Jones Entries Tops In Horse Show Event

Although a new record wasn't set in number of entries, there was a lot of spirited competition and interest in this year's Morrow County Open Horse Show, sponsored under the supervision of the Wranglers Riding club on Friday. Conformation and halter classes were judged during the morning, and working and performance classes during the afternoon.

There was a total of 236 horses judged in the various classes.

A father-daughter combination walked off with top honors this year.

Champion performance horse, Pat Brady, owned and ridden by Floyd Jones, earned first place in four events for points. Showing the reserve champion, Mr. Bar Barred, was his daughter, Marcia Jones. Each received a new horse blanket donated by Turner, Van Marter and Bryant Insurance company.

In the cow cutting event, Floyd Jones placed first on Pat Brady; Art Vance second on Little H; and tied for third were Jim Norene on Socko Bob and Marcia Jones on Mr. Bar Barred.

Jones received a head stall donated by Heppner Lumber Co., and Vance, reins donated by Bank of Eastern Oregon.

Three junior calf ropers tried valiantly to catch the calf and remove the ribbon, but none was able to place.

Patti Healy rode her horse, Jet's Babe Bar, to place first in OBRA barrel race at 18.4, and Ruby Fulleton on Rikka Tews was close behind at 18.5 for second. Third was Sandra Rodriguez on Eubanks' entry with 18.8, and tied for fourth were Becky Fulleton on Boy Doll and Patti Daly on Buzz with 18.9. Fred Mankin donated saddle bags for the first four place winners.

Art Vance was superintendent of the show, with Alice Vance and Beverly Steagall, secretaries. Julius Binder, extension agent from Madras, was judge; Howard Bryant was ring master, and Gene Pierce, announcer.

Winners, by classes, are as follows:
Fillies foaled in 1969—Unnamed filly shown by Mitch Ashbeck, first; Miss Poteek shown by Bill and Kite Healy, second.
Yearling fillies foaled in 1969—Unnamed filly shown by Mitch Ashbeck, first; Iona El Jazabab shown by Cassie Chapel, second; Jet's Honey Doll shown by Bill and Kite Healy, third.
