

Primary Election May 28; Voters Face Long Ballots

Office of justice of the peace, 6th district, which Lowell Gribble holds also will not be on the nonpartisan primary ballot because he is running unopposed. He, too, will be on the general election ballot in the fall.

Three state measures complete the lineup facing voters. These are combined with the judiciary positions on the nonpartisan ballot. Included are:

1. Common school fund constitutional amendment, which would amend the constitution authorizing the State Land Board to expend moneys in the Common School Fund in carrying out its powers and duties to the end that the greatest benefit shall be obtained from the conservation and management of the land resource.

2. Constitutional amendment changing initiative-referendum requirements. Basis for determining number of signatures for initiative and referendum petitions would be made on the total votes cast for governor at preceding election at which governor was elected for four-year term instead of from the total votes cast for Supreme Court Justice as is presently the case. It also changes percentages required.

3. Higher Education and Community college bonds. It would amend the Oregon constitution and establish a new bonding limitation for higher education and community college educational and general purpose building programs at an amount equal to three-fourths of one percent of true cash value of taxable property in the state. It would increase the bonding limit for the college from $30 million to approximately $130 million on the present true cash value of property in the state.

Ballots Ready
Ballots have been printed by The Gazette-Times and have been delivered to the county clerk. The local shop also printed ballots for Wheeler and Gilliam counties.

Mrs. Sadie Parrish, county clerk, is distributing ballots to absentee voters at the present time.

Sample ballots also are available from her office. Facsimile ballots will be published in The Gazette-Times next week to afford voters an opportunity to study them.

Illness Claims Bess Huddleston

Funeral services were held Monday, May 6, at Sweeney Mortuary Chapel for Bess Huddleston, 82, who died Friday, May 3, at St. Anthony hospital in Pendleton.

The long-time Heppner resident was born May 12, 1886, at Sigourney, Iowa. She was a resident of Heppner for 40 years, and had lived previously at Lonerock for a time before coming to Heppner. She was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Survivors include a brother, Ray Huddleston of Hermiston, and several nieces.

Concluding services were held Tuesday, May 7, at Lincoln Memorial Park in Portland.

Projects Talked At Monday Meet

The Forest Service has also asked for a firm price on the property he holds at Kelly, but Cutsforth said that if it is sold to the government there is no way to tell when it could be developed for recreational use.

Cutsforth said that he felt something must be done right away to form a plan of procedure. Judge Paul Jones said that he believes there is little hope now of getting Bureau of Outdoor Recreation funds. He said that the Kelly project would be the biggest fish impoundment in the state, and it is estimated that campgrounds and roads would eventually cost about $875,000.

It was agreed that the chamber's recreation and park committee, which Cutsforth heads, and the county development committee, which Judge Jones heads, will meet to consider what action might be appropriate.

The judge also read a letter from Cong. Al Ullman stating the belief that the Willow Creek project is assured as soon as funds can be made available.

Rev. Al Boschee extended thanks of the Christian church for the hospitality extended to the Eastern Oregon Christian Churches' convention over the week-end and especially for the "Welcome" signs displayed through the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce in local stores.

Green Finishes Term Of Vietnam Service

S/Sgt. Samuel O. Green, son of Mrs. Verle Richardson of Heppner, is spending a 45-day leave of absence here visiting his family. Sgt. Green will report to Ft. Lewis, Wash., for assignment, after returning from Que Nhon, Vietnam, where he completed an 18-month tour of duty as commander of convoy units. Green had previously served a year in Vietnam, but voluntarily signed for an additional tour of duty. He entered the service in September, 1960, and will soon have eight years accumulated service time.

Councilmen Cover Range of Matters At Monthly Meet

police, it touched off some intra-council debate that became rather heated.

McLeod said that the police car had been observed in the mountains several times, the last being on a search for a lost girl. He said that he had been asked why the police car was out of town and wanted information as to the limits of the city police jurisdiction.

Councilman Balfe said he felt that the question should be asked of the chief of police first and not brought up in council meeting since it posed the wrong inference.

McLeod countered that he was merely seeking information and that the city may wish to change a rule on the matter if it is necessary to go out of town.

When the joust was over, the matter was referred to the police committee.

Contract Accepted
Bid of Percy E. Jellum, contractors, to do street sealing work in Heppner was accepted at a total price of $2600. The council will ask that the work be done before July 1. Councilman Jerry Sweeney suggested that since the bid was below expectations that balance of funds available be used to pave the parking area across the street from the swimming pool. It was decided to get the work done if it can be done at a favorable rate.

A letter was read from Captain Dave Hall of the Heppner High basketball team expressing the team's appreciation for the city's support during the state basketball tournament. The letter was written some time ago but came in too late to be read at the previous council meeting.

Fire Inspection Made
A letter from the Oregon Insurance Rating Bureau, dated April 25, expressed appreciation for cooperation received in a recent inspection here to evaluate the city for fire insurance rating. The letter said that the gradings would not be completed for some time.

Mayor Rosewall said that Cleanup Day in Heppner will be May 23, and he will issue a proclamation to that effect. The high school will cooperate in the effort.

Announcement was made of the regional meeting of the League of Oregon Cities which will be in Pendleton on May 23. It is expected that some of Heppner's city officers will attend.

Act on Curfews
A discrepancy between the city and county curfews was pointed out at the meeting. County curfew calls for youths under 18 be off the streets on week nights by 11 p.m. The city curfew, passed in 1940, requires all under 16 to be off the streets by 9 p.m. Motion was made to take action to bring the city's curfew in line with the county.

Harley Sager Promoted Again

Harley Sager, who left Heppner for Merrill about a year ago to accept a promotion with the First National Bank of Oregon, has been named assistant manager of the Ontario branch of the banking system. He and his family moved to Ontario early in April.

Sager was with the Heppner branch of the bank for several years after coming here from Nyssa. The move to Ontario from Merrill is "sort of like going back home," he said, since it is so close to Nyssa.

The Sagers were here recently on a week-end visit and enjoyed seeing some of their many friends here again. Sager served as treasurer of the Heppner-Morrow county Chamber of Commerce during the time he was here, and the family was active in other community affairs.
