Eugene Man Heads Cancer Crusade

Earl Pallett, Ph.D., of Eugene, former secretary of the Oregon State Board of Higher Education, will serve as chairman of the 1968 crusade of the American Cancer Society's Oregon division, according to Dr. Alfred C. Hutchinson, division president.

The crusade is held during April which has been designated cancer control month by the U. S. congress.

Dr. Pallett has served the cancer organization as a volunteer in Lane county for several years and was vice-chairman of the statewide crusade last year. Before becoming associated with the state board of higher education, he was with the University of Oregon from 1927 to 1955 as registrar, assistant to the president and director of teacher placement.

In accepting the chairmanship, Dr. Pallett pointed out that the crusade has a two-fold purpose: to raise funds to finance the division programs in research, education and service and to educate the public about cancer, particularly its 7 danger signals.

He said that preparations for
