Football Rugged, Not Dangerous, Says Head Coach

Football is a rugged sport but not a dangerous sport, said Coach Ed Hiemstra of Heppner High school in a talk before the Heppner-Morrow County Chamber of Commerce Monday.

"The boys are equipped with the best equipment money can buy—and it is good equipment," he said.

The game of basketball is rougher than football in the opinion of the man who was a head basketball coach for 19 years. Going out for football helps a boy prepare for basketball, he added. Some boys avoid football to "save themselves" for basketball, but Hiemstra said that he always encouraged them to play football to condition them for the hoop sport.

Regarding the 1967 Mustangs, the coach said that this is the youngest team he has ever coached, but the boys seem "quite mature."

"I've never had as many boys as fast as they are this year," he said. "But we don't have the horses for punching through the middle."

He said that he had planned to have the team pass a lot but declared, "I can't find a boy to throw accurately. We haven't had much luck springing the fast ones loose."

The turnout, six better than last year, brings a good complement of boys with a "lot of desire."

The coach declared, "Kindle has the most desire of anyone I have ever coached."

While slightly ahead of last season in competition with a 1-1 record, as compared with one win and one tie at the same time last year, the team will meet one of the toughest teams it will face all season Friday in Burns.

"I'd rather have two weeks more preparing for this one," the coach said. The plan now is to use Dave Hall as quarterback and move Randy Stillman into a halfback spot.

The coach listed Dean Kindle as a top prospect this year.

Ends are Bill McLeod at the split end and Steve Pettyjohn at tight end. Pettyjohn is much better than last year. McLeod is light but fast and should be a fine receiver, he said.

Al Drake at center is much improved over last year. Leading candidates for the guard positions are Steve Munkers from last year's squad, Jim Sherman going out for the first time as a senior, and Bill Greenup. The coach said Greenup seems to have tremendous desire and said, "I don't believe you can hurt a Greenup."

Terry Corbin is doing a "real good job at tackle and was outstanding against Condon. Bob Dobbs, also a tackle, has "all the attributes of a great ball player. He is big, strong and agile for his size. If he ever realizes it, I'd hate to play opposite him," the coach said.

Two fine prospects for backs come from the ranks of the freshmen, John Hall and Bruce Marquardt. Hall has made some fine runs already this year.

"Marquardt should be one of the best backs in the country one of these days," Coach Hiemstra declared. "He is a natural. He has a good hip fake and a good change of pace.

He spoke of Matt Murray's work as defensive end, and said that he "changed the complexion" of the Condon game when he went in during the second half to break up Blue Devil passes.

The coach stressed the importance of ball players being good students in athletics today. The systems are too complex for "dummies," he said.

"You have to have students to make good football players."

Hiemstra expressed the opinion that boys here do not seem to have the developments in their chests and shoulders that they should have to make outstanding players and suggested it might be from the type of work they do. They may ride a tractor on the farm instead of work in heavy industry.

Coach Adrian Cook was also a guest at the Chamber meeting.

Red flags were dropped on most of the plays in the second

Jayvees Defeat Rockets Monday

By LARRY PETTYJOHN

The Baby Mustangs dropped the Pilot Rock Junior Varsity 16-0 in their first game of the season. The teams met here on Monday, September 18.

The Heppner team, led by John McCabe, hit pay dirt twice with two successful PAT's and dumped Pilot Rock for a safety before the final gun sounded.

Red flags were dropped on most of the plays in the second half due to the young players' inexperience.

Both teams scored touchdowns which were called back because of penalties.

The Horsemen started off in the second period with a touchdown pass from Bruce Marquardt to Mark Tullis, but it was called back because of a penalty.

The Rockets scored once on a pass, but because of a penalty the TD was nullified.
