Mrs. Frederick Martin, director of Blue Mountain District, presented an informative talk, "Organizational Study of the Federation of Garden Clubs, Inc."

The program was followed by election of the following officers: Mrs. Willard French, president; Mrs. Harold Huber, vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Palmer, secretary; and Mrs. Omar Rietmann, treasurer.

Plans were made for the annual meeting of the Blue Mountain District to be held at Willows Grange hall, Wednesday, April 23. Two incoming state officers and two current district officers are planning to attend.

Members are asked to bring fresh flowers and containers for making arrangements, which will be judged.

Plans were also made for the plant sale to be held at "The Spot", a youth center on Main Street, on Wednesday, April 30, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Besides plants, pie and coffee will be sold.

Members of her family who attended the meeting were her husband, Franklin, her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. (Marlene) Bush, Anita and Cindy Crawford.

The PTA presented Mrs. Ely with a gift in appreciation of her services in the lone school. On a table in the room were pictures of her classes from 1946, and also some mementos of earlier events that belonged to her students in the first few years of teaching.

The tea table was centered with a cake of white, bordered with yellow flowers and green leaves, inscribed with "Congratulations, Mrs. Ely, Teacher of the Year." Those serving at the table were: Beulah Sherer, Geneva Pettyjohn, Mildred Eubanks and Edith Matthews.

'A Private Disgrace' Reviewed for Club

The story of Lizzie Bordon, "A Private Disgrace," written by Victoria Lincoln, was reviewed for members of the Heppner Bookworms club by Mrs. Charles Starks at the April 8 meeting, held at the home of Mrs. James Thomson.

The story as presented by the author, takes place among the social class residents of the small mill town of Fall River, Mass., in the late 1890's. It is of a period in Miss Bordon's life when she decides to take the lives of her parents, and of the trial which follows: "A Private Disgrace" is so named because the citizens of that small community considered the crime "their" private disgrace.

Members of the club were provided with outline forms for future book reviews by the hostess, Mrs. Thomson.

Hostess for the next Bookworms club meeting will be Mrs. Ted Smith.

March Church Ceremony Unites Young Couple Here

An afternoon ceremony at the First Christian church in Heppner united Miss Theresa Munkers and Delmar Dean Naffziger in marriage on Saturday, March 15, at 2:00 p.m. The ceremony was performed before friends and relatives of the couple by the Rev. O. D. Harris of Pendleton.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Munkers of Lexington, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Naffziger of Eugene.

Tall baskets of white gladiolus provided altar decorations for the ceremony, and large yellow and white ribbon bows marked the aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white de-lustered satin, covered with lace, with large satin bow and attached lace train. An artificial floral headpiece held in place her shoulder length veil, and she carried a nosegay of white carnations and roses. For something old she carried a handkerchief which had belonged to her grandmother when she was a girl.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Christine Munkers, who wore an A-line styled gown of yellow de-lustered satin. She carried a nosegay of white carnations and yellow roses.

Candlelighters for the ceremony were Craig and Barry Munkers, brothers of the bride.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Merlyn Naffziger, of Eugene. Ushers for the ceremony were Bob Shepard and Dick Romm, friends of the groom from Eugene, and Craig and Barry Munkers.

Special vocal selections for the ceremony were provided by Mrs. Dale Holland, who was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Virginia Turner.

Mrs. Leonard Munkers, mother of the bride, attended the ceremony in a blue lace dress with bone colored accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Naffziger, chose a pink knit sheath dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Friends and relatives of the couple greeted them following the ceremony at a reception in the church social rooms. Floral decorations about the rooms were white gladiolus and yellow chrysanthemums. The serving table was attractively decorated and held the tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow rosebuds. The cake was baked and decorated for the reception by Mrs. Elmer Weitzel of Heppner.

Those who assisted with serving were Mrs. Don Helker of Ione, Mrs. Gertrude Graves of Pilot Rock, and Mrs. Archie Munkers, all aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Edna Munkers, grandmother of the bride. Serving punch were Mrs. Evelyn Naffziger of Eugene, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. John Privett of Heppner, friend of the bride.

In charge of the guest book was Mrs. David Anderson of Portland, friend of the bride.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a two-piece gold knit suit with beige accessories.

Following a wedding trip to Coos Bay, the couple resides in Heppner, where the groom is presently an instructor and coach at Heppner High school, and the bride is employed at the First National Bank.
