Years of Work Results in Water System Dedication

By FRANCES ROSE WILSON

IRRIGON — The new water system for the City of Irrigon was officially dedicated Saturday, October 25, at 11 o'clock when a group gathered at the well site for the occasion.

Mayor Wilson gave a brief summary of events leading to final construction of the facility. Seven years of planning, encompassing two bond elections, two applications for federal funds assistance and numerous other efforts which were employed in an attempt to get the project underway.

Federal funds were eventually made available through Farmers Home Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture with grant funds of $31,800.00 and a revenue bond secured loan in the amount of $45,000.00. $6,100.00 was also contributed by individulas who applied for services at $100.00 each.

Contract for construction of the project was awarded to A. V. DeBlasio Construction of Yakima who began work in June. The well had been developed previously by Strasser Drilling Company of Portland. The system was put into operation on October 8 with home owners encouraged to make their connections as soon as possible. Mayor Wilson commended the Council and the people of the community whose cooperation and support made the project possible.

The Honorable Paul Jones, Judge of Morrow county was introduced as guest speaker. His comments concerning the area covered development of desert lands and proposed developments which will have an impact on Irrigon as a city. According to Jones, Irrigon offers one of the best residential environments in the area and has seen greater building activity than any other town in Morrow county. Figures from the assessors office indicate that a quarter of a million dollars has been invested in building in the immediate Irrigon area in the past three years, according to Jones.

Also present to offer comment was Michael Hamilton, Project Engineer representing Cornell, Howland, Hayes & Merryfield of Seattle, who had designed the project and overseen its development, and Louis Baxter, County Supervisor for Umatilla, Morrow and Gilliam counties with Farmers Home Administration.

Rev. John Kenney, pastor of the local Assembly of God offered a dedicatory prayer and all were invited to sample the water flowing from a stand pipe provided for the purpose.

Dedication activities were concluded at a potluck dinner which was provided at A. C. Houghton Cafetorium under the supervision of a committee composed of Mrs. Elva Sanders, Mrs. Ruth Coy, Mrs. Verdi Isom, and Mrs. Vera Cooley. A large picture of Mayor Wilson at an old fashioned pump was mounted, with pertinent clippings from local newspapers to form a centerpiece at the serving table. The Rev. Herbert Vaughn of the Community Baptist church offered a prayer of thanks before the meal was served.

Tom Stewart represented the Riverside High school chapter of the Future Farmers of America, at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City. He joined with a group of 172 boys from Oregon that traveled by train. In Denver they found there was 14 inches of snow and the temperature was down to 0 degrees. While there they visited the Denver Mint and the Air Force Academy.

Tom spent four days at the National convention. The boys also toured Manhattan, Kansas State University, the flour mill in Abilene, Kan. Other points of interest in Abilene was the Eisenhower Center and in Old Abilene, a replica of an old time western town.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Kennedy are very thankful that their son Michael, 12 years old, is alive and recovering from injuries received in an accident on October 5. He has been in St. Anthony hospital, Pendleton since that time, and will be there for possibly 7 weeks longer. He was thrown from the pickup truck at impact. Both legs were broken as well as his right jaw. Most of his teeth were knocked out with serious injury to his gums and lips. Other members of the family have recovered from cuts and bruises. Keith, 17, has returned to school.

Mrs. Bill Parker is convalescing after an appendectomy at the Umatilla hospital.

Gerry Mulkey escaped with only broken ribs when he was caught and crushed between two trucks in the Tri-City area. He was hospitalized for observation as the broken rib was over his heart, but is recovering satisfactorily now.

Women of the community prepared and served a dinner for friends and relatives of the Howard Gollyhorn family after the funeral on Thursday. The dinner was served at the Lions Club building.

Staff Sergeant James Bentley, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bentley, recently. He has been stationed in Japan and has now returned for another year of duty before he will return to the States with his family.

While at home he went hunting with his father, and they brought home a nice buck.

The Adventist church here honored members who had birthdays in October, at a gathering at the Ray Edgerly home, on Saturday, October 18.

Harold Ranniger of Spokane and his daughter Georgia, visited his brother-in-law and sister, Pastor and Mrs. Herbert Vaughn for several days. They attended the service at the Community Baptist church on Sunday morning before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Adams and family and Mrs. Itol Rucker, attended the wedding of Mrs. Adams niece, Vickie Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rucker, to Jim White. The wedding was in Kellogg, Idaho, on Friday evening, October 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O. Taylor of Lowell, Idaho, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith from Wednesday through Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor of Nez Perce, Idaho, also joined them for one day.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hadwick of Salem, were guests at the Fred Murtishaw home from Friday to Monday.

Bruce Buchanan and Leon Wilson, who are high school members of the Morrow County Juvenile Advisory Committee, attended a meeting at the County courthouse in Heppner on Monday evening. Judge Paul Jones and a representative of the state correction division were present to discuss the county situation and areas of need to improve the social climate. High school members were encouraged to express their points of view.
