

Family Sunday Observed In Ione By 4-H Service

By DIANA KINCAID

IONE — Miss Merilee Jacobs presided over the 4-H Family Sunday at the Ione United Church of Christ on October 15, with Gail McCarty, county 4-H leader, giving the main address on the "Heart of 4-H." Ushers were Carol Holtz, Bill Jepsen, Clint Krebs and John Rietmann.

Welcoming the parents and friends was Kathy Holtz, with Brock Linnell following with the 4-H invocation. Chuck Nelson, accompanied by Darrell James, played a saxophone solo, "You'll Never Walk Alone." The 4-H pledge was read by Tanya Tucker and the prayer was given by Herb Ekstrom. Four girls gave the poem "The Four I's" to the congregation. They were Jan Ekstrom, Cindy Ekstrom, Marcie Linnell, and Melany Ball. The scripture was read by Jane Krebs and the benediction was pronounced by Cassie Chapel.

Those mothers who organized the program for the services were Mrs. Henry Krebs, Mrs. Jim Pettijohn and Mrs. Norman Nelson.

Officers of the local Beta Omega chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha were hostesses for a "board brunch" held at the home of Mrs. Lindsay Kincaid on Tuesday of last week. Prospective pledges were informed of the scope of ESA by Mrs. Ralph Kincaid, rush chairman, and the scrapbooks kept each year by the group were displayed to show the many varied projects and activities that have been done since the chapter was formed.

Topic Club members, Mrs. Milt Morgan, Mrs. Jim West and Mrs. Norman Nelson, announce that plans for a Dessert Luncheon and Card Party on November 4 have been completed. The affair which will start at 1:00 p.m. will be held in the Ione Masonic hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Rietmann enjoyed a visit on Wednesday and Thursday of last week with Mrs. Rietmann's cousin, Mrs. Jessamine Buchhass of Chicago. Mrs. Hubert Voruz of Portland, an aunt of the two women, accompanied Mrs. Buchhass to Ione.

Fifteen ladies enjoyed the monthly Bingo Party at the home of Mrs. Vida Heliker with Flossie Marick as assisting hostess. The group was pleased to have Mrs. Mary Lundell with them again. Mrs. Lundell has been ill for some time.

Visiting at the Keith Rea home this week were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howton and girls, and Tom Dicky, all of Hermiston, and Mrs. Janet Brindle's two small children.

Miss Ruth Bailey will fill the pulpit this Sunday for the morning service and will be featured speaker at the Stewardship Dinner to be held at 6:00 p.m. in the Ione United Church of Christ. Colored slides of the many varied church activities during the year will be shown by Bill Rietmann. The mortgage of the Christian Education Building will be burned at this time. Since this is a family affair, parents are reminded that there will be baby care in the nursery after dinner.

Following the regular meeting of Eastern Star, Mrs. Ella Borgoyne was feted at a surprise birthday party. The honoree's favorite color of lavender was carried out in the decorations and on the cake. Many cards and a lovely corsage were presented to Mrs. Borgoyne by the group. Mrs. Berl Akers and Mrs. Markham Baker were hostesses. Guests were Mrs. Fannie Griffith and Mrs. Fred Martin.

Mrs. Bertha Nelson of Terwilliger Plaza in Portland spent the week on the Nelson ranch visiting with her sons, Norman and Alfred, Jr., and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wood of Nampa, Idaho, were recent guests at the home of the Gene Rietmanns. After a short visit here, the Rietmanns accompanied the Woods to Portland for some sight seeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Dobyns are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jepsen this week and enjoying some deer hunting while here.

Traveling to Reno and Lake Tahoe last Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rietmann. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Anderson of Arlington. The two women are sisters. On Sunday the couples returned home.

On Tuesday Scott Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Martin, celebrated his fifth birthday with a party at his home. The little children attending were Lisa Meyers, Tami Jo Dockett, Treve Peterson, Dennie Stefani, Glen Krebs, and Jeff James.

