

Community Prepares For Busy School Schedule

By KATHERINE LINDSTROM

IONE — Many Ione families have been spending the last two weeks at various vacation spots before Fair and Rodeo time and before school starts.

School is scheduled to begin with classes in both elementary and high schools on September 5 with a full complement of teachers. There will be no pre-registration. Bus routes and drivers are about the same as last year. Ray Barnett and Wallace Matthews will again serve the schools as custodians. Mrs. Ida Coleman and Mrs. Harvey Ring will plan and prepare the school lunches and lunch will be served the first day.

New to the school staff this year is Mrs. Ann Mather from Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, who will teach first grade. Mr. Mather will be a social studies teacher in the Heppner schools. Darrell Wilson, who has a Masters Degree in math and science, will teach mathematics and science. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their three children, Scott, a sophomore; Greg, a seventh grader; and Sheri, a fifth grader are from Nevis, Minn., and are living in the Gaardsland house recently vacated by the Harold Beggs family.

Business education classes will be instructed by Jack Trujillo of Rocky Ford, Colo., who will live in the Heliker apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bonnier and son have arrived from Eugene and are residing in Mrs. Dale Ray's house. He will teach English and Reading courses.

Coming to the lone schools from Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell James and two-year-old son, Jeff. Mr. James will teach music and band and driver education. Mrs. James will be the Junior High English teacher, Homemaker instructor, and handle girls' physical education classes. They have moved into the Gene Harryman house on Third Street.

This year the school will be conducted on a six-six program for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beggs and family spent a very warm weekend moving into the new house on Third Street just completed by Eastern Oregon Construction Co. of Pendleton for Morrow County School District R-1. The attractive house is a three bedroom, two bath home built for $14,895 by the school district for rental to school personnel.

The lone High school band has been busy practicing this week and marching in preparation for participation in the Morrow County Rodeo street parade. Mrs. Garland Swanson, band mother, has been checking uniforms and finds many of the new berets missing. She would like to request that mothers and former band members check their closets for the black berets and return them to the school as soon as possible so that the uniforms will be complete for the present band members.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sherer and three sons and Paul Pettyjohn, Jr. and three daughters have returned from an enjoyable vacation spent camping at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

Last week Mrs. Leo Crabtree took her three grandsons, Ashley, Kevin, and Jimmy McCabe on a vacation to the beach. They were accompanied to Rockaway, Depoe Bay, and Newport, by Mrs. Crabtree's mother, Mrs. Blanche Scheelar of Salem. On their return to Ione, Mr. and Mrs. Crabtree drove the boys to Walla Walla to meet their mother, Mrs. Avelia McCabe of Colfax and then the Crabtrees went on to Tacoma to visit their son, Ron. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson and family. At Bellevue they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Scheelar. On Friday they came down to Portland to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Myers and the two couples spent the week-end at the beach near Lincoln City—returning home on Sunday.

Lee O'Connor arrived home on Saturday evening from Portland, where she had assisted with the wedding of her sorority sister, Alyce Eva Willmarth, on Saturday afternoon at Fremont Methodist Church. Lee completed summer school at the University of Oregon last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carlson and family spent last week on a coastal trip. They vacationed with Mr. Carlson's sister, Mrs. Joyce Darst and family and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hope and family at the Hope's cabin near Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Akers and Danny and Kimmy left on Monday morning for a camping trip to Lost Lake.

Visiting in Portland last week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Peterson and family. They were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hanson and enjoyed a family picnic while there.

Word has been received by relatives here of the death of Earl Marcotte, 69, of Sunnyvale, Calif. He was a retired service manager for Lockheed Missiles and Space Co. and a cousin of the late Emil and C. W. Swanson.

Donald Bristow left on Sunday morning for Portland. He was to go by plane to Los Angeles on Monday morning for a visit with his cousin, Miss Julie Rietmann. Miss Rietmann teaches in the Los Angeles area and has just returned home from a visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Rietmann and family.

Mrs. Mary Holtz and Kathy and Carol spent the week-end in Tacoma with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lundell drove to Eugene last week-end to get their daughter, Cheryl, who has been attending summer school at the University of Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pettyjohn, Sr. are home from a short vacation at the beach.

After several weeks of fishing at Ihwaco Mr. and Mrs. Milton Morgan arrived home on Monday. Fishing was very good this year despite some heavy fog at times.

Marilyn Straet of Elk Grove, Calif., is spending a vacation here visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Palmateer and family and with other relatives.

