

Inland Waterways Named To Sponsor Dam Dedication

With the approaching completion of John Day Dam on the Columbia River, one phase of the planned river program developed by Inland Empire Waterways Association is becoming an accomplished fact. So, it is only fitting that IEWA should be selected to sponsor the dedication of John Day Dam, Saturday, September 28.

Charles Baker, president of IEWA, and Andrew J. Cook, chairman of the Commission of Public Docks, Portland, are co-chairmen for the event, aided by many prominent people from Portland to Lewiston, Idaho, who are serving on various committees.

President Lyndon Johnson has been invited and it is anticipated that he will speak Saturday morning, September 28. The John Day Dam is the greatest navigation and power dam in the world, with a lift of 113 feet. It also will rank as the largest power producer in the country, until the third powerhouse at Grand Coulee is completed some few years hence.

Some 35 years ago, IEWA was created to launch a full and intensive campaign for full water resource development on the Columbia, Snake and tributary rivers of the Northwest. At that time, not a single large dam existed on the Columbia and Snake Rivers. Now, there are more than a dozen. The organization has been going strong ever since.

Besides IEWA, virtually every community from Portland to Walla Walla will play a role in the dedication. Walla Walla, because it is the headquarters for the Walla Walla Army Engineer District, builders of the huge project; Portland, because the city is the headquarters for the North Pacific Army Engineer Division and because of its vital interest in slackwater navigation on the Columbia River; all communities because of the tremendous impact the construction of dams and the river development program has on the industrial and agricultural economy of the region. No community will be missed in the day-long dedication of the dam.

High school bands from such communities as Goldendale, Roosevelt, Boardman, Arlington and others will participate.

The Dalles and Hood River will join in providing entertainment at the dam site and in their communities.

The governors of the three northwest states—Daniel Evans, Washington; Tom McCall, Oregon; and Don Samuelson, Idaho; have been named honorary chairmen for the event.

Inland Empire Waterways Association has selected its committees from a wide area to serve in what promises to be one of the most important events ever held in the northwest.

The dedication will be held on the Washington side of the river.

Mrs. Joe Balfe and children, C. J., Rogene and John, and Mrs. Lynda Dunlap and two children, Lori and Dyrk, visited Monday through Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Benson and family at their home in Entiat, Wn., where he is a ranger with the U. S. Forest Service. The Bensons are former Heppner residents who moved to Washington last summer.

Maattas Announce Move to Lebanon

Mr. and Mrs. John Maatta and daughter are preparing to move to Lebanon, next week, where they will make their home. Maatta has plans to enroll at Oregon State University, where he will finish his education, majoring in agriculture, and Mrs. Maatta will teach sixth grade during the coming year in Lebanon at Green Acres Elementary school.

The couple has been very active in the Heppner Methodist church, of which they are members, and Mrs. Maatta formerly taught kindergarten classes for the Heppner Civic League. Maatta has been employed since moving here on the Kenneth Cutsforth ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. John Venard were in Sequim, Wash., Saturday to attend the funeral services for his uncle, O. J. Hendricks, who died Tuesday, August 6.

Gorman Not Judge

A story in last week's Gazette-Times was in error when it reported that Jim Gorman will be a judge at 4-H horse events at the Morrow county fair. The error came through a confusion of names, and this correction is made in the interests of accuracy.

Hiemstra Receives Master's Degree

Edward P. Hiemstra of Heppner was awarded his master of education degree at summer commencement exercises at the University of Oregon Saturday, August 10.

Hiemstra is football coach and teacher at Heppner High school.

Some 1200 degrees were conferred at the exercises with more than half of those granted being graduate degrees. A total of 570 masters degrees and 110 doctorate degrees were presented.

Patti Pettyjohn Third In Nation in Barrel Racing

Blue Mountain Community College's champion barrel racer, Patti Pettyjohn of Ione, wound up as the third ranked barrel racer in the nation, according to rankings received here from the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

National championship was won by Donna Kinkad, Eastern New Mexico University, with second place going to Barbara Baer of California State Polytechnic College.

Miss Pettyjohn, who will return to BMCC this fall for another year of rodeo competition, was the top barrel racer in the Rocky Mountain Region, NRA, this year, and was chosen all-around cowgirl at the Utah State University rodeo last spring. The NRA Rocky Mountain region includes Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Utah, with 1300 members and 88 schools participating.

She won barrel racing events at three rodeos: Montana State University, Bozeman; University of Montana, Missoula; and Utah State University, Logan. She also won the only two pole bending events staged by the NRA in this region the past year. They were at Ricks College, Rexburg, Idaho, and Idaho State University, Pocatello.

Brosnans Greet Son

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brosnan, former Heppner residents, who now make their home in Newport, proudly announce the birth of their first child, a son, named Damon Patrick. The new baby was born Saturday, August 10, in Newport and weighed 8 lb., 10 1/2 oz. Maternal grandparents include Mrs. Mildred Morris of Pendleton and Mrs. Cora Wilson, Heppner. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Brosnan, and great-grandmother is Mrs. Zeatta Brosnan, all of Heppner.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller a couple of days last week were his nephew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Miller of Independence, Iowa. The family was on their return trip home after spending time vacationing in Northern Washington and Idaho.
