

Opinions Given On School Policy At Heppner High

(Ed. Note: This continues a series of articles on opinions of parents and students on school policies at Heppner High as compiled from a recent questionnaire presented to them.)

Question 14—Do you favor our present eligibility requirements for student participation in school activities?

Parents: Yes 35, no 7. Students: Yes 13, no 6.
Parents' comments:
 "If each individual is viewed as to his own ability."
 "Eligibility requirements are not strict enough. All students should have to maintain a certain grade average and enforce these, including sports."
 "I think that any child could have at least average grades or better."
 "Parents should be contacted if put on probation."
Students' comments:
 "No comments . . ."

Question 15—Do you feel that the training rules for athletics should be emphasized more and an attempt made towards more enforcement?

Parents: Yes 41, no 2. Students: Yes 24, no 5.
Parents' comments:
 "I believe the students should help in developing the rules and enforcing them."
 "If they are really interested in doing a good job for the sport they should be willing to keep fit and in training."
 "Athletes breaking training without punishment demoralize the school."
 "Mainly at discretion of coaches."
 "No favors should be allowed, no matter who the student is."
Students' comments:
 "Yes, because what good are the training rules if the members do not follow them and the rules are made for them."
 "Absolutely. In the majority of high schools in the state there are rules that are enforced. Athletes should have a certain responsibility and pride in the work he does, and in his school."

Question 16—Should seniors be allowed a skip day if they are required to plan this in advance with administrative approval and to travel in school district transportation?

Parents: Yes 40, no 4. Students: Yes 19, no 1.
Parents' comments:
 "As a planned day not just a skip day."
 "Planned field trip at students expense o.k., Skip day, No."

 "Yes, only if organized and all participate."
 "Field trips, yes . . . Skip days, No."
Students' comments:

 "It is probably the last real 'get together' the seniors will have before graduation."
 "Yes, they deserve it."
 "Yes, as long as they have a field trip sort of thing."
 "Yes, planned and at their expense."

Question 17—Do you favor early dismissal each year for seniors? (Presently they are dismissed about one week early.)

Baking Contest Billed at Fairs

As county fair times are just around the corner, the housewives of our Eastern Oregon wheat counties are reminded of the Oregon Wheat Growers League cake baking contest. These counties consist of Baker, Union, Wallowa, Umatilla, Morrow, Gilliam, Sherman, Wasco and Jefferson.

Prizes will be $5, $3, and $2 with the winner entitled to enter the state contest where $100 awaits the winner. This bake-off will be held at the "Polly Pacific" kitchen in Portland during the League's annual convention December 9, 1968.

Any woman or man, excluding professional bakers, 21 or over, are eligible from the counties listed above. All entries must be taken to the local county fair. Each contestant must use the same cake and icing recipes as shown in your county premium book.

Additional information may be secured from your county agent's office or by writing the League office, Box 400, Pendleton, Ore. 97801.

Physicals Required In Starting School

Parents of prospective first and ninth grade public school students are reminded of the need for physical and dental examinations for these students, as required by Oregon School Law. The completed forms are to be presented at the school at the beginning of the fall term. Parents are urged to see their doctor and dentist and have their child's required examination done as soon as possible, according to Mrs. Lowell Chally, R. N., Morrow County Health Department.

Oregon Pupil Medical Record or "Goldenrod" forms may be obtained at the private physicians' office, or at the Morrow County Health Department.

In addition, first graders must present a birth certificate. Application forms are available in the Health Department or will be mailed upon request.

last week anyway."
 "Get them out before semester tests begin."
 "Providing they stay away from school unless its for a meeting, or practice for graduation."
 "This doesn't have to be cut and dried."
 "If the administration favors it."
Students' comments:
 "I think that a student's senior year is one to look forward to. As it is, there are not too many privileges for the seniors alone. I think that seniors should be definitely allowed early dismissal."
 "The final week would be almost useless to the seniors as well as the instructors, in reference to this year's. Concerning the business people, releasing the seniors a week earlier just prepares them for when the other grades are released."

community is used to following. The officer must recognize the genius of the American system which gives no man absolute power."

A police officer must employ legal means in accomplishing his ends, and he has a "terrific" personal obligation to set an example in private life because of his personal identification as an upholder of the law, the chief said.

"Not only the individual officer but an entire department is judged by the actions of one individual," he added. "He must not lose sight of the fact that he is a servant of the people."

As to the recent Supreme Court decisions indicating that officers have sometimes violated certain rights of the individual, Chief Kolkhorst said, "We undoubtedly have been wrong. That is one thing that we as law enforcement officers are trying to do something about."