Mrs. Donald Ball returned home on Saturday from a few days treatment at Pioneer Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Oscar Lundell has also returned from the hospital after a week of treatment, feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ekstrom, Jr. and family spent their vacation camping at Fort Stevens. After leaving there they drove up the Washington Coast and to Seattle, where they visited Mr. Ekstrom's brother and sis-

Hearings Stated On Juvenile Cases After Burglaries

Hearings were scheduled to start Wednesday morning, August 23, in juvenile court of County Judge Paul Jones, on cases involving 10 local youths, ranging in ages 13 to 17 who are implicated in burglaries and vandalism in Heppner in recent weeks.

When the youths were questioned and remanded to the juvenile court by city officers, it apparently cleared 12 illegal entries into three Heppner businesses and meeting halls, as well as miscellaneous incidents of vandalism.

County Judge Jones and Chief of Police Glen Kolkhorst said that there appeared to be at least four entries at Pettyjohn's Farm and Building Supply, three at Murrays Rexall Drug, three at Court Street Market, one at the Odd Fellows hall and one at the American Legion hall. In addition, four street lights were broken out, garbage cans were emptied, windows were broken at the grade school, and wire was rolled down a hill at the Columbia Basin pole yard.

None of the youths was involved in all of the incidents, according to the statements of those involved. They did not operate as a gang.

Chief Kolkhorst said that the cases were broken when an anonymous phone call came to the police station late one night that someone apparently was breaking into Court Street Market. Officers went to the scene and took two youths into custody. The tip apparently came from an adult.

When the youths were questioned, information came to light that linked others to other offenses, and when the chain continued, eventually 10 were implicated.

In most cases they took little merchandise from the stores. However a considerable quantity of ammunition and hardware was taken from Pettyjohn's. Included were 12 boxes of 22 caliber cartridges, $15 in cash, six padlocks, a wrench, spray paint, a box of 300 magnum shells, other ammunition and probably other miscellaneous items. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pettyjohn had been aware of burglaries but did not realize that so much had been taken until it was recovered from the room of one of the boys involved.

From Court St. Market, some cigars, a bottle of hair lotion and perhaps other small items were taken. Two cases of beer had been moved towards the back door.

At Murrays, which also houses the State liquor store, entries had been made in an attempt to obtain liquor but none was noticed to be missing. A cigarette lighter and some cologne were among items taken from the store. One entry was made through a back window, which was later covered with steel bars. A later entry was made by crossing the Gazette-Times roof to reach a higher ter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ekstrom and family.

Dennis E. Swanson, who recently completed basic training as a commercial airlines pilot at Dallas, Texas, with Braniff Airlines, has accepted a position as a pilot with Northwest-Orient Airlines. He will be based at Minneapolis, Minn., and last week moved Mrs. Swanson and three children to that city.

Mrs. Biddle Wins $5 in Who's Who

Entry of Mrs. Marion (Sharon) Biddle of Heppner was drawn from the many Who's Who contestants slips Tuesday afternoon by Chief of Police Glen Kolkhorst, again acting as judge, and Mrs. Biddle thereby wins a $5 prize.

She missed $25 more because she slipped on one of the clues that identified Ed Gonty as the Who's Who of the week in the August 17 issue of the Gazette-Times.

Mrs. Biddle failed to spot the clue, "Mustang alum" which was included in the Pettyjohn Farm and Building Supply advertisement on the classified page. Under the rules, clues may be in sponsors' ads wherever they appear in the paper, and contestants should not overlook the classified page.

Because Mrs. Biddle failed to find all the clues, the prize next week will go to a possible $35. Five dollars will go to the person whose name is drawn if he correctly identifies the mystery person, and $50 will be added if he gets all clues.

The coming contest, based on clues in this week's (August 24) paper, will be last in the Who's Who series. To be eligible in the final competition, entries must be placed in boxes by Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Entries must be deposited in the boxes at Jack's Chevron Station, Gardner's Men's Wear, Van's Variety or Heppner Inland Chemical.

Admission to the IOOF hall was apparently gained by shinning up a guy wire to the roof top (a feat that took some courage) and going through a skylight. Only two billiard balls (both 8-balls!) were taken from the hall.

Chief Kolkhorst said that powder from the magnum shells taken from Pettyjohns was used by some of the youths in making smoke bombs.

Most of the entries and vandalism occurred in early morning hours with the youths going out after their parents were asleep. In some cases they were sleeping in the yards at their homes and left unnoticed by the parents.

The chief of police and the judge said that parents have been cooperative in helping to clear up the cases.

"Their attitude has been excellent," Chief Kolkhorst said.

Six-Six Plan Starts This Year In Lone Schools

Ione High School and Ione Elementary School will begin the school year on Tuesday, September 5, Harold Beggs, principal, states. Classes will begin for the high school at 8:40 a.m. each day and at 8:50 a.m. for the elementary students. The schools will be operated on the six-six plan (six years of elementary and six years of high school).

