Over The Tee Cup

By MARIE McQUARRIE

Last week was traveling time for quite a number of golfers of the Willow Creek Country Club members. Tuesday morning, bright and early, five women were on their way to the Echo Golf Club to join women golfers from Condon, Pendleton and McNary, Beverly Gunderson, Hazel Mahoney, Dee Gribble, Susanne Jepsen and Marie McQuarrie were the girls that braved the hot sun and Echo's nice-but long—course. Prizes were given on the basis of competition between members of each club attending. Awards for Heppner ladies were Marie McQuarrie, first low gross; Hazel Mahoney, first low net; Dee Gribble, second low gross; and Susanne Jepsen, second low net. A very nice luncheon was served and it was enjoyable seeing again old friends from other clubs.

The golf lessons are going great guns. Many are interested and are taking advantage of learning the basics of the game. We want to thank our "pro-teacher", Lowell Gribble, for the time and effort and the use of his excellent golf "know-how" in helping these people get started out right. "Gracias, Grib!"

Heppner was well represented by the men in the Round-Up City Amateur Golf tournament held at the Pendleton Country Club on June 7 and 8. Entered in the tournament from Heppner were Eddie Gunderson, Lowell Gribble, C. Carmichael, Clint McQuarrie, Harry O'Donnell, Joe Balfe, Gene Pierce and Don Turner. Coming home with a big gift certificate was Don Turner for winning the putting contest held Friday evening. Congrats, Don! This is the second time in three years that a Heppnerite has come home with this prize apple, Maurie Groves having won it two years ago. A good record for excellent putters from Heppner.

The visitation of the McNary Golf Club for Sunday, June 15, has been cancelled. This is Father's Day and also the Elk's picnic is being held on this date. Rather than interfere with these two celebrations, the Golf Club has contacted McNary and set a future date for our meeting here.

Don't forget the barbecue to be held Saturday, June 14, with golf beginning at 5:00 p.m. The last barbecue was lots of fun for the many that attended. If you weren't there to enjoy it, do come this Saturday night and see how much fun it can be. If you were there—come again. The food line-up is bringing your own meat. A-L will bring salad and M-Z dessert. See you at the Bar-B-Q!

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Swaggart traveled to Portland to attend the graduation of their grandson, Dennis D. Beardsley, from Benson Polytechnic School on June 3. Dennis is the son of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Lorraine) Beardsley. He has served as president of the senior class and at graduation was awarded the Junior Achievement Scholarship from Equitable Savings and Loan. He plans to continue his education at Oregon State University, majoring in aviation aeronautics.

Recent week-end house guests at the home of Mrs. Emma Drake included her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Drake, Jr., and son, Kenneth, and daughter, Marah, from Corvallis. The group also visited at the home of Mrs. Grace Drake and family later in the week-end where they enjoyed a family gathering, attended by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Drake and family from Kennewick, Wn., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warren and family, Susan Drake, who has returned home for the summer following study at nursing school in Portland, and two friends of Susan's, also students at the nursing school.

Visiting with Mrs. Marjorie Worden over the recent Memorial Day week-end holidays were her two daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. John Gerhardt of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Doss Knighten and three children, Jerry, Greg and Sue, all of Pendleton. Knighten, a well known teacher in this area, will begin counseling duties at Blue Mountain Community College in the fall.

Davidsons Have Son

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson, Jr., of Milwaukie, are announcing the birth of a second son, born May 27 in Portland. The baby has been named Christopher Roy and weighed 7 lb., 2 oz. He joins a brother, Robert Warren. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Edith Partlow of Boardman, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson of Lexington. Great-grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Davidson, is in the nursing home at Pioneer Memorial hospital in Heppner.

POEM. "My Home Town." by the late Charles J. Devin (above) tells the story of the Heppner flood of 1903. Copies of the poem are now being printed through the courtesy of Clair Cox, Realtor, Corvallis, and Morrow County Creamery with the cooperation of The Heppner Gazette-Times. They will be on large sheets together with picture of Mr. Devin and will be ready for distribution soon. Devin, who died in 1958, was a resident of Heppner years ago but became a Corvallis city police officer in 1948. He was brother to the late P. Devin, once Heppner city marshal, and an uncle to Harlan Devin, a leading merchant in Condon. Mrs. Devin, widow of the poem's author, lives in Corvallis.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Patients admitted to Pioneer Memorial hospital during the past week, and still receiving medical care, are the following: May Gilliam, transferred from Pendleton, Bertha Peterson, and Harold Erwin, all of Heppner; Matilda Jepsen, Ione, and Myrtle Ferguson, Condon. Dismissed after receiving medical care was Scott Furlong of Heppner.

Former Addict To Speak Monday

Julio Dominguez, a former drug addict for 10 years, will speak at the Heppner Elementary School multipurpose room Monday evening, June 16, at 8 p.m. under sponsorship of the Wesley Crusaders, local church youth organization.

The speaker comes from the Teen Challenge Center in New York City which was started by the Rev. David Wilkerson, author of the well-known book, The Cross and the Switchblade.

Dominguez, converted through the center, is now studying for the ministry at the Latin American Bible Institute of California.

Music will be furnished by the Singing Crusaders, the Evangelical Ambassadors Trio and the Singing C's. The public is welcome to attend. There is no admission charge but a free will offering will be taken.

Four HHS Juniors Prepare for Beaver Boys' State Program

The 33rd annual Beaver Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion, will be held on the Oregon State University campus at Corvallis next week, June 15-21.

This citizenship program for outstanding youths who have completed their junior year of high school is expected to enroll over 550 boys for the 1969 session.

Boys selected to attend for this year's program from Heppner include Bill Wolff, Bob Peck, Pat Kilkenny, and Lee Huson with Greg Sweek chosen as the alternate.

These boys qualified for selection on the basis of their activities and leadership offered in their community.

Assisting with the 1969 staff will be Robert Holmes of Monument. The students will have seven busy days to become acquainted with the rights and privileges of citizenship; participating in political activity, and selecting their own officials from city to state level. They will also have the opportunity to hear some very outstanding speakers, among whom will be Governor Tom McCall, Secretary of State Clay Myers, Multnomah County District Attorney George Van Hoomissen and Edward Leavy, Circuit Judge of the second judicial district in Eugene.

Training Class Set For County Firemen

Deputy State Fire Marshal, Stan Phillips of John Day, has announced plans to present a training class on proper burning procedures for old buildings at the Ione City Hall on Sunday, June 15, at 10:00 a.m.

All volunteer firemen in the surrounding areas are invited to attend, including those from the Irrigon and Boardman areas.

Those attending are asked to bring turn-outs and masks, as the day's instruction will include burning an old house in Ione.

Mrs. Olive Hughes attended graduation exercises at Monroe Union High school on June 5, where her granddaughter, Pam Hughes, was among the graduating class. Pam, an honor student, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hughes, former Heppner residents, and at the graduation ceremonies was awarded an OSU Dad's Merit award, an English award, and was one of the community scholarship recipients. The Hughes family was also in attendance at graduation exercises at Central High school in Monmouth, where the Pratt twins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pratt, also former Heppner residents, received their diplomas.
