New Bride Honored At Wedding Shower

The home of Mrs. Sam Johnston was the scene for a lovely bridal shower on Wednesday evening, October 25, complimenting Mrs. Jay (Sharon) Ball, whose marriage to Sgt. Ball was an event of October 12 in Winemucca, Nev.

About 25 guests attended the shower honoring the new bride who received many useful and decorative gifts. Assisting Mrs. Ball in opening her gifts were Miss Ginger Majeske and Mrs. Stuart Gribble.

Games were played during the evening in which Mrs. Helen Stevens emerged as the winner of a scented candle. Refreshments of a fruit dessert and coffee were served by co-hostess, Mrs. Sam Johnston, Ginger Majeske, and Marilyn Turner from a lovely lace covered table featuring large bouquets of brown, yellow, and orange chrysanthemums.

'Roaring Twenties' Is Dinner Theme

IONE — On Wednesday evening, October 25, members of Beta Omega chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha entertained their husbands and guests at a "Roaring Twenties" progressive dinner. The hostesses donned appropriate costumes and gave the menu some clever titles in keeping with the theme. At the home of Mrs. Marilyn Rietmann "bath-tub gin" and "tossed greenbacks" (juice and salad) were served; Mrs. Janet Lindstrom served "Charleston chow" which was the main course of ham and accompaniments, and "flapper frappe" was the dessert served at the home of Mrs. Betty Rietmann.

Special guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Piper and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fetsch.

Farras Travel West Following Ceremony In Maryland Church

Saturday, September 30, was the date chosen by Sandra E. Jabas, daughter of Mrs. Vivian Dixon of Hyatsville, Md., for her marriage to James Farra, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Farra of Heppner.

The small, informal family wedding at noon was read in Grace Methodist church in Takoma Park, Md.

Lovely arrangements of white flowers in tall baskets and candles decorated the altar. The bride was attired in a white suit dress and a white whimsy veil. She carried an orchid bouquet with white ribbon streamers. The center orchid was later removed to make her corsage.

Mrs. Cora Prather, a friend of the bride from Mt. Rainier, Md., served as matron of honor. She wore an aqua suit dress and also carried an orchid bouquet with white ribbon streamers that was later used as her corsage.

Serving as best man for the groom was James Alphin, husband of a cousin from Hagerstown, Md.

Mrs. Dixon, mother of the bride, was attired in a strawberry pink dress that featured eyelet work on three-quarter sleeves and a pink whimsy hat.

Mrs. Farra, mother of the groom, wore a turquoise dress with black accessories.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. After toasting the bride and groom with champagne, a buffet style dinner was served by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Etta Dawson of Hyatsville, Md. She was assisted by the bride's sisters, Mrs. Sara Kressevich of Long Island, N. Y., and Mrs. Susan Branham of Arlington, Va.

The three tiered wedding cake, featuring a miniature bride and groom at the top, was cut and served by the bride's mother and Mrs. Prather.

The newly married couple enjoyed a 12 day trip across country by car. They visited relatives in Kansas City, Mo., Rapid City, S. D., New Plymouth, Idaho, and Farra's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Farra at Payette, Idaho, before stopping in Heppner for several days.

The Farras departed on October 20 from Portland for their new home at Rt. 1, Box 417, Waihalua, Hawaii, 96791, where Farra is stationed with the U. S. Navy.

Youth Choir Holds Halloween Party

A fun evening of games galore and ghost stories were a part of the Halloween party for about 30 Junior Choir members of All Saints' Episcopal church and their guests on Sunday evening, October 29.

Those helping with the party, which was held in the parish hall of the church, were Mrs. Dirk Rinehart, who was assisted by Mrs. Alan Martin and Mrs. Jim Norene.

Refreshments of hot cider and popcorn were served during the evening and prizes were awarded for the best homemade masks and the winning scavenger hunt team.

The party was completely planned by youngsters of the Junior Choir. Decorations were done by the children and prizes and refreshments were purchased with funds from their Junior Choir treasury, which was earned from Christmas napkin sales.

District Officers Visit Ione Legion, Hear Youth Reports

About 60 people attended the potluck dinner sponsored by the Ione American Legion and Auxiliary, Post No. 95, on October 24, at 6 p.m. in the Ione Legion hall.

Miss Janet Palmateer and Miss Kathy Keene, delegates to Girls' State, and Chuck Nelson and Neil Christopherson, who attended Boys' State, gave interesting reports. They accompanied their talks with slides showing various activities of their week at Beaver state. They also sang a song, "My Oregon" and were accompanied on the guitar by Chuck Nelson.

Special guests for the evening were Mrs. Ora Coe of Milton-Freewater, who is serving as district president of Unit 6; Mrs. Frank Hamlin, past district president from Unit 87 in Heppner; Gail Zerba, district commander from Athena, and Roy Moore, commander of Post 130 in Athena.

It was also announced that the Ione unit of the American Legion has reached its membership quota and will be eligible to receive a prize.

Elks Officers Place High in District

Officers of Heppner Elks Lodge No. 358 made an excellent showing last week in their participation in the District Ritualistic Contest in La Grande, placing second among ten lodges participating, and two officers named on the all-district team.

Gene Orwick was chosen all-district esteemed loyal knight, and Dave McLeod as all-district chaplain. Others who achieved district honor were Darrell Padberg, 2nd esteemed leading knight, and Marshall Lovgren, 2nd esteemed lecturing knight. Others participating were Claude Graham, exalted ruler; Calvin Sherman, squire, and Bill Siewert, inner guard. Bob Mahoney, tyler, acted as candidate.

At the last regular lodge meeting here, members had an impromptu visit by Frank Hise, Corvallis, member of the Board of Trustees of Grand Lodge. He was accompanied by a friend, and were in the area on a hunting trip.

Special attention has been called by La Verne Van Marter to a special charity bridge party on Sunday afternoon, November 19, at 2:00 p.m. in the lodge social rooms. It is open to the public, and proceeds from the afternoon play will go to state headquarters to be distributed among various worthwhile charities.

Week as Princess Of OSU Homecoming Exciting for Karen

A fun-packed week of OSU Homecoming events has come to a close, but for Princess Karen McCurdy, a popular Oregon State University junior coed, the excitement and honor will hold many pleasant memories. She was able to share some of the last day events, following the Saturday football game, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy, Jr., and with parents of others on the court.

With Queen Sheryl Rossval of Tigard and her princesses, scheduled appearances took them to Portland and to Salem where they publicized the Homecoming activities. Last Wednesday the court was interviewed on a Portland television show, "Beaver Huddle", and presented the keys to the city by Mayor Terry Shrank. They visited the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, and left words of cheer with the small patients. In Salem, they were given an escorted tour of the state capital buildings and met Chief Justice Perry.

Queen Sheryl and her court made an attractive appearance on their miniature floats during halftime of the OSU-WSU game, wearing bright autumn wool suits. Other princesses were Karen Smith, Janet Field and Sandy Emithson. Since Karen is one of the privileged "D-U Darlings" the McCurdys were dinner guests of the Delta Upsilon, and later were royally entertained at a concert by the nationally-known band, "The Association", in Gill coliseum.

Karen is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and was chosen as a member of the "Beaver Belles".
