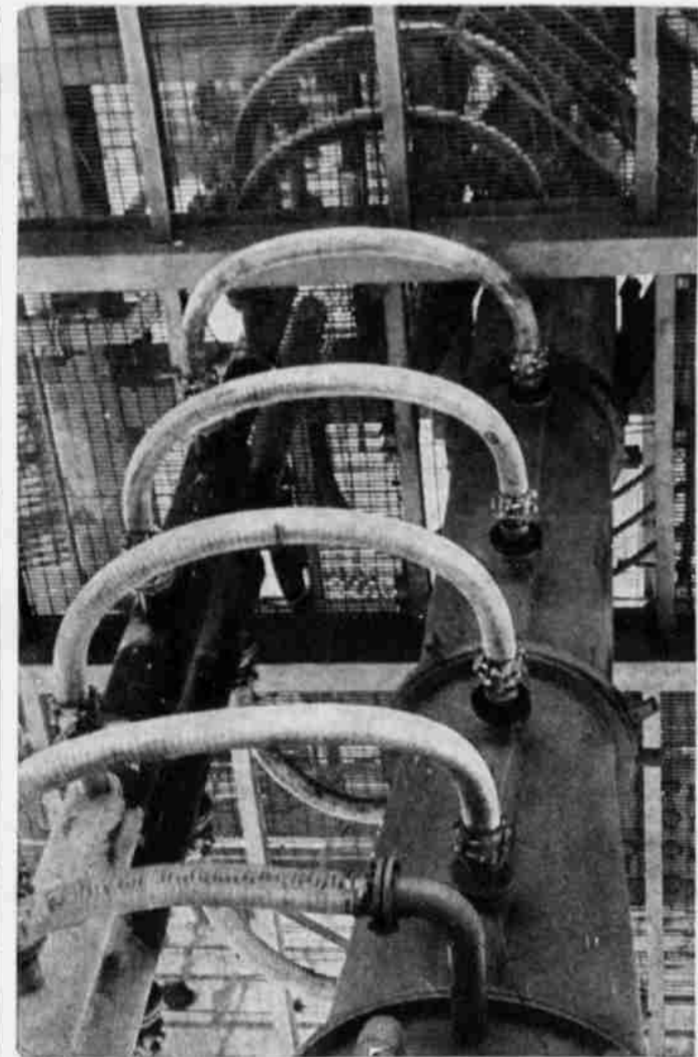

The testing is controlled from a trailer house nearby, with wires and cables running to the engine. In the blockhouse, some distance away in another direction, television cameras bring pictures of the engine in operation and data is recorded here.

Technicians were busy in the blockhouse, during the inspection tour, working on consoles that record data from the testing. Sounds of the operating engine are recorded on tapes.

Gene Kelly is project supervisor on the noise suppression testing.

This program is being done on "Test Stand No. 2" at ground level. The steel pad is kept spotless during the tests in order to prevent grit and dirt from getting into the engine.

Standing inactive some distance away is the 44-foot high steel tower which early last year was used for testing RL-10 engines. Some of the touring members climbed the stairs of the double-decked platform for a view of the vast, nearly-level rangeland surrounding the site. Sheep and cattle grazed on leased lands, perhaps as close as a mile from the site, and they seemed unconcerned by the noise.

A crew of some 20 to 25 men is currently working on the noise suppression testing, Doerflinger said.

Who's Who In Morrow County?

"Clues Hidden in Any Ad in This Section or in Any Ad by Merchants in This Newspaper"

- This is a family fun contest. Entries welcome from every member of the family old enough to fill out his or her own. You may submit one entry per person at any OR ALL of the Sponsoring Merchants whose ads are heavily bordered this week—but only one entry per person at any one store (more than one will disqualify all entries of that person for that week).
- Anyone may enter unless a member of your family is employed by The Gazette-Times. Sponsoring Merchants and their families, and their employees and families are most welcome to enter EXCEPT during the weeks that the ad of your own store is heavily bordered in this section.
- Nothing to buy. Use any slip of paper for entry blank. DO NOT put your entry into an envelope. Not necessary to be present at the drawing to win. Not necessary to be a subscriber to The Gazette-Times to participate.
- WHO'S WHO may be anyone in Morrow County. Clues to his (or her) identity will be hidden ONLY in ads of Sponsoring Merchants (every sponsoring Merchant has a little ad in this group ad). Clues may be hidden in ANY ad of ANY name you think the WHO'S Sponsoring merchant. ANYWHERE in the paper. Clues will be scattered—many ads will have no clues, while others may have as many as five. This is a contest of skill, and we intend to do our best to outwit you. We'll be delighted if you succeed in outguessing us, in spite of our best efforts!
- If by coincidence, the name of the WHO'S WHO (or other facts about him) happen to appear in news items, editorial matter, or other places in this newspaper, these will not count as clues.
- To enter, write down the WHO'S WHO. List all the clues you can find in all the ads of the Sponsoring Merchants in this issue. Don't forget your own name and address! Then, drop your entry at any Sponsoring Merchant whose ad is between the heavy borders in this group ad this issue. You may enter at all four if you wish! There are no other places where entries will be accepted—and mail entries will not be accepted. Any member of the family may bring in all entries for that family. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.
- This week's contest starts when you receive this issue, and closes at 4 p.m. Tuesday of the following week. At that time, a drawing will be held. The first entry drawn that correctly identifies the WHO'S WHO will win $5.00. If THAT entry also lists every clue hidden in all ads of Sponsoring Merchants, a BONUS of $5 will be added. Whenever this BONUS is not won, it will be added to next week's BONUS which will continue to grow until it is won. Winning the BONUS requires a PERFECT list of clues—the exact number, and all copied exactly as in the paper (watch those capitals, etc.).
- Every possible precaution will be taken to prevent typographical errors that might be mistaken for clues, but errorless typography CANNOT BE GUARANTEED (by anyone). The Gazette-Times will be the judge in all questions and your decision is final.
