

Santa Claus Due Here Saturday; Prizes Offered

At Tum-A-Lum Lumber Company, the contest will close at noon on Saturday, the store's closing hour. All others will continue until 4:30 p.m. Winners will be posted after that time on window cards provided each store.

In the past, families have found that all have enjoyed the guessing contest, and there is every indication that they will enjoy it again this year. Families with visitors for the Thanksgiving week-end are invited to bring all along to join the fun. Residents of neighboring communities are especially invited.

Many of the merchants have special bargains to open the holiday season, and all have the best gift ideas in their respective lines for Christmas giving, 1967.

Many are helping Bill Hust, chairman of the merchants committee, in staging the 1967 Christmas Opening under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce.

Randall Peterson, assisting with the candy, said that candy was bought in bulk this year, rather than in bags. Monday night 17 members of the Empire Builders 4-H club pitched in to sack the candy as a community service project. Members are high school age 4-H'ers and Gail McCarty is their leader. Each youngster who comes to visit Santa Saturday will receive one of the bags of candy.

Santa's public relations department has made arrangements with Fire Chief Forrest Burkenbine to use a Heppner fire truck as his taxi on his visit here, and his arrival will be on the truck in the main downtown corner at 2 p.m.

It is expected that Santa will be back at a later date to pay a visit in the Heppner downtown district. Time and date of this will be announced, Hust said.

Through arrangement with the city council, there will be free parking in Heppner all day Saturday and shoppers may take all the time they want in visiting stores without suffering the irritation of a parking ticket.

Attention is called to section 2 of this paper which contains advertisements from Heppner stores for Christmas Opening. Some of the best buys and finest merchandise are listed in these ads.

Mustang Gridmen Named All-Stars For West Team

Randy Stillman and Bill McLeod, both seniors at Heppner High school, were chosen for the all-star western division offense team of the Greater Oregon league in football, it was announced after selections were made last week.

Stillman, who turned out in earnest as a senior after quitting the sport early last year because of an injury, proved to be one of the best running backs in the western division. He also is a fine punter and completes his triple threat ability as a competent passer.

McLeod, who is one of the fastest men in the league, earned his laurels as an end. He and Stillman were among the top scorers for the Mustangs.

Honorable mention went to five Mustang players. On offense, Steve Pettyjohn, end, Alfred Drake, center, and Dave Hall, halfback, were named. On defense, Lee Huson, end, and Terry Corbin, tackle, received honorable mention.

Besides the Heppner players, others chosen for the all-star offense first team were: End, Jack Benson, Madras; tackles, Joe Stensgar, Madras, and Dave Smith, Wahtonka; guards, Darrell Simmons, Grant Union, and Gary Maple, Sherman; center, John Waldrip, Madras; quarterback, Al Kollen, Madras; halfbacks, Chuck Burrill, Grant Union, and Rex Meyer, Wahtonka.

On the defensive unit first team were: Ends, Dave Tall, Madras, and Bob McDonnell, Burns; tackles, Stensgar, Madras, and Gary Marshall, Burns; guard, Ron Iler, Grant Union; linebackers, Mike Weedman, Sherman, Mike Weil, Burns, and Joe Roy, Wahtonka; and halfbacks, Ron Pfeifer, Madras, Tim Irwin, Burns, and Steve Jolley, Grant Union.

Stensgar was the only one named for both offense and defense. Selection of the teams was made at a league meeting in John Day last Wednesday.

Cole Gets Medical Care at Bremerton

MM2 John F. Cole was transferred from the Naval dispensary at the base at Idaho Falls to the U. S. Naval hospital in Bremerton, Wash., by airplane on November 14. He will receive treatments for malaria and also undergo further tests to determine the extent of lung and internal damage received in Cuba and Jamaica early this year. Cole is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark, La Grande, and a 1964 graduate of Heppner High school.

Youth's Arm Cut

Billy Wolff, sophomore at Heppner High school, suffered a lacerated arm at the school Friday night when he accidentally thrust his arm through the glass of an outside door. He was attending the Sadie Hawkins dance and, intending to open the door, he missed the bar that unlatches it, hitting the glass instead. Fortunately, his father, Dr. Wallace Wolff, was one of the chaperons and was handy to treat the injury. The doctor took his son to Pioneer Memorial hospital to close the cut with sutures.

Serial Road Levy Special Election Set December 8

county. Judge Jones declared. They pay a large share of the county's total tax levy.

The judge said that a 5-year levy is sought this time, instead of a 3-year levy, in order to avoid expense of election so frequently and in order that the county can lay plans for a better and more efficient road program on a longer range basis.

Recalling that a serial levy for roads was defeated at the time of the general election in 1964, though it was approved by a later majority a few months later after the floods of December, 1964, and January, 1965, a group of citizens of the county has formed the Morrow County Road Improvement Association. Its primary purpose at this time is to support the forthcoming serial levy. Elected president at a meeting in the courthouse Monday was Norman Nelson of Lexington. W. C. Rosewall of Heppner was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Members of the association contributed funds to take the story of the need for the levy to the public through advertising and a direct mail contact. They also enlisted help of organizations and some business firms in supporting their effort. Many of their names are listed on the advertisement on page 4 of this section.

Judge Jones points out that while the public generally associates county roads with rural areas, a large share of the road levy is apportioned to the incorporated cities for their use. City taxpayers, in turn, pay their share of the road tax.

Not a New Tax
Nelson emphasized that the levy sought in the December 8 election is not a new tax nor an additional levy, but a continuation of the program started in 1948. The amount of the levy has varied according to need, he said. The proposed levy is $25,000 per year greater than the current 3-year levy, but previous levies provided as much as $145,000 annually.