Mrs. Corretta Bisbee, a niece of Mrs. Fannie Griffith, is visiting here from her home in Post Falls, Idaho. She arrived on Saturday of last week. The adult class of the Heppner Nazarene Church entertained its members last Tuesday with a progressive dinner. The group met at the Eimer Weltzel home in Heppner for appetizers and with the Armin Freeman for salads. Traveling to Ione, the main course was served at the Harold Beggs home. Following the dessert which was served at the Edwin Kessler home, Jay Wheelhouse led the group in a devotional program.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Lindstrom spent the week-end in Portland shopping and visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Haugen of Lake Oswego.

Topic Club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Roy Lindstrom with Mrs. Paul Tews as assisting hostess. Mrs. Henry Krebs gave a very interesting talk on the geography of Glacier Park that was illustrated with colored slides. Special guests were Mrs. Hershall Townsend and Mrs. Harold Holtz.

Marianne Pettijohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Pettijohn, received two first place trophies at the Mid-Columbia Quarter Horse Show held in Hermiston last week-end. Riding her horse, Barred's Lad, Miss Pettijohn took first in the registered barrel race and first in youth pole bending competition.

Patti Pettijohn, a student at Blue Mountain College, received third place in the top ten for the year in the Oregon Barrel Racing Association. She received a saddle blanket and a drawing by Shirley Dickerson of Walla Walla for her efforts. The picture showed Patti and her horse, Teak, in barrel racing. She was also given the best Oregon Representative Award.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crawford of Albany have been here visiting with Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Dalzell.

Regular meeting of Willows Grange is planned at 8:00 on Saturday evening. Members are reminded of the "white elephant" sale.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lochner returned to their home in Sioux City, Iowa, on Tuesday after spending two weeks here visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Wilson.

Townpeople are reminded of the Homecoming football game on Friday, at 2:30 with Riverside High school. The Homecoming dance will be held on Saturday. An invitation has been extended to parents and alumni to attend.

Sheriff Reminds Of 'Slowpoke' Law

Slowpoke drivers in Morrow county now face the choice of driving a little faster or pulling over to let faster traffic go by, said Sheriff C. J. D. Bauman today.

A new law went into effect September 13 that requires slow moving vehicles on two-lane roads to pull over and let faster traffic pass. On multi-lane highways, like freeways, slow moving vehicles must stay in the right lane. This leaves the left lane clear for cars who want to pass.

Sheriff Bauman said you will be considered a slow moving vehicle anytime you travel slower than the normal flow of traffic and cause a string of cars to pile up behind you. "When this happens, you should pull over and let faster traffic pass you at the first safe spot to do so."

"The law was passed by our state legislators to end such things as a truck, trailer or camper holding up a long line of cars," said the sheriff. "While these slow moving vehicles don't always get in accidents themselves, they create traffic congestion and cause others to have accidents. Other drivers become impatient and take foolish chances in passing the slow driver."

Violation of the slow moving vehicle law calls for a fine up to $100 or 10 days in jail.

Daughter is Born To James Russells

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Russell of Umatilla are announcing the birth of a daughter, on Sunday, October 1, at the Good Shepherd hospital in Hermiston. The baby weighed 9 lb., 14 oz., and has been named Rebecca Marie La Verne.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. James (Sue) Stamate of Umatilla and Laverne Hams of Ione; paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ira Russell of Orofino, Idaho, formerly of Boardman. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Mabel Davidson of Ione and Mr. and Mrs. James Hams of Hardman.

R-1 Board Covers Range of Matters

Supt. Daniels presented mimeographed sheets listing all the trips proposed. Total cost estimated is $1,359, which is nearly $1000 below the amount of $2500 budgeted. However, other incidental trips may have to come from this figure, he said. In some instances, students pay all their own expenses, except for transportation, even though the trips are for purposes supplementary to class work.

Testing Program Told
Supt. Daniels reported on work being done to get the entire county on one standardized testing program, using the same tests in all schools and using the Lexington administrative office as a distribution point.

"We anticipate considerable saving under this program," he said. Tests in each school are now being inventoried, and Mrs. Vi Lanham has been placed in charge of the program.

Handbooks Distributed
The superintendent told of the new teacher policy and board policy handbooks that have been prepared. Included in them are: Philosophy of the district, aims and objectives, teaching guidelines; school board policies; advisory committees, organization, responsibilities and duties; job descriptions for non-certified personnel, custodians, bus drivers, cooks.

It is expected that the handbooks will be revised from year to year. They will remain the property of the district and teachers and others holding copies will be required to turn them in for revision.

