

Tour is Inspiration For 6th Grade Play

Members of the sixth grade classes, taught by Mrs. Inez Erwin and Mrs. Joan Thompson at Heppner Elementary school will present a dress rehearsal Friday morning, October 25, at 10:45 a.m., of their play "People's Mistakes." The dress rehearsal will be held in the junior high gymnasium.

This is an original play written by the sixth grade students following the conservation tour at Bull Prairie.

Mike Warren will sing the song which he composed, entitled "For I'm a Wanderer."

The play will be presented Friday night at the annual Wranglers Buck Burger feed. Parents are invited to attend either this performance of the play or the dress rehearsal Friday morning.

CHOSEN OUTSTANDING football players of the week at Heppner High are Dean Kindle, Lee Huson, Rick Marquardt and John McCabe.

Heppner Coaches Honor Quartet

Heppner High coaches have started a new plan of honoring outstanding boys of each football game, and first to receive the honors are Lee Huson, Rick Marquardt, John McCabe and Dean Kindle.

Four players will get recognition weekly with their pictures displayed in the school's display case from Monday through Friday.

"It is hoped that this will create more interest among the student body and develop greater competition among the players," Coach Ed Hiemstra said. He added that next year it is hoped to honor the players who make the special weekly award the most times with a special season award.

Four categories are listed for the special mention: The game's outstanding offensive lineman, outstanding offensive back, outstanding defensive lineman and outstanding defensive back.

Huson received his award this week as offensive lineman for his blocking in the Wahtonka game; Marquardt, chosen defensive lineman of the week, was selected for executing his defensive assignments so well that Wahtonka shifted its attack elsewhere; McCabe received the back award on offense due to his running, particularly his 85-yard touchdown gallop; and Kindle received the defensive back award for stopping Wahtonka's offense on his side plus assisting on the other side. He made 10 tackles and assisted on three others. He was closely pressed for the award by John Hall who made 11 tackles and one assist. Kindle was also cited as being outstanding on offense.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grasser traveled to Grand Ronde, Friday to pick up her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peterson, and bring them to Heppner for a weekend visit. This was the first trip to this area for Mr. Peterson, who is 84 years old. The Grassers returned her parents to their home Sunday, making the return trip to Heppner the next day. Other recent visitors at the Grasser home have been her brother and sister-in-law, Joe and Dalores Peterson of Myrtle Point. He works as a timber faller in the woods in that area and was enjoying a couple of days vacation while sight seeing and hunting in Eastern Oregon.

Former Heppner resident, Pastor Kenneth Robinson and a friend, Pastor Luther Watness, both of Portland, arrived last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Matheny, where they stayed until Thursday while enjoying deer hunting in the area. Rev. Robinson is pastor of the Luther Memorial church and Rev. Watness is pastor for St. Luke's Lutheran church.

This week's games: Oct. 25, Sherman at Wahtonka, Heppner at Pilot Rock, Grant Union at Burns, Oct. 26, Enterprise at Madras.

By PAT KILKENNY

Heppner High's Mustangs travel to Pilot Rock Friday night with high hopes of achieving their first league victory. The Rockets will also be looking for their first win so the traditional foes should produce another fired-up contest.

The Greater Oregon conference has passed the midway mark, now, with the league standings shaping up into what may be the end result. In last week-end's games most predictors probably did a commendable job. The Wahtonka Eagles, victors over the Mustangs here, are now in top spot.

Madras, who had been tied with the Eagles, dropped to fourth as Grant Union dumped them 19-6. An identical score showed Enterprise's supremacy over Sherman County.

Burns pushed Pilot Rock further into the cellar by an 18-6 tally. Heppner was the only loser to make more than six points last week-end; their 20-12 loss to the Wahtonka Eagles was the highest-scoring total for both winner and loser in the league.

Wahtonka Edges Mustangs, 20-12, In Close Game

By PAT KILKENNY

Wahtonka's front line seemed to be too much for the Mustang defense as the Heppner High football team was edged, 20-12, on the Mustangs' home field Friday night.

Wahtonka, Greater Oregon conference leaders, were a little shaken by the strongest Mustang attack of the season, which instilled hope for the second part of the league season for Heppner.

Dean Kindle had one of his best games, both offensively and defensively, making numerous tackles and key runs, and John McCabe also was commended on his fine output. McCabe played good oth ways and did a superior job of blocking, leading the way often.

The Eagles received the opening kickoff but were forced to punt on fourth down. The Mustangs failed to capitalize on their first series of downs, and the Eagles were up and running on their next chance. Steve Herman, Rod Hare and Rex Meyer led their running attack.

Herman carried the ball over for the first Eagle score, and Meyer kicked the PAT. Thus, at the end of the first quarter the score was 7-0 for Wahtonka.

In the second quarter, the Eagles gained three quick first downs and scored when Herman went over from two yards out. The point try failed, and the score stood 13-0.

Wahtonka's kickoff went into the arms of flashy halfback McCabe on the Heppner 15. He jab-stepped once or twice and headed for daylight. Eighty-five yards later John touched paydirt. This was the flashiest run produced this year by a Mustang. McCabe's kick try for the PAT failed. Score: Wahtonka 13, Heppner 6.

But the Eagles came right back with another score on a 55-yard pass play from Bob Tenold, ace quarterback, to Bruce Wilkes, senior end. The point was made on Meyer's kick, and the count moved to 20-6 where it remained until halftime.

Neither side scored in the third quarter, but Heppner started the final period by taking the ball deep in its own territory and marching to paydirt. Kindle, senior halfback, led the way on the drive, taking the ball over from three yards out. McCabe's PAT kick again was a little off and this brought the tally to the final 20-12.

Heppner held the strong Eagles scoreless in the second half while coming on strong on both offense and defense.
