

C. L. 'Buck' Lieuallen Dies In Pendleton After Full Career

C. L. (Buck) Lieuallen, 69, who might well have been a first citizen of Eastern Oregon if such a title were given, died in Pendleton Memorial hospital Saturday after an illness of several months.

In his youth he attended grade and high school in Heppner, and always looked upon Morrow county and Heppner as home country. Through the years, he participated annually in the Morrow county rodeo and in other community activities. He often brought one of his old horse-drawn buggies to drive in the parade and delighted children by taking them for rides.

Buck Lieuallen, until his illness, was a frequent visitor and knew all but the latest newcomers by their first names.

He had a highly colorful career that included a range of interests that would challenge the most active of men. Lieuallen was a past mayor of Pendleton for six years and served five terms in the House of Representatives in the State Legislature.

Captures Kidnapper

One of his most widely known feats came at a time when he was serving as a state policeman, when, with Tom Gurdane, then Pendleton police chief, he captured the notorious Albert Edward Hickman, kidnaper-slayer of Marion Parker of Los Angeles, at Echo in 1927. The sensational kidnap story had been carried on front pages across the nation, and the capture of Hickman brought wide acclaim to him.

Buck Lieuallen was also a cowboy and was said to be one of the few to ride "No Name," a Pendleton Round-Up bucking horse.

While serving in the Navy in 1917, he won both the heavy-weight wrestling and boxing championships on the USS Charleston.

During his high school years in Heppner, he was an outstanding athlete, and once competed in 12 events in a track meet, winning two and placing in all the others.

Plays Football

After the First World War, he played football with the Heppner town team and once threw a touchdown pass to John Kilkenny, now U. S. District Court Judge in Portland, to help defeat the lone town team.

At various times he operated an auto court, was associated with the Credit Bureau of Umatilla County, engaged in horse breeding, and worked with the state police, as well as serving in public office. He was instrumental in getting the U. S. Army Air Base for Pendleton during his term as mayor in World War II.

Very fond of children, he organized a boys' club, and more than 250 belonged to the club through the years. Each was taught to ride a horse and encouraged to develop good character.

He was a past director of the Pendleton Round-Up, a lifetime member of the Pendleton Chamber of Commerce, member of the American Legion, the Pendleton Mustangs, and of the Appaloosa Horse club. He was a member of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer in Pendleton.

Funeral services were at the church at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday with Folsom's Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements. Interment was in Olney cemetery.

Friends who wish may contribute to the Umatilla County Boys' Home, Umatilla county courthouse, in his memory.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Violet Lieuallen of Pendleton; a daughter, Mrs. Bob (Suzanne) Jepsen of Ione; a son, Dr. Frank Lieuallen of Pendleton; five sisters, Mrs. E. Harvey Miller, Portland, Mrs. Lester Gammell, Athena, Margaret Bale, Centralia, Wash., Mrs. Lester Wheelhouse, Arlington, and Mrs. Charles James, Eureka, Calif.; seven grandchildren; and nieces and nephews.

Illness Claims Carl Ulrich, 83

Private funeral services were held today (Thursday), March 6, for Carl Ulrich, 83, at Sweeney Mortuary Chapel. The Rev. Dirk Rinehart officiated at the 2:00 p.m. service, and interment followed in the Heppner Masonic cemetery.

Mr. Ulrich died Monday, March 3, at Pioneer Memorial hospital, following an extended illness.

He was born in Messer, Russia, October 29, 1883. On November 15, 1906, he was married in Russia to Mary Blahn. A retired carpenter, he had been a resident of the Heppner community for 32 years.

Survivors include his widow, Mary, of Heppner; three daughters, Mrs. Della Sather of Heppner, Mrs. Pauline Willis of Redmond, and Mrs. Lydia Cary of Seattle, Wash.; two sons, William Ulrich and Alex Ulrich, both of Heppner; six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Students Select Class Officers

Other officers are as follows: Seniors—Vernon Frederickson, vice-president; Terry Beck, secretary; Charlie Anderson, treasurer; Jim Lynch, sergeant-at-arms; and Mike Smith, student representative.

