

Couple Makes Home In John Day After Wedding in Lakeview

Miss Terry Diane Lincecum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan C. Lincecum of Lakeview, and Duane I. Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo W. Griffith of Klamath Falls, were united in marriage June 13, at the First Presbyterian church in Lakeview.

The candlelight double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Elwyn Tesche at 8:00 p.m.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown of silk organza, fashioned with sheer high-necked yoke and long full sheer sleeves. Venice lace threaded with pink velvet ribbon outlined the yoke, neckline and hemline of the gown; lace also appliqued the sheer yoke and sleeves. A removable full sweep train edged with lace was held at the back of the yoke with pink velvet ribbons. A headpiece of heavy Venice lace, detailed with pink velvet ribbon held the elbow-length bouffant veil. Sculptured flowers, with petals outlined in seed pearls, created by the bride, were arranged in a cascade with ferns and pink velvet ribbons.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Warren Cook Laird, sister of the bride. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. James Flake of Eugene, Mrs. Robert Warner of Albany, Mrs. John Gohnauer of Heppner and Mrs. Andrew Parker of Lakeview.

The attendants wore matching street-length sheaths of yellow sheer, flocked with white flowers with accents of pink, fashioned with sheer yoke and full sheer sleeves. Headpieces were shoulder-length veils of yellow illusion, appliqued with flocked white flowers, and held by a flat bow of matching illusion. They carried bouquets of sculptured pearlized flowers, arranged with ferns, and contrasting pink and yellow streamers.

Best man for his brother was Gary Griffith of Klamath Falls. Lighting tapers before the ceremony was Craig Griffith, son of the groom, of John Day.

Traditional organ music was played by Mrs. Betty Strawn, who also accompanied Mrs. Joyce Taylor when she sang, Johnson, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Phillip Rottum, sister of the groom, both of Klamath Falls. Pouring were two great-aunts of the bride, Mrs. Byron De Young and Mrs. Walter Lotquist, both of Portland.

Following their wedding trip along the California, Oregon and Washington coastlines and to Victoria, B. C., the couple is now at home in John Day, where Mr. Griffith is Grant County Surveyor or a partner in the survey engineering firm, Baggett & Griffith.
