

Grange Families Join In Festive Halloween Party

By LORRAINE BALL

IONE — Willows Grange hall was the scene of a very successful Halloween party on Saturday evening.

Many young people and adults alike were on hand to enjoy the live music presented by Dallas McDaniel and Bob Stevens of the Rhea Creek Grange.

The dining room and the meeting room were decorated in festive Halloween motif. Youngsters and adults alike were adorned in various costumes depicting the occasion. Geneva Palmer received the prize for the best adult woman's costume; Carl Smouse, the best male adult; Junior girls prize went to Barbara Palmer, and Junior boys award was received by Jimmy Kinzer. The judges had such a difficult choice for the "younger" set, that they awarded a small prize to each girl and boy in costume.

Along with the square dancing, called by Carl Troedson, the young people enjoyed dancing to records. Pinocchie was enjoyed by some of the guests and the little kids tried their luck dunking for apples.

It was noted that the younger set fully enjoyed the live music presented and many of the guests paid compliments to the committee for the lively music furnished by Mr. McDaniel and Mr. Stevens. The gentlemen were also accompanied to the party by their families.

At the regular meeting this last week of the Ione American Legion, plans were made tentatively for a Veterans Day program on November 11. Plans are to have a guest speaker, with final details to be announced later.

Leo Crabtree had the misfortune of severely cutting the thumb of his left hand while working on the cat. Noticing the belt appeared to be slipping he attempted to tighten it while the machine was running. The blade came around, cutting through his glove. Mrs. Crabtree rushed him to the Hermiston hospital where Dr. Jones X-rayed his hand and sewed his thumb back. It will be several days before it is known if the thumb can be saved.
