

Over The Tee Cup

By MARIE McQUARRIE

The number of women playing golf on Ladies' Day is increasing with ten out to enjoy the beautiful, fresh sunshiney morning last Tuesday. Karen Thompson received a golf ball for low score on hole No. 6. Beverly Gunderson, with low number of putts, also received a ball. A sack lunch was the order for the day, and a short meeting was held while eating. The girls have a unique way of putting a little more money into the coffers of their treasury. Each one pays 25c to play. Also, count is kept of the number of putts used on the 9 holes, and a penny-a-putt is paid. You would be surprised how this can add up to help purchase things needed. The men's organization could take note of our system and figure out something similar for them on Sunday morning.

With golf season getting into full swing and outside activities becoming less pressing with school nearly out, we hope more gals will pamper themselves and take the few hours on Tuesday morning to join the group. Playing golf, it has been said, is a good therapy for forgetting cares and worries (if you have any) as you walk around the course, connecting with that little white ball—no matter where it might land. Come on, gals, join us on Tuesday morning and just see how much better you feel, how much brighter the world looks, and how much you enjoy the game of golf. Starting time is 9:00 a.m.

Our first planned-play for Sunday was held last week, with Vi and Conley Lanham as hosts. Starting time was 3:00 p.m., and it was surprising how many turned out; the temperature was mighty warm at this time of the afternoon. Eight couples and four men without partners participated in the two-ball foursome. Partners were determined by pulling numbers out of a hat. Lowell Gribble and Hazel Mahoney had low gross. Libby Carpenter and LaVerne Van Marter, Sr., had the lowest number of putts. In the men's foursome, Eddie Gunderson and Judge Carmichael won low gross. Golf balls were given for prizes.

According to Phil Mahoney, chairman for intra-club play, a potluck barbecue will be held Saturday, May 17, golf starting at 5:00 p.m., the barbecue following. For those who have not attended our "really fun" barbecue, this is how it works. Each person brings his own meat, to be cooked on the open barbecue pit, and either a salad or dessert by each couple. What you bring is determined by the first letter in your last name. One Saturday the A's to M's will bring salad and the N's to Z's the dessert. At the next barbecue, this will be reversed.

A schedule for summer's Sunday play will be in the mail to all members this week. Watch for your turn to take charge for the day. The Dick Carpenters and the Ed Hiemstras will be hosts for this coming Sunday. Starting time will be 4:00 p.m.

Don't forget to call Ed Hiemstra to offer your help with the building of the porch.

Mrs. Robert Abrams and Mrs. Rod Murray drove to Corvallis May 2, where they were guests of Frances Abrams, Margaret Marks and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Maralee) Trotter for mother's week-end activities, which were held on the OSU campus May 2-4.

The visiting parents took in varied activities planned especially for their enjoyment and attended a special "Spring Thing" musical program in which fraternity and sorority groups competed in choral singing, presenting a variety of special productions. The large crowd attending the musical program nearly filled Gill Coliseum to capacity. Master of ceremonies for the event was Bruce Kelly, director of the popular New Oregon Singers group.

Other activities included a track meet, an art showing and open house on Saturday in the college dormitories and student buildings.

Mrs. Ray French and her mother, Mrs. Rose Francis, also traveled to Corvallis for the special week-end activities to visit Karen French.

Valby Members Join For Family Night

Spring family night was held at Valby Lutheran church Sunday evening, May 11, with a good attendance of church families and friends. A program in observance of Mothers Day, included musical selections by Carley Bergstrom, Sheri Carlson and Kristin Peterson, and poems by Molly Becket. Mrs. Roger Palmer was honored as the youngest mother present with the largest family.

Pastor Rudolph Mensch showed an interesting selection of colored slides of Holland, where he had visited some years ago. Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Becket and Miss Esther Bergstrom.

Sorority to Sponsor Art Showing Sunday At Lone Legion Hall

A showing of creative paintings of art students in this area will be open to the public at the American Legion Hall in Lone on Sunday afternoon, May 18. Hours will be from 12:30 until 6:00 p.m., and there is no admission charge.

Students of a familiar Eastern Oregon instructor, Dr. Margaret McDevitt of BMCC, who have been enrolled in her extension art classes, will display their work. Work of over 50 students in the Lone, Lexington, Heppner and Arlington areas will be included in the exhibit, with some paintings portraying familiar scenes or places of historical interest.

Sponsor for the day's showing will be Beta Omega Sorority of Lone. A benefit silver tea will be available for those who wish to contribute to the sorority's current fund for Crippled Children.

Local art students who do not have transportation for their work may leave pictures at Farley Motor Garage, or get in touch with Mrs. Alvin Bunch or Mrs. Paul Brown.

Riverside Senior Wins Merit Scholarship

Michael E. Fossey, Riverside High school senior, has been announced as a winner of a $1000 National Merit Scholarship by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Fossey, who will be valedictorian of the Riverside class of 1969, is one of 3,000 seniors to win Merit Scholarships, selected from among 15,000 student finalists in the 1968-69 Merit Program.

The Boardman senior is president of the Honor Society at Riverside, was winner of a National Mathematics Test bronze award, and was winner in the Rural Electric speech and essay contest.

Two types of Merit Scholarships were awarded this year. About 2,000 of the awards are four-year Merit Scholarships, providing between $400 and $6,000 each ($100 to $1500 per year), depending upon the individual student's need. Colleges sponsored about 600 of these four-year awards, selecting their winners from among finalists. Corporations and corporate foundations provide most of the four-year Merit Scholarships, however.

One thousand students were awarded National Merit $1000 scholarships, which are one-time, nonrenewable awards, each providing a $1,000 grant, payable next fall when the winners enter accredited colleges or universities.

Fossey expects to attend Oregon State University and major in mathematics.

A committee of skilled evaluators, drawn largely from the college admissions field, selected the 1,000 winners of the unrestricted National Merit $1,000 scholarships. They were awarded on a state-by-state basis, according to high school population. Fossey was one of only 30 in Oregon to win Merit Scholarships.