Juniors—Bob Peck, first vice-president; Sheila Healy, second vice-president; Molly Becket, secretary; Sue Jepsen, treasurer; Rick Marquardt, student representative.

Sophomores—Pamela Johnston, vice-president; Susan French, secretary; Becky Fullerton, treasurer; Kathy Sweeney, sergeant-at-arms; Julie Ayres and Ken Baker, student representatives.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Patients admitted to Pioneer Memorial hospital during the past week, and still receiving medical care, are the following: Don Slinkard, Kinzua; Charles Dennison, Heppner; Julie Ayres, Heppner; Edna Turner, Heppner; Margaret Healy, Heppner; Tommy Bryant, Kinzua; and Nate McBride, Heppner.

Those dismissed, after receiving overnight care, were Howard Cleveland, Heppner, and Mrs. Lula Cornelison, Lexington.

Heart Campaign Extended Month

"We are extending this year's campaign for the Morrow County Heart Fund through March," Mrs. Jeanne Lovgren reported Tuesday in behalf of officers and county chairmen who are working on the drive.

Due to a late start in getting organized for the county drive, hampered by bad weather and illnesses, an extension of time has been allowed to give everyone in the county an opportunity to participate and contribute to the fund.

Serving as this year's county chairman is Patrick Wonsler, with Mrs. Lovgren as treasurer. Community chairman include Mrs. Wayne Ball in Ione, Mrs. Lovgren in Heppner, Mrs. John Ledbetter in Lexington, Mrs. J. M. Phillips in Boardman and Mrs. Faye Eppenbach in Irrigon.

Goal of the chairmen is to exceed last year's total of $970. Assisting Mrs. Lovgren with a

John Day's Sixth Unit Goes on Line

Generator unit Number Six began putting "power on the line" at John Day Lock and Dam, on the Columbia River, on February 19.

This brings the present generation at the project to over 900,000 kilowatts, with ten additional units capable of over 150,000 KW each scheduled to be added at approximately three-month intervals.

Future plans call for an ultimate total of 20 units at John Day feeding over 3,000,000 KW into the BPA power grid.

The units are being installed by the Walla Walla District, Army Corps of Engineers, who designed and built John Day Lock and Dam. The project, when complete, will be operated by the Portland District of the Corps.

Alan Bahn Works On Conservation

Alan Bahn of The Dalles is in Heppner working as a conservationist in the office of the Heppner Soil and Water Conservation district. Earl Jones, Bend, area conservationist, said Wednesday.

Bahn temporarily will replace Ralph Richards, conservationist for many years, who retired officially as of March 1. Richards made his final report at a meeting Tuesday night but remained to assist in the office Wednesday.

Permanent appointment to fill the office will be made later through the office of A. J. Weber, Portland, state conservationist.

Howard Pettyjohn and Bob Abrams

Howard Pettyjohn and Bob Abrams traveled to Corvallis last Friday to attend Dad's Week-end activities at Oregon State University, where their children, Steve Pettyjohn and Frances Abrams, are freshman students. The visitors enjoyed attending a Rugby game and basketball games as part of the planned activities scheduled for the visiting parents. Pettyjohn stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Hill during his visit in Corvallis, and enjoyed a short airplane flight with his son, Steve, a licensed pilot.

Honored on Birthdays

BOARDMAN — Mr. and Mrs. Dewey West, Jr., were hosts for a family dinner last Saturday at their home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dewey West of Woodburn; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beeks, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wetherell and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Steinke, all of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Russell and daughter Dalene of The Dalles; Mr. and Mrs. John Huston and son Phil of Walla Walla, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stephens of Irrigon; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Donovan and children Jerry, Jack and Carol Ann; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bates. The dinner was in honor of the birthdays of West, Sr., Dalene Russell, Mrs. Russell, and Jerry Donovan. Also having birthdays, but unable to attend were Danny Russell and Lt. Larry West.
