Entries are Urged In U. N. Pilgrimage For Youth Contest

A teenage high school student from this district will be selected by competition to take part in this year's annual United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth, sponsored by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and its sister organization, the Rebekahs. The student selected to receive this enviable award will attend United Nations headquarters for one week, as an observer, as a guest of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. Students eligible to take part in the contest are those who are at present juniors and sophomores who will not be more than 17 years of age by August 1. Each year the two organizations send over 1,000 students at a cost of $250,000.

Interested students may enroll for the contest by contacting their English or speech teacher who has full details. If a school does not have the information, Jack Sumner, area chairman, Heppner, should be contacted.

The district consists of Uma-

The district consists of Uma-tilla and Morrow counties. Each high school in the district may select one student for the final contest. Selection is primarily by essay competition, on the as-signed topic, "Past, Present and Future of the United Nations." Winning contestant's name must be sent to the area chairmust be sent to the area chair-man by February 1, and the final speech contest will be held in Pendleton on Sunday, March 9, in the IOOF hall at 2:00 p.m. From the high schools of Umatilla and Morrow coun-ties, one student will be chosen as the delegate to go on the four-week all expense paid trip in July and August