Price Fixing Charged
Correspondence from Robert Thornton, attorney general for Oregon, told of a suit being instituted by the state against textbook publishers for alleged price-fixing. This, the letter said, could result in as much as a 20% refund on textbook costs if the judgment is for the plaintiff.

The letter asked if the district would share with other districts in the state as a participant and help underwrite costs. It was decided that the district will not share in the cost since the budget is tight this year.

Attorney P. W. Mahoney pointed out that if the textbook companies lose in the action, the Morrow county district could probably recover any overpayment with little trouble even though it did not participate actively in the suit.

When it came time to approve destroying old records of the district, an annual "housekeeping" action, the board passed a motion authorizing destroying the records prior to the certain fixed dates, except for textbook invoices. This is on the assumption that they could be needed in recovering funds that might become available as a result of the state's legal action.

Small Schools Associate
Resolution was adopted by the board authorizing Heppner High school to be an associate member of the Oregon Small Schools Program. This will give it the benefit of information disseminated for small schools. Ione High and Riverside High are members of the program, but Heppner being just over the 200 student limit, may not become an active member. Self-evaluation programs are part of the work done through this group.

Members of the budget committee were chosen to fill vacancies as follows: Bob Rietmann, Ione, to replace Charles Carlson, whose term is expiring; Frank Anderson, Heppner, to succeed himself for another term; and Bob Sicard, Boardman, to succeed himself.

Appointments were also made to the transportation committee, and to the high school and elementary curriculum committees. Two problems were referred to the transportation committee for recommendation, one involving requested payment for transportation by parents of their children to school in lieu of district transportation, and the other involving transportation of a mentally retarded student to Hermiston.

Clinic Progress Told
Dr. L. D. Tibbles told of progress being made towards development of a Mental Health Clinic. He and several others attended a meeting on the proposal in Pendleton recently. He said that the state will furnish 50% of the funds, provided that two of its five mental health programs are implemented.

Umatilla county's share of the proposal would be in the neighborhood of some $21,000 per year while Morrow's cost would be $3500 to $4000. The question of whether this should come from the school district, the county, or both, or whether it should come partially from other sources is yet to be worked out, Director Tibbles said.

One psychiatrist and two or three child guidance workers would be on the clinic staff, he said.

Furnace Problem
Harold Beggs, Ione principal, told of a major furnace problem that has developed in the furnace at Ione High. He said that repair cost would be in the neighborhood of $700, since it would be necessary to abandon pipes now laid in concrete below the building and install new overhead piping. To dig out the old pipes would probably require $1500 for the job, he said. The work was authorized.

State Meetings
State standardization representatives will visit Ione and Heppner Elementary schools on October 23 to 25. Supt. Daniels reported, and a special meeting will be at 7:30 Tuesday, October 24, in the district office to hear their report and recommendations.

A meeting of the L.E.D. reorganization committee will be on Monday, October 23, in the Tapadera in Pendleton and Supt. Daniels and one or two board members expect to attend. The legislature set up the reorganization committee, and it is asking that districts appear to give testimony. Daniels said that he felt that Morrow county joining with Umatilla would be a logical step and cited educational TV as one example of work that could be handled, now being done jointly by the two county school systems.

A special board and budget committee meeting with Fred Witherell, auditor, is scheduled for November 6, at 8 p.m. in the district office. Next regular board meeting is November 20 at 7:30 in the district office.

Library Books Added Recently

Several new books have been added recently to shelves of the Heppner Public Library, according to Mrs. Blanche Brown, librarian.

Among the adult and young adult books are: A City for St. Francis, by Wells; God's Warrior, by Slaughter; A Memory of Vermont, Our Life in the Johnny Applesseed Bookshop, 1930-1965, by Hard; They Came to a Valley, by Gulick; The Secret of Santa Victoria, by Crich-ton; Everything But Money, by Levenson; Bitter Grass, by Olsen; The Gift Shop, by Armstrong; Silverhill, by Whitney; The King of the Castle, by Holt; Here Comes a Candle, by Hodge; The Heir of Starvelings, by Berckman; Famous Detectives, by Block; and The Billy Mitchell Affair, by Burke Davis.

Of interest to sports readers is the new book, "World Series; The Games and the Players," by Robert Smith.