There will be eight polling places in the county. They are announced by Mrs. Sadie Parrish, county clerk, as follows: Northwest Heppner, vacant building next door to Turner, Van Marter and Bryant Insurance Agency; Southeast Heppner, county courthouse; Southwest Heppner, county courthouse; Northeast Heppner, old city library, next to city hall; Boardman, city hall; Irrigon, A. C. Houghton Elementary school; Lexington, city hall; some, city hall.

Mrs. Parrish said that all Hardman registered voters will be sent ballots to vote by absentee because the small number in that precinct will make this the more expedient procedure for voting.

Irrigon Seaman Aboard Repair Ship

Seaman Howard L. Keith, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Keith, Sr., of Irrigon, and husband of the former Miss Janice Arnold of Eugene, is serving as a crew member aboard the repair ship, USS Klondike in Kaohsiung, Taiwan.

The ship has just completed a 12 day tour of duty in Subic Bay, Republic of Philippines, where it provides repair services for U. S. Naval vessels back from Vietnam.

Study Camp Fire Law

The A-o-wa-ki-ya Camp Fire girls met at the Christian church on November 13. We said the Trail Seeker's desire; we learned the Law of Camp Fire, the seven crafts and three ranks. We elected Twilla Riddle as sergeant-at-arms and Robina Riddle as secretary. Bonnie Davis was elected assistant reporter.

We are to save different materials to make Christmas decorations.

Mustang Preview Set November 29; Opener Dec. 8

Mustang Preview and fan's clinic, featuring the Heppner High school basketball team for 1967-68, will be held Wednesday, November 29, at 7 p.m. in the Heppner High gym, Coach Bob Clough announces.

Rule changes and interpretations will be explained, and the team offense and defense for the season will be demonstrated. There will be a squad scrimmage to illustrate the tactics to be used.

Parents and basketball fans are invited. There is no admission charge.

Coach Clough reminds the public that season basketball tickets are available at Turner, Van Marter and Bryant Insurance Agency and at Central Market.

He also points out a schedule change from the big calendars distributed by Gardner's Men's Wear. The first game will be December 12 at lone, instead of December 1 as was announced prior to the time the calendars were printed.

First game of the season for the Mustangs will be Friday, December 8, against Grant Union at Heppner. This will be a nonleague game because the John Day team is now in the eastern division of the Greater Oregon league. The Prospectors, however, are among the pre-season favorites to capture the district crown, and should both they and the Mustangs qualify in their respective divisions, they could meet in the district tournament March 1 and 2, 1968.

'Revolution' Film Set for Showing

High school and college age young people are invited to attend the showing of a 50-minute sound motion picture film, "Berkeley Revolution," at the Heppner Elementary multipurpose room Friday night, beginning at 7 p.m. Adults and children are invited to a showing of the film Saturday night at the same place and starting at the same time.

This picture is being shown here by Heppner area college students headed by Bill Sherman. They feel it is significant in view of some of the confusion existing concerning life on college campuses today and are anxious that others see it.

There is no admission charge. The film is presented through the Campus Crusade for Christ, International. Refreshments will be served, and a discussion period will follow after the refreshment intermission Friday night for students who wish to remain to participate or listen.

Makes Honor Roll

The name of Deborah Barnett was omitted from a list of Heppner High school students who have been placed on the honor roll. Deborah, a junior this year, has achieved a grade point average of 3.33.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones and family were in Eugene over the week-end to visit with Mrs. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fellers, and to attend the OSU-U of O game. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Leslie Wills of Redmond visited over the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Mary Ulrich. She returned home on Monday.

Emma Breshears, 62-Year Resident, Dies of Illness

Funeral services were held this week for Emma Mary Cecilia Breshears, 78, who died Sunday, November 19, in Pioneer Memorial hospital following a lingering illness.

She was a 62-year resident of the Lexington community, faithfully serving the community as its postmaster for 45 years, from 1914 until the time of her retirement in May, 1959.

Recitation of the rosary was Tuesday, November 21, at 7:30 p.m., and funeral mass was in her memory Wednesday morning, November 22, at 10:00 a.m., both at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Heppner. Celebration was the Rev. Father Raymond Beard. Vault interment followed in Heppner Masonic cemetery, with Sweeney Mortuary in charge of the arrangements.

Born May 29, 1889, at Kentland, Ind., she was the daughter of Mary Willow and Charles B. Wright. She was married to Charles H. Breshears, who preceded her in death in 1954.

Mrs. Breshears was a friend to all in her home community, active in many of its civic affairs, and devoting most of her life to service through the post office. Her husband, a rural carrier, worked with her in handling the mail until the time of his death. Their daughter, Mrs. Marie Steagall, then assisted her until the time of Mrs. Breshears' retirement at the age of 70 years. At that time she was honored by her community at a surprise reception at the IOOF hall.

She was a member of the Lexington Altar Society and of St. Patrick's Catholic church. She served as a news correspondent for several years and operated a small variety store in the front of the post office. Among her civic activities was serving as a March of Dimes chairman when the program was first started under President Franklin Roosevelt.

Mrs. Breshears served as an independent insurance broker, and from 1932 until 1951 she was also an express agent for the American Express company.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Marie Steagall, Lexington; Mrs. Vera Steagall, Portland; Mrs. Helen Crump, Corvallis; Mrs. Edwina Richelderfer, The Dalles; also one stepsister, Mrs. Agnes Noble, Walla Walla, Wash.; 21 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

From 1923 until her retirement
