

Delegation to Ask For Project Funds

the proposed public works projects in the United States, Cowen pointed out.
However, he added that the Northwest is entitled to more support than it has been receiving, adding that more than half the land in the Northwest is under federal ownership as compared with only 5 1/4% federal ownership on the average in the other contiguous 48 states.

"The only way to advance our cause is to get people in the area solidly behind us," he said.
"We haven't finished; we've just started," he concluded.
Film on UCLA-Oregon State University football was shown as a program feature at the meeting. President Dave Baker was in charge of the meeting and Peterson introduced the speaker. Next meeting, in Ione, will be Ladies Night, President Baker said.

.01-Inch Rainstorm!

The "Little White Cloud that Cried" during the week — last Thursday to be exact — brought only .01 inch of rain. That was the biggest rainstorm the week could claim. Don Gilliam, weather observer, reports that the total precipitation from September 1, 1967, to May 1, 1968, was 5.90 inches, nearly four inches less than the normal of 9.82 inches. Total precipitation for April was only .23 as compared with the normal of 1.31 inches for that month. Sunday brought the highest temperature of the year at 85 degrees. Complete report for the week is as follows:

Johnson Chosen For Arts Institute

Lloyd Johnson, industrial arts instructor at Ione High school, has been notified that he has been accepted for advanced summer training at the Institute in Industrial Arts at the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks, under the National Defense Education Act.

Johnson was one of 25 teachers selected from more than 300 applicants over the nation. The eight-weeks special training will be given June 17 to August 10, with all expenses paid. Among the many educational areas which will be covered during the institute sessions for instructors will be new methods in teaching, shop organization and personnel management, how modern progress in industries are related to education, and various other up-to-date ideas which can be put to use at the high school level.

The Johnson family will remain at their home in Ione during his attendance at the institute.

Favorite Hymn Selected in Poll

"The Old Rugged Cross" was declared a favorite hymn in Heppner, according to a poll conducted Saturday by the Heppner Seventh-day Adventist church.
Pastor Henry Preston of the Adventist church reports that his congregation polled 140 persons, knocking on doors all over town.

Pollsters maintained three categories—one each for children, teenagers, and adults.
"Strikingly," said Pastor Preston, "the teenagers of Heppner agreed with their parents in both top choice and second choice, both groups choosing 'Rock of Ages,' as their second choice."

"It will be interesting to see how results here will compare with the findings of the nationwide hymn poll of which our poll was a part," the minister commented. Results from the United States and Canada will be featured in October by the national radio and television programs, Voice of Prophecy and Faith for Today."

Conservation Tour Scheduled May 24

On Friday, May 24, a tour is scheduled of the Peterson Brothers operations and study of their conservation practices which this year earned Herbert and Robert Peterson of Ione the 1968 Morrow County Conservation award. The tour will be conducted on the farm operated by the Peterson brothers on Hardman Ridge, near Valby church and west of Gooseberry near Dry Fork.

Support Appreciated

Sixth grade teachers, Mrs. Inez Erwin and Tom Caldwell, report words of praise and appreciation for the fine response of parents and students in their grade in raising money for the band carnival held April 20. Various sales of homebaked cakes and cupcakes before the carnival added about $100 to the carnival funds, and sponsorship of the cake walk on carnival night added over $50. The teachers were grateful to support of parents, and also to the public in their purchases, helping in its success. The class representatives, Christy Bradley and John Myers, thereby won the honor as queen and king of the carnival.

Store Lists Winners

Twelve prize winners have been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Van Blokland, owners of Van's Variety, in connection with their week-long sale and Moonlight Sale Friday night.
The winners are as follows: Men—Paul Heinrichs, Dean Connor, and Ken Evans. Women—Betty Doherty, Marylee Hiemstra, and Marge Kenny. Boys—Duane Steers, Troy Simmons, and David Allstott. Girls—Chris Evans, Cindy Leonnig, and Cathy Kenny.