Adult mysteries added to the library's collection include Villainous Company, by Fenelon; Strange Corner, by Davis; Deadly Delight, by Stein; The Lamp-ton Dreamers, by Davies; Night of Clear Choice, by Disney; and No Bones About It, by Fleming.

New children's books added to the library include 25 of the popular "I Can Read Books" for beginners.

The library is open for public use on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 2:00 to 5:00, and on Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:00-8:00.

Services Held For Bob Harris

Funeral services were Friday, October 13, at Sweeney Mortuary chapel at 2 p.m. for Bob Harris, 86, who died in Heppner on Wednesday, October 11.

The Rev. Melvin Dixon officiated at the services, and the body was taken to Portland for concluding services.

Mr. Harris had been a resident here for many years and had worked on ranches in this area.

There are no known living relatives. Sweeney Mortuary had charge of arrangements.

Barton Clark Bags Moose in Alaska

Moose steaks will be on the menu quite often from now on at the Horseshoe Hereford Ranch at RUGGS.

Barton Clark, who with his son, Ned, operates the ranch, returned Saturday from Alaska after bagging a moose on a hunting trip with friends. His animal was not a large one by moose standards, weighing 390 lb. boned out, but will furnish plenty of meat for some time to come.

Clark made the trip with Wayne Wells of Salem and Earl McKinney of Hermiston. Their camp was near Yakutat. They were in camp by air and they were in camp and caught fish for supper the evening of the same day that he left Heppner. All three men scored on the trip, and they shipped the moose meat back by air freight. They were gone about a week.

Rancher Kept Active

Prior to the heart attack that claimed the life of Andy Van Scholack on October 8, he was enjoying relatively good health, and was working regularly with their trucking firm in Hermiston. Contrary to implications in a story printed last week, his mother, Mrs. Martha Van Scholack, reports that he had worked steadily on the family ranches in this area after regaining his health from the first attack about 15 years ago. His continued responsibilities connected with operating the ranches after the family took residence in town and up until their moving to Hermiston. Services were held here for him last Thursday.

Game Violations Flood Court Here

Court of Lowell Gribble, Heppner justice of the peace, was a busy place this week following numerous arrests for game violations. Among those handled by justice court were these:

J. C. Edward Myers, cited to appear for unlawful killing of a wild animal, forfeited $150 bail.

Douglas George Looper, also charged with unlawful killing of a wild animal, forfeited $150 bail.

Richard Lowery, Portland, charged with hunting in a prohibited area, fined $25 and $5 costs.

Howard Palmer, Portland, charged with hunting in a prohibited area, fined $25 and $5 costs.

Henry Edward Robinson, Milwaukie, aiding in a game violation, case pending.

Bruce Fredric Konell, Portland, disguising sex and kind of game bird, case pending.

James Chatelain, Portland, failure to tag deer properly, $25 bail forfeited.

Orville Cade, Portland, failure to tag deer properly, case pending.

Robert Harold Spencer, Portland, failure to tag deer properly, $25 bail forfeited.

Melvin Doan, Portland, hunting on enclosed land without a permit, fined $25.

Walter B. Hughes, hunting upon another's enclosed land with a gun without permission, bail set at $35.

Aaron Richard Ramer, Beaverton, killing elk in closed season, fined $25 and $10 costs.

Robert Donald Gentry, Portland, possession of illegal deer, cited to appear October 25. Bail set at $25.

Allen Roger Erickson, failure to tag deer properly, cited to appear October 25. Bail set at $25.

Willard Bridges, Portland, failure to tag deer properly, bail set at $25.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Patients who were admitted to Pioneer Memorial hospital during the past week, and are still receiving medical care, are the following: Karole Shirley, Kinzua; Charles Dennisson, Heppner; Joel Engelman, Ione; Merna Campbell, Condon; Mabel Hayden, Heppner; and Charles Follensbee, Heppner. Those who received medical care, and were later dismissed, were the following: Irene Dodson, Kinzua; Lola Davis, Condon; Glenda Cox, Fossil; David Wright, Heppner, and Victor Kneeland, Portland.

Horse Pictures Ready

Pictures of the Morrow county horse show have been printed and those who wish prints may now order them from Fred Mankin, superintendent of the show.