There will be no pre-registration. Elementary students will register on September 5 in their regular classrooms. Students in grades seven through 12 are to assemble in the high school gym at 8:40 a.m. for registration.

There will be six new teachers on the staff this year. Mrs. Anne Mather will teach first grade; Mrs. Anna Lee James will teach homemaking, junior high English, and girls' physical education; Darrell James will teach music and driver's education; John Bonnier will teach English and reading; Darrell Wilson will teach math and science; and Jack Trujillo will teach the business education classes.

"All of these are fine people and they will be an excellent addition to the staff," Beggs said.

Both lone school buildings have undergone a considerable amount of remodeling, painting, and cleaning this summer. Individual study carrels and a small conference room have been added to the high school library. Storage cabinets have been added in some of the rooms. In the elementary building all of the classrooms have been newly painted. Other work done includes: storage cabinets built in some areas, the boys' shower room and lavatory remodeled, new tile on the floor of the first grade room, and painting of the exterior.

Several new courses have been added to the high school curriculum. These include arts and crafts for grades seven and eight, general business for grade 11, psychology for grade 12, business law for grades 11 and 12. Other changes include: an intramural program during lunch period, chorus as a one-hour credit course, reading as a part of the English program for grades nine and 10, and speech as a part of the English program for grades 11 and 12.

The following fees are to be paid on September 5:

Grades 1-6, registration, $1.50; Grades 7-12, student body, $6.00; Grades 9-12, textbook, $8.00; Grades 7-10, towel fee, $2.00; Grades 7-12, annual (optional), $3.50.

Heppner High Faculty Complete For Coming Year

Faculty of Heppner High school is complete for the 1967-68 school year and most class assignments have been made for the teachers, Principal Dick Carpenter announces.

There will be five new teachers on the Heppner High faculty, as follows: Miss Cecelia Delmore, a graduate of the University of Washington, who will teach speech, drama and freshman language arts; Robert Mather, a recent graduate of Oregon College of Education, who will teach American problems and world history; Dean Naffziger, a graduate of the University of Oregon, who will teach boys' physical education and will be track coach; Miss Alice Riley, who will come from Wasatch Academy in Utah, Spanish and English IV; Jack Simpkins, who will come from Echo, business education; Naffziger will also be freshman football coach.

Naffziger will teach half time at the high school and half at the elementary school. Returning are the following: Mrs. Dorothy Agee, girls' physical education and health, girls' coach, with half-time at the elementary school; Mrs. Doris Broman, freshman and sophomore English; Bob Clough, algebra and geometry, athletic director, basketball coach; Adrian Cook, boys' counselor, U. S. history, psychology, assistant football coach.

Dale Holland, business law, world geography, driver education, baseball coach and freshman basketball coach; Kirk Horn, biology, field biology; Mrs. Violet Lanham, girls' counselor; Miss Terry Linecum, art I and II (1/6 time with remainder in other schools); Mrs. Jane Rawlins, English III and senior composition.

Mrs. Madge Thomson, librarian; Gary Thompson, physics, chemistry, earth science; Elmer Weitzel, advanced math, general math, algebra II, senior math; Hal Whitaker, vocational agriculture, work experience program; Mrs. Leona Winters, home economics II, III and IV (1/2 time).

Heat Wave Misses Setting Record

lows: 95, 95, 97, 96, 98, 97, 99, 102, 102, 100, 101 and 96.

Monotonous, isn't it?

And whoever seeks to check the continuous maximum temperatures for the long stretch might also want to look at the minimums. The nights have brought some perspiration, too. Last Wednesday through Sunday had consecutive minimums of 62, 65, 63, 61, and 61. Wouldn't those minimums feel wonderful as maximums along about next February?

But if you are among those who want to declare that this is the hottest summer on record, we're with you and won't delve too hard into the record book to dispute it!

If you go back to the last rainfall on June 22 of this year and start from there, you'll find that there has been no day with a maximum temperature of less than 78 degrees (August 7) and only one other in the 70's (79 on July 8).

There have been 32 days of 90 degrees or higher (17 of these 95 or higher), and 26 days in the 80-90 range, with emphasis on the high 80's.

Gilliam said that a few drops of rain fell early Sunday morning, but not so you notice it and not enough to measure. The main evidence was a few spots that a person might find in the dust on top of a car.

Of course, if you insist on setting records, there is still a chance that the rainless string might go on for some time yet and challenge that 1929 mark. After all, it isn't snowing today (Tuesday), and the Arbutle Mountain tow, we might announce, isn't operating. Gilliam's report for the week, August 16-22:

	Max.	Min.	Prec.
Wednesday	102	62	—
Thursday	102	65	—
Friday	100	63	—
Saturday	101	61	—
Sunday	96	61	—
Monday	87	56	—
Tuesday	92	54	—
