Chivalry Degree Awarded Member Of Holly Lodge

By DELPHA JONES

LEXINGTON — Mrs. Albert (Edna) Fetsch, a member of Holly Rebekah Lodge No. 139, was one of nine women who were honored and received the Decoration of Chivalry at the annual rally of the Patriarchs Militant of Canton No. 3 in Pendleton on October 21.

The decoration is conferred by the department council of the organization and is the highest award given a Rebekah. Recommended by the home lodge, it is passed by the state council, and is presented to a member for outstanding work in her community, not especially her lodge. Candidates are attired in white formal, with no adornments other than a wedding ring.

Those attending the ceremonies from Lexington were Mrs. Archie Munkers, Mrs. Florence McMillan, Mrs. A. F. Majeske and Bob Fetsch, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fetsch, who is attending Blue Mountain Community College in Pendleton.

Vern Vial left Sunday morning from Pendleton for Los Angeles, Calif., where he will attend a diesel school for a week. Vial is employed in the machinery division of Morrow County Grain Growers, Inc.

Mrs. Alonzo Henderson of Hood River spent last Thursday night in Lexington after attending the District Rebekah Convention on Thursday where she served as district secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Messenger, Sr., visited in The Dalles one day last week where he consulted a physician. Mr. and Mrs. Messenger are staying in Lexington at their home while he is recuperating from recent surgery in The Dalles, where he has been employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hunt and children, Julie and Donald, were week-end visitors in Lexington. Mr. Hunt was one of the successful elk hunters during their stay here. Another daughter, Jill, remained at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Waddill, while the rest were here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Padberg were week-end callers in Portland.

The card party at the Odd Fellow Hall was well attended on Saturday evening with nine tables of pinochle in play. This was the second in the series of six, and the third party is scheduled for December 2.

Lexington Grange has been postponed until November 18, as there were so many conflicting dates. There will be a program and a Thanksgiving potluck dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ward are in Portland to seek medical attention for their son Ronnie, who is to have ear surgery early this week at Portland Sanitarium hospital. Mrs. Grace Buschke, mother of Mrs. Ward, is staying with the other Ward children at their home.
