

Princess Susan Attends Round-up Court Party

By DIANA KINCAID

IONE—As a Pendleton Round-up princess, Miss Susan Lindstrom attended a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard King, president of the Round-Up Association, and Mrs. Doris Bounds, chaperone of the Happy Canyon princesses.

The party, held at the boat-house of Mrs. Bounds' at Hat Rock honored Queen Mary Thompson and her court.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lindstrom, with other parents of the court and invited guests, enjoyed the day of water skiing.

Rev. F. W. Luedde, accompanied by his wife, Allison, and son, Colt, arrived here Tuesday from New Haven, Conn., to begin his pastorate here at the Ione United Church of Christ. The Lueddes were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rietmann for several days before they could get temporarily settled in the parsonage due to the failure of their furniture to arrive by van.

Darrell Wilson was home from his studies at Ashland for a visit with his family this week, as was Harold Beggs who has been going to summer school in Washington.

Lions Club members, wives and invited guests gathered at the mountain cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Don Heliker for their annual family picnic on Sunday, June 30.

Mrs. Wate Crawford was the honored guest at a birthday party given last Tuesday afternoon by her daughter, Mrs. Mitt Morgan. Guests helping Mrs. Crawford celebrate were granddaughters, Anita and Cindy Crawford; her daughter, Mrs. Ted Miller and children; and Mrs. Mable Cotter, Mrs. Edith Nicholson, Mrs. Delsie Chapel, Mrs. Mary Lundell, Mrs. Darlene Gardner, Mrs. Ella Burroyne and Mrs. Frances Spouse.

Neal Crawford of Albany is here for a few weeks to visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Dalzell, Patti Crawford, Mrs. Wilma Gaarsland and Mary Ann drove from Portland Saturday to help the Dalzells move some cattle.

Miss Lee O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connor, recently spent a week in New York visiting the United Nations. A highlight of the trip was meeting U Thant and hearing him address the general assembly. She was housed on campus of Sarah Lawrence College while attending meetings in New York. Miss O'Connor was sponsored by the Model United Nations of the University of Oregon. Following a sight-seeing tour of Washington, D. C., Lee is presently employed there in the City Office of Housing Relocation.

Mrs. Keith Peck and Natalie arrived last Tuesday by train from their home in Portland. Following a visit with the Milton Morgans, Keith drove down on Friday to take them home.

Mrs. Ida Coleman and Robbie Williams returned home this week following a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Pete Crawford in Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Ekstrom in Seattle. Driving home with Mrs. Coleman were Vickie Ekstrom and Neal Crawford.

Enjoying a July 4 picnic in the mountains near Ditch Creek were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hammond and children, Mr. and Mrs. Len Schwarz and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Healy and children, Mrs. Ida Coleman and Vickie Ekstrom.

Leaving this week to attend classes at Eastern Oregon College was Barbara Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnett drove to Seattle last week to take their grandson, Rollie Anne, home to his parents. Rollie had been visiting relatives here for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Peterson took their son Paul to Lutheran Church Camp near Tollgate on Sunday.

Clifford Aldrich had the misfortune to be the victim of a freak accident on last Tuesday. While he was cleaning some painting equipment with gas under extreme high pressure, some was forced through his fingers and up his left arm. He was rushed to the hospital by Mrs. Don Ball. After treatment in Pioneer Memorial hospital he was released on Friday.

Pat Thornton of The Dalles was guest of Berniece Matthews at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Matthews, for the week-end. The couple attended the kickoff dance in Heppner on Saturday.

Ricky Boyce recently returned from Krebs. Brother's Sheep ranch in Montana where he was guest of Clint Krebs. He traveled by train to the ranch but returned by car with Mr. and Mrs. John Krebs of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bristow of Ione, their daughter, Mrs. Ernie McCabe, and son, Tom Bristow of Portland, traveled to Nampa, Idaho, last Friday and Saturday where they spent two days visiting friends and renewing acquaintances. The family formerly lived in Idaho before moving to Eastern Oregon.

Students, Parents Give Opinions On School Policy

(Ed. Note: This continues results of a questionnaire on Heppner High school policy as compiled from answers given by some 50 parents and 20 students at a recent meeting at the school).

Question 5: Students may now leave school during the school day if they have a valid reason and if they check out through the office. Would you be in favor of an automatic suspension if they leave school during school hours without clearing through the office?

Parents' answers: 25 yes, 17 no. Students' answers: 5 yes, 14 no.

Parents' comments: "Yes, the students should be able to accept responsibility as servicemen go AWOL." (No students' comments).

6: Do you believe the school district should continue to furnish the present student accident insurance?

Parents: 37 yes, 4 no. Students: 17 yes, 3 no.

Parents' comments: "Yes, however they should have a policy that is not secondary."

"Yes, or get good insurance coverage and discard what has been carried."

"No, we have our own."

"If the child is not covered by other insurance."

"Yes. Better policy should be provided."

"Yes, it is well worth it."

Students' comments: "If an accident happens at school, it should be covered by the school."

7. Have you read the present student handbook?

Parents: 24 yes, 20 no. Students: 15 yes, 4 no.

Parents' comments: "No, I didn't even see it."

"Yes, handbooks should be handed out to incoming freshmen at the end of their eighth grade year."

(No student comments).