He told of the care that an officer should exercise in accepting gifts and favors.

"Sometimes an officer bends a little by accepting a cup of coffee in a restaurant or an apple from a fruit stand . . . but the least little crevice we leave, someone is around to expand on it."

The chief told of the importance of an officer's attitude towards his position. He must regard his duty as a public trust. He must give the very best possible application of science to the solution of crimes.

He stressed also the importance of human relationships and said that he must work towards public safety at all times.

Umatilla County Fair to Crown Queen August 7

Umatilla county fair posters for 1968 feature a picture of the four fair princesses: Jimmie Stephens, Umatilla; Kathy Gillette, Hermiston; Jean Ann Ringhand and Cheryl Nelson, both of Milton-Freewater. These young ladies, together with chaperone Wilma and Vic Kelly, have had a full and busy summer attending luncheons, entertaining, visiting communities in the surrounding areas, and during all this advertising and promoting the county fair.

Coronation ceremonies are scheduled for Wednesday evening, August 7, at 7:30 p.m., at the high school athletic stadium adjoining the south side of the fair grounds in Hermiston weather permitting. At that time, and not before, the girl who will be the 1968 fair queen will know who she is. In order to give the most deserving young lady the distinction of being queen, each girl is carefully observed during the pre-fair season. Factors considered in selecting the queen are cooperation, dependability, attitude, and appearance.

The 4-H style revue will be conducted immediately following the coronation ceremony at the same location.

Fair dates are August 7-10.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Oggletree of Brookings visited last week at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Batty while on a vacation trip. The couple were former Heppner residents, and Mrs. Oggletree was a teacher in the Heppner schools for many years before moving.

Herman Winters Help on Platform

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Winter were home again Monday after spending the previous several days at Gearhart where they took an active part in formation of the Republican party platform for Oregon prior to the national convention at Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Winter, Republican chairman for Morrow county, served on the platform committee, and her husband was on the rules committee. About 260 party members were at the convention. Highlights included appearances and talks by a number of Republican governors, including Gov. Tom McCall.

As a sidelight, Winter said that he noticed at Astoria three ships loading logs for Japan and learned that price was considerably higher than being paid on the domestic market. The matter of export of logs is a particularly pertinent issue at this time.

Auto Hits Bicycle; Boy's Hurts Minor

Chuck Davidson, son of Mrs. June Field, sustained only minor injury Monday morning when he was knocked from his bicycle in the Main and Willow intersection after being hit by a car driven by Cary Davis of Heppner.

Davis, proceeding north, was traveling at a very slow rate of speed through the intersection, apparently preparing to stop for pedestrians starting to cross from west to east. In watching them, he evidently did not notice the boy entering the intersection from the east. The boy rode in front of the car and the collision ensued.

Davis stopped his car immediately. Chuck suffered abrasions to one knee. Davis took the boy to a doctor for examination. The bicycle was somewhat damaged from the impact.

Groshens Admitted To Portland Hospital

Emile Groshens was admitted to Good Samaritan hospital in Portland last Monday, July 22, for medical observation. After extensive tests, it was found that he will not undergo surgery at this time, but will remain there for some time for therapy treatments.

Mrs. Groshens was with him in Portland last week and is now spending a few days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Carter and infant son, Sean Morgan, on Whidby Island, Wash., near Oak Harbor, where he is stationed.

Symbol to Mark Quality Products

A new symbol of Oregon excellence was launched today.

Oregon agricultural products, long known for their consistently high quality, will become even more widely heralded with the advent of the "Landmark of Quality."

Conceived by the Agri-Business Council, the "Landmark of Quality" program utilizes a distinctive symbol to identify prime Oregon products in the American marketplace.

Marion T. Weatherford, president of the Agri-Business Council, explains the reason for the program this way.

"Oregon grows nearly every crop native to the temperate zone. Because of the state's mild climate, cool nights, fertile soil, abundant rainfall, and skilled growers and processors, we produce a variety of food and fiber products that are unsurpassed in quality anywhere in the world."

Following a week's visit with relatives in Portland, Mrs. Mattie Green returned home Sunday. She was a guest of her sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Les Lundblad, and Mr. and Mrs. Omar McCaleb, and families, and enjoyed attending the Multnomah county fair at Gresham. The McCalebs and two daughters brought her home Sunday and enjoyed visiting friends here while attending the Methodist church picnic at the courthouse park in the afternoon.
