Court Selected For Homecoming

By LINDA STARKS

Half-time entertainment for Heppner High's Homecoming game with Grant Union this Friday night will include the crowning of the Homecoming Queen. She will then reign over Homecoming festivities, including the dance following the game at the high school cafeteria.

This year's football team, who will choose the Queen, will have a difficult job choosing one of the five honored girls. Each has been popular in various activities and has held responsible school offices.

Jody Rugg, the only junior on the court, transferred after her freshman year from St. Helen's Hall. She is a varsity cheerleader, and daughter of Mrs. Shirley Rugg.

Jill Chitty, a senior, is a second-year veteran of the court. This is Jill's second year at Heppner High, after transferring from Enterprise High. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Chitty, Jill plans to become a teacher.

Patti Healy, also a senior, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Healy, has held a number of class and student body offices. She is this year's student body treasurer, and had the honor of being chosen Miss Merry Christmas last year.

Another senior on the court is Ginny Clough, who represented the junior class on last year's court. The daughter of Coach and Mrs. Bob Clough, she is active in athletics and has held the office of class secretary in her sophomore and junior years.

Sara Miller, another outstanding senior, completes the 1968 court. In addition to serving as varsity cheerleader for the past two years, Sara has been a consistent honor student and member of the National Honor Society. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller.

All Heppner High alumni are invited as special guests to the game and to attend the dance and greet this year's queen and court.
