Meadowood Camp Needs $2,400 Aid

More than 450 persons went through the barbecue line July 14 during the "open house" at Meadowood Springs Speech Camp on Weston Mountain. Camp Director Ernest Cristler termed it the largest and most successful in the camp's history.

Signing the guest register were persons from California, Washington, Illinois and Oregon with persons coming from Portland and all parts of Umatilla, Morrow, Grant and Union counties.

Jack Kesling, Milton-Freewater, president of Oregon Institute for Rehabilitation and Research, sponsor of Meadowood Springs Speech Camp, announced at a meeting of the board of directors following the "open house" that there is an urgent need for $2,400 in additional scholarship money to allow 11 Umatilla county and one Walla Walla youngster to attend the third session of camp.

Kesling explained that an unusually large demand for scholarships this year has used all the available money and the camp is now faced with refusing the local youngsters who have made application but cannot afford to pay the fee.

Plans are being finalized this week in cooperation with young people all over the county to extend the "helping hand" program to Pilot Rock, Echo, Hermiston, Weston, Athena and Milton-Freewater. Teenage leaders in each of these communities are being called upon to help.

Scholarship requests this year totaled some $17,000 and all but $2,400 has come from organizations, business firms and individuals throughout Oregon and Washington, as well as California-based firms.

Kesling sent out a plea for help from anyone who wishes to help these local youngsters in any way, to call the Pendleton office, 276-2742, or write to P. O. Box 1025 in Pendleton immediately.