Mrs. Olive Hughes returned to her home Saturday, April 27, after spending several weeks in California visiting relatives. Mrs. Hughes made the trip home accompanied by Mrs. Tom Hughes and Pamela and a friend, Shelby Trask, all of Monroe, where Mrs. Hughes had visited recently. Mrs. Tom Hughes, past matron, attended the O.E.S. reception for Mrs. Dick Wilkinson while in Heppner. Also accompanying the group to Heppner was Mrs. Hughes' daughter, Mary Olive, The Dalles, who will remain here to visit until Friday.

Touring 8th Graders Visit Ranches Here

they ate their sack lunches here. In the final stop of the day they saw the purebred cattle operation at the Kirk and Robinson ranch, where Don Robinson gave them pointers about good beef animals.

The visitors then went back to their host families' home and visited with them until mid-day Sunday. They boarded the bus early Sunday afternoon and headed for the freeway back to Portland.

Route of the tour this year covered a number of ranches that had not been visited on previous tours, as the committee in charge seeks to vary the itinerary from year to year to show off the many fine Morrow county operations.

When they left Sunday, the Portlanders took with them samples of bulgar, copies of wheat recipes, booklets and pens from Morrow County Grain Growers, and some souvenir copies of the Gazette-Times—as well as their sunburns and happy memories.

Paul Tewes and Dick McElligott were co-chairmen of this tour this year. The principal host and sponsor is the Morrow County Wheat Growers association and cooperating sponsors include the Morrow county schools, Morrow County Extension Service, the Morrow County Livestock Growers association, and the Heppner Soil and Water Conservation District.

Chaperones were Bob Reyburn of Boise school in Portland and Mrs. Alice Ellis of Binnmead school in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Martin of Corvallis visited from Friday through Saturday at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ellen Campbell. Martin is completing his last term at Oregon State University and plans to teach agriculture at Moro during the coming year.

Evangelistic Team Schedules Meetings

Evangelists Kenneth and Lily Wells, of Whitefish, Mont., will present a Christ-centered program of constructive evangelism at the Heppner Church of the Nazarene from May 9-19, at 7:30 p.m., according to announcement by Rev. Paul Tesch, pastor.

Wells is the composer of many gospel songs and a number of gospel cantatas. He has also authored several books, three of which have been published: "God's Footstool" (1964), "The Future Revealed" (1965), and "The Quest for Christlikeness" (1967). His sermon-lecture on the Bible and science entitled, "Cycle of the Earth's History," marks a high point of interest and attendance in every revival. He is also a singer, trombonist, and autoharpist.

Mrs. Wells ably assists her husband in the preaching and in their ministry of music. Her nightly presentation of a variety of special features add much to the interest of the services.

Mrs. Ilene Wyman combined business and pleasure during a recent stay in Portland. She attended hospital meetings on Monday and Tuesday, April 22-23, and on the week-end enjoyed a visit with her daughter, Sheridan, who is in nurses training at Emanuel hospital. She also attended a wedding on Saturday and with others enjoyed viewing the "Don Ho" Hawaiian show in the Portland coliseum Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Rood and daughter were in Elgin over the week-end to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rood. The father, who has been ill the past month in Grande Ronde hospital, is now at home and making satisfactory progress.

Mrs. Norman Griffin and daughter Sheryl, and Mrs. Manuel Martinez and three children, T. J. Dawn and Colleen, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cox on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. The visitors, from Portland, made the trip to cheer Mrs. Griffin's mother, Mrs. Jessie Griffin at Pioneer Memorial hospital. Other visitors at the Cox home later in the week were Cox's aunts, Mrs. Gladys Walker, Portland, and Mrs. Lillian Cook of Oregon City.

Mrs. Bruce Rigby traveled to Connell, Wash., on Saturday, where she went to take part in wedding ceremonies for Miss Carolyn Schutz and Fred Fine. She visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sammie Schipps, before returning home on Sunday.
