

Kinzua Golfers Hosts To Heppner Club

By VIRGINIA KELSO
KINZUA — The Kinzua Golf Club was host on Sunday to the members of the Willow Creek Golf club of Heppner at an all-day meet. The day started with a breakfast, cooked and served by the men of the club, with the women's golf club serving a buffet lunch.

Winners for the day were: Kinzua men: Low gross, a tie between Don Slinkard and Mark Jellick; low net, Jim Huliett; long drive, Don Slinkard; closest to the pin, Allen Nistad.

For Heppner men: Low gross, Doyle Duggen; low net, LeRoy Gardner; long drive, Joe Balfe; closest to the pin, Clint McQuarrie.

For Kinzua women: Low gross, Dorothy Close; low net, a tie between Marilyn Bailey and LaVelle Jellick; long drive, Marilyn Bailey; closest to the pin, Vi Slinkard.

For Heppner women: Low gross and long drive, Bev Gunderson; low net, Marie McQuarrie; closest to the pin, Hazel Mahoney.

Sole-survivor contest winners were Lee Bailey and Ed Gunderson with runners-up, Milt Boring and Joe Balfe.

Tuesday was a different kind of Ladies Day this week. It was called "friendship day" and all regular players brought a friend that had golfed a few times, very little or none at all. There were 18 girls in all, and you can be assured there were many places on the course that had never seen a golf ball before, but they saw one that day. A regular player was placed in each three-some to help lead the way around. Everyone seemed to have a good time, even those that had never held a golf club before.

Prizes of one ball each went to June Bellenbrock, Helen Schaffitz, Ronnie Balfe and Coramae Ferguson.

Gals playing were Karen Holland, Ronnie Balfe, Libby Carpenter, Barbara Clough, Mary Lou Kelly, Marie McQuarrie, Helen Schaffitz, Clista Venard, Coramae Ferguson, Bebe Munkers, Lillian Sweek, June Bellenbrock, Flossie Watkins, Marg Chapin, Beverly Gunderson, Ann Martin, Susan Jensen and Lois Hunt.

Coffee and cookies were served before teeing off at 8:30 a.m. and wonderfully cooling lemonade was on No. 7 tee-off so the gals could make it around the last three holes. Helen Schaffitz and Marie McQuarrie were hostesses. It was just a little warm before we all finished. We hope, knowing there are girls playing on Tuesday that are beginners, will encourage other gals to come out on Ladies Day, which is always Tuesday. Great fun and good for the "tigger".

Willow Creek club members were guests of the Kinzua Golf club Sunday at Kinzua. Breakfast was served from 7 to 9. The fellows played the 18 holes, while the girls played nine. Seventeen Heppner golfers turned out for this, and we were proud of the number going over to play. We were treated royally, as usual, and everyone had a fun-golfing Sunday. A tasty dinner was also served us.

There is to be a return engagement of the Kinzua Golf club here this coming Sunday, August 6. Coffee and doughnuts will be served before teeing off time, which will be promptly at 9:00 a.m. A chicken dinner will be prepared for eating after the play has been concluded. It is hoped a good number of Heppner players will show up for this. Condon members are also welcome.

See you Sunday on the fairways.

at the Hubbell and Browning homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Conner and family have moved into the house recently vacated by the Harlan Schroeder family and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wham and family into the house vacated by the Alan Guinn family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Roe of Pendleton were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Browning and Linda.

Forrest Graham and grandson Gene Mortimore were in Portland Friday on business and also in Umatilla.

Salvation Army Fund Campaign Starts August 3

Annual Salvation Army fund campaign for Morrow county will begin about August 3 with the arrival of service extension representative, Rev. James Royer, in Heppner.

This campaign will provide funds for continuing the 23 services provided through the Salvation Army service extension program. Through its local committee, the Salvation Army service extension program makes available the full range of Salvation Army aid to those in need.

As needed, the local committee makes arrangements to provide emergency food, clothing, medical aid and similar necessities. It also arranges care for unwed mothers at the Salvation Army Home and Hospital in Portland, which the last few years has averaged $400 per year.

The service extension program also makes available alcoholic rehabilitation, emergency disaster aid, farm fire relief and the full range of Salvation Army services.

Rev. Royer paid tribute to the work of the Morrow county committee in the sincerity of their efforts to help those in need. Lowell Chalkey is chairman and William Siewert serves as treasurer.

Others working on the committee are Rev. Burg C. J. D. Bauman, Rev. Melvin Dixon, Dean Gilman, Phillip Goodall, Judge Paul Jones, Wesley Sherman, Dr. L. D. Tibbles, Dewey West and Eugene P. Winters.

Rev. Mr. Royer is an ordained Methodist minister who joined the Salvation Army service extension department two years ago. However, he has worked closely with the Army for many years. He is a graduate of Taylor University of Indiana and has served pastorates in several cities in the Northwest.

Appeals for aid for those in need are made only in communities where such contributions are a major source of support, Rev. Royer said. None are made in areas where the Salvation Army receives partial financial support from a United Fund.

House Approves Projects Funds

Congressman Al Ullman announced approval by the U. S. House of Representatives today of all budgeted public works projects in the Second Congressional District.

The public works appropriations measure also approved funds to initiate a reconnaissance survey of the Columbia South Side Project although it was not requested in the President's budget. Ullman pushed for the funds—which would begin studies for an irrigation project with a potential of 300,000 acres using Columbia River water—in hearings before the Appropriations Committee earlier this session.

Ullman expressed regret that funds were not included for construction of the Grande Ronde and Catherine Creek dams, and the Army Corps appropriation for the Willow Creek dam. These projects were authorized in 1965, but were omitted from the president's budget request. Approval for the Willow Creek project is $51,000 for the Bureau of Reclamation.

Vacationers Enjoy Trip Around Oregon

Ginger Springer and roommate, Kay Williamson, of Salem visited at the home of Ginger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Springer, last week. The girls entertained themselves by relaxing at home and by visiting with friends in Heppner while Mr. and Mrs. Springer were away during most of the week on their summer vacation.

The Springers spent the early part of the week visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Springer, in Hood River and then drove to Praline City where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Bob Booth and family before continuing on to Unity Reservoir and McGoon Lake for a little fishing. They returned on Sunday in time for a short visit with Ginger and Kay.

Pvt. Frank Unrein Completes Training
Marine Private Frank Lee Unrein, son of Mrs. Jack McTimpeny of Heppner, has completed four weeks of individual combat training at the Marine Corps base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veteran instructors. They taught him how to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons.

He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit. Marines going to combat units will get detailed training in the particular combat skill they are designated for. Those who are going into technical fields will receive their advanced training at one of a variety of technical schools throughout the country.