8. What is your opinion about the present number of school activities (dances, parties, ball games, etc.)?

Parents: Too many, 5; sufficient, 35; not enough, 0. Students: Too many, 0; sufficient, 11; not enough, 8.

Parents' comments: "I think the school is doing a great job. The school is the center of social activities in this rural community."

"There could be more dances or parties during the spring to the end of the year. Boys should be encouraged to take girls to dances."

"More school activities and less athletics."

"Too many food sales downtown."

"Maybe too many for the school is not a baby sitting institution."

"Too many, too much activities. More time should be spent studying and less time running around."

"Scheduling is very poor. Nothing for a month, then a week of many activities."

"The number of dances with live music, late hours and high costs is excessive."

Students' comments: "Should be more dances, sock hops, put on by the classes; need more noontime activities."

"Enough games, but not enough dances and parties, etc., after games or on weekends when nothing else is going on. In the summer the school should be allowed to give dances."

"Not enough field trips (science and etc.)."

"If more activities were provided students are less likely to be driving around town."

"It is up to the student to allot his time wisely. The school does provide sufficient opportunities from which the students can choose."

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Jones have had as their guests their three granddaughters, Mrs. Leonard Peterson and son and daughter of Portland, and Miss Jody Washburn and Miss Jean Washburn, both of Springfield. The visitors arrived Tuesday and remained until Thursday at the home of their grandparents. They also spent time visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones.

Miss Sheridan Wymon visited her mother, Mrs. Ilene Wymon, and other relatives here over the week-end of June 29 and 30. She was accompanied from Portland by three house guests, Edward Tarnasky, Gary Booth and Ceri Wellin, who are either college students or hospital employees in the city.

Sewage Treatment Plant Expansion By '71 Faces City

Faced with the necessity of increasing the size of the sewage treatment plant by the year 1971 by order of the State, Heppner city councilmen discussed the matter at the regular meeting July 1.

They received application forms from Clark and Groff, engineers, to use in seeking state and federal government grants, and also received cost estimates on the proposal.

The figure of $35,000 was placed on the actual work with an additional $9,000 for engineer's fees and other items for a total of $44,000. Of the $35,000, a steel sludge storage tank would cost $14,000, sludge heaters would be $8,000, piping and recirculating pump would be $6,000, repairs to the present digester $3,000, recondition the mixer $1,000; and $3,000 for a tank for sludge hauling.

The city has started a fund for costs of the work and a sum of $5000 is included in the budget for the fiscal year 1968-69.

The engineers said that federal grants are available up to 30% of the cost and that a combined state and federal grant may go as much as 75%. However, they said that the state grant would not appear to be available.

While the plant was designed for a city of 3,000, overloads occur and create an odor problem.

The application forms were turned over to the health and sanitation committee for recommendation.

Zone Change Underway

Dick Robison, who applied to the city for an amendment to the commercial zone under the zoning ordinance to permit construction of a trailer pad on Chase street, was present for a hearing on the matter after due publication and other formalities had been completed. The planning commission informed the council that it had no objection to the change.

The council consequently authorized an amendment to allow the conditional use in the commercial zone, but it must yet go through the regular procedure for amending an ordinance until the matter is finalized.

Another request, this by the Seventh-day Adventist church, received sympathetic response from the council, but it had to be denied because of provisions of the zoning ordinance.

The church asked permission to place a sign on Gale street to point the direction to the church location. A review of the ordinance showed that such a sign is not permissible in a residential zone, and so the permit could not be granted.

Water Discussed

Gall McCarty appeared at the meeting in regard to his proposal that parties interested in using water effluent from the sewage treatment plant get together to work out a plan for sharing the water. At a previous meeting, P. W. Mahoney appeared and asked for the water to irrigate the golf course. When McCarty later suggested a sharing plan, the council favored a meeting of the interested parties. However, no such meeting has been held as yet.

Consequently the council has not acted. It held to its position that such a meeting be arranged. McCarty wishes to use the water for irrigating his acreage at the edge of town.

Case Dismissed

Attorney Bob Abrams announced that a civil case in justice court filed by R. S. Anslow against the city had been dismissed. The plaintiff asked for damages on the contention that a dip in the street across Willow at the Main intersection had caused his motorbike to flip from a trailer with resultant damage.

Abrams said that when the case was dismissed, Anslow announced that he would appeal to circuit court, but no papers to this effect have been served on the city as yet.

Alley Talked

More discussion was held on the proposed alley between Willow and Center streets through the block between Main and Chase. No conclusions were reached other than that the street committee will talk again with property owners and consider the matter further.

The city was asked to take title to a 1962 pickup from the Rural Fire Protection district. Some concern was expressed about cost of insurance and maintenance, but the city attorney was asked to draw up an agreement to be resubmitted.

Supt. Vic Groshens announced that street work, authorized at a previous meeting, had been completed on Monday. He also reported that a state inspector was finding a number of things to complain about at the city pool.

The council agreed that any such items should be submitted to the council in writing from the state. General feeling was that the city had done well in getting the new pool constructed with its excellent facilities and had "gone far enough" in satisfying the state requirements.

Mr. and Mrs. Dove McLeod and family spent the July 4 week-end in Seattle visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Boxzy and family.

Mrs. James Hager left Pendleton by plane Wednesday, June 26, from where she flew to Medford to spend five days visiting her mother, Mrs. Alonzo Wright. She returned home Monday, July 1.
