What Is An Ad?

By WALTER C. KURZ, Chicago Tribune

It's born in the forest to the ringing cry of "Timber!" And before it dies, it demonstrates its usefulness to the tune of a ringing cash register. A newspaper ad is more than cold type. More even than cold type carrying a hot message.

To the Businessman

To the businessman, a newspaper ad is the adrenalin that makes a tired sales curve spring to life and shakes a sleepy economy awake.

A newspaper ad is a strident cry of a discount store hawking its wares or it is the soft whisper of a blue chip's institutional message.

A newspaper ad is a shout of hope: "Grand Opening on Friday!" or the end of a dream: "Going Out of Business Sale."

A newspaper ad is 10 thousand people at a dollar-day sale or it is one person spending 10 thousand dollars for a diamond bracelet.

A newspaper ad is a friendly "hello" from the big bank downtown that says stop by any time, or a sharp reminder from the manufacturer he has a great new product you need right now.

A newspaper ad is a colossal 16-page introduction to a one hundred-million-dollar new car model, or it's a tiny two lines with news of a 10-year-old jalopy selling for $95.

A newspaper ad is a new product challenging old—and both being the better for it.

That and much, much more is what a newspaper ad is to business. But what is it to those who buy and read the newspaper?

To the Newspaper Reader

A newspaper ad is the sale that brings the housewife's budget in just under the wire.

A newspaper ad is that certain something special worth splurging on.

A newspaper ad is the warm security of discovering that dream home for your family or it's the bold challenge of a new job in a far off place.

A newspaper ad is down-to-earth product advice a mother can appreciate or it's a flight of fancy only a woman can understand.

A newspaper ad is pleasant escape to a vacation wonderland, or it is a practical hint to better meals in the hustle and bustle of everyday living.

A newspaper ad is a mother finding that beauty treatment she always wanted, or it's dad selling those power tools he never used.

A newspaper ad is shopping in the comfort of our breakfast room, or braving the weather because that sale is too good to miss.

But a newspaper ad is more than that. It's faith, believability, knowledge from experience that the product is here in town today and wanting to do business. It is a call to action backed by a friend you can trust.
